GOVERNMENT OF WEST BENGAL

LABOUR DEPARTMENT

ORDERS

No 2395-I.R /IR/10L-207/63.—25th June 1964 Whereas an industrial dispute between Messrs Bhartia Electric Steel Co Ltd, 8 Swinhoe Street, Calcutta-19, and their workmen represented by the Bhartia Iron & Steel Workers' Union, 7/2A Jamir Lane, Calcutta-19, relating to the matter specified in the Third Schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred by the employer and the workmen to arbitration by the Arbitrator named in the Arbitration Agreement published under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No 1435-I R /IR/10L-207/63, dated the 9th April 1964,

And whereas the arbitration award on the said industrial dispute given by the said Arbitrator was received by the State Government on the 22nd June 1964,

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto

ANNEXURE

Whereas an industrial dispute existed between Messrs. Bhartia Electric Steel Co Ltd, 8 Swinhoe Street, Calcutta-19, hereinafter referred to as "employers" and their workmen represented by Bhartia Iron and Steel Workers' Union, 7/2A Jamir Lane, Calcutta-19, hereafter referred to as "workmen" relating to the matter specified in the Third Schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947),

And whereas the employers and the workmen have, under sub-section (1) of section 10A of the said Act, referred the said dispute to arbitration by an Arbitration Agreement and had submitted to the State Government under sub-section (3) of the said section a copy of the said arbitration agreement;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of sub-section (3) of section 10A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, vide Order No 1435-I R /IR 10L-207/63, dated 9th April 1964, referred the said dispute to me to act as an Arbitrator in pursuance of the arbitration agreement submitted by the parties to the State Government under the aforesaid sub-section of the Industrial Disputes Act

As per order of the Government stated above I took up the dispute between Messrs Bhartia Electric Steel Co Ltd and their workmen represented by Bhartia Iron and Steel Workers' Union and give my Award as follows:

Bhartia Iron and Steel Workers' Union raised a dispute concerning incentive bonus scheme for the electric furnaces and ingot departments of Bhartia Electric Steel Co Ltd at 8 Swinhoe Street, Calcutta-19 On 9th of November 1962 the said Union and the Company came to an agreement in respect of their incentive bonus scheme. This agreement, however, was on a bipartite basis and incentive was calculated on average daily production Term 5 of the agreement stated that for every ton (metric) of liquid steel output exceeding "no bonus limit" an amount at the rate selected from the table given below on the basis of average daily production shall be credited to the incentive pool. The scheme was as follows:

Average daily production.	Rate per metric ton.
Exceeding 34 m.t. but not more than 42 m.t.	Rs. 14.30 nP.
Exceeding 42 m.t. but not more than 45 m.t.	Rs. 16.30 nP.
Exceeding 45 m.t. but not more than 47 m.t.	Rs. 17.30 nP.
Exceeding 47 m.t. but not more than 49 m.t.	Rs. 18.30 nP.
Exceeding 49 m.t.	Rs. 19.30 nP.

The agreement stated above improved production. In November 1962 the production in all the three furnaces A, B and C together average per day was 44.9 m.t. In December 1962 it was 46.1. In January 1963, however, the average production per day came down to 42.1 m.t. In February 1963 this went up to 44.5 m.t. Thereafter management sensed something wrong with the furnaces A and B and imposed certain restrictions which automatically lowered the production. The conditions imposed by the management were (i) restriction of maximum loading on A and B furnaces, (ii) production of more casting heats, (iii) production of more coupler heats and (iv) greater use of heavy scrap in such heats.

With these restrictions imposed on the furnaces, production was reduced in March 1963 to 41.4 m.t., in April 1963 to 41.1 m.t., in May 1963 to 41.63 m.t. in June 1963 to 39.9 m.t. and in July 1963 to 41.2 m.t. It can be noticed that the production before the imposition of the restrictions was on its height in December 1962, i.e., 46.1 m.t. per average day while after the introduction of the incentive in March, the production came down to 41.1 m.t. in April 1963. The fluctuation after the introduction of the restrictions was negligible while the fluctuation was somewhat noticeable during the months October 1962 to February 1963 before the introduction of the restrictions. It was due to these variations in production, the workers' pay-packet was disturbed and therefore with the restriction of production the Union raised a dispute for compensation for the loss of wages due to no fault of theirs. There were discussions on bipartite basis between the said Union and management and ultimately an agreement was reached between the Union and the Company. This agreement was dated 27th August 1963 wherein the dispute in respect of compensation for the changed circumstances both the parties agreed that in the event of any disagreement each party will choose a single arbitrator and this constitute a Board of Arbitration. Thereafter bipartite discussion failed and then each party selected their own arbitrator. Md. Elias, M.P., acted on behalf of the Union and Shri R. L. Tantia, M.P., for the management, but ultimately owing to some difference of opinion, both gave separate awards not acceptable to either party. The said agreement of the 27th August 1963 further incorporated that in the event of the said Arbitrator's not being able to arrive at a common decision they should appoint an umpire of their own choice and the decision of the umpire should be final and binding. Accordingly the matter was referred to me to act as an Arbitrator as provided under the Industrial Disputes Act.

The Union was represented by Shri Biren Mitra, Shri Sanat Chowdhury and Shri Paritosh Das Gupta and the management by Shri J. P. Chowdhury and Shri Prakash Nath.

The Union opened up their case and referred the Award of the arbitrator Md. Elias, M.P. Md. Elias, one of the arbitrators, suggested 5 m.t. per day as compensation on the basis of co-relating the maximum monthly production figure after introduction of the revised scheme in November 1962 and the average monthly production figure during the five months after introduction of restrictive production. The other arbitrator Shri R. L. Tantia, M.P., of course followed a different method and co-related the average monthly production figure of the 6 months prior to imposition of restriction and six months subsequent to this. He, however, was not quite categorical about the compensation amount but stated that the compensation should not exceed 88.20 m.t. per month in any case.

On the perusal of the Statistical information contained in the written statement of both the parties and hearing their respective viewpoints I am of the opinion that we should follow a little otherwise procedure. Management maintained that the maximum production reached in December 1962 was only the usual picture as in other years whereas the union representatives mainatined that in all fairness the December figure should be singly followed without reference to other months' figures during the period of November 1962 and February 1963. It is, therefore, clear that both the sides held the view that the condition during November 1962 and February 1963 as represented by the average figures for these months was not full proof and tried either to extend the period backward by two months as pleaded by the management or to bring to the forefront monthly average figure for December 1962 only as pleaded by the union. The management however pointed that December was the month when the company always recorded highest production not only in Furnace Department but in other departments as well but I am confined to the average production in 1962 and 1963. So it is immaterial to select any particular month but I noticed the trend was upward after the incentive scheme agreement and acted accordingly.

I found from the record that the representatives of both union and management brought in controversial arguments over technical aspects of electric furnaces. For example, on the question of slightly lower production in January 1963 the union complained that this was as a result of burning of the transformer as well as scarcity of dolomite. Management, however, denied the charges. It may be noticed that after the agreement in November 1962 there was a stiff rise of 46.1 m.t. in December 1962 and a fall in January 1963. This sudden fall was explained by the union as stated. It is difficult for a non-technical man to find out relative advantages and disadvantages in a electric furnace in its technical aspects and therefore I refrain from making any comments on the question of lower production in January 1963. Hence I concentrate myself on the facts and figures regarding monthly production supplied by the parties and explained during hearing.

I have gone through the records and heard arguments of both sides. I now record that both parties agreed that the average annual production figure for 1957 and 1959 were somewhat normal picture and as such I feel that the average of these two years which was little less than December 1962 figure should be adopted for comparison with the average figure for the period of five months subsequent to the introduction of the restrictive measures. My thinking of the whole problem was more dependent on the common sense rather than in a pure technical way. I therefore tried to find an acceptable proposition. I have considered the viewpoint of the parties so far as production figures given for 1957 and 1959. The production figure in 1957 average of which comes to 45.89 m.t. and 45.65 m.t. in 1959. Avearge of these two figures comes to 45.77 m.t. per month. I now calculate the average production figure for the months of March 1963 to July 1963 which is 41.04 m.t. Since these months are matters in the dispute I take the above average and compare this average with the average of 1957 and 1959 production. Comparing the two, it comes to 4.75 m.t. per day. Before I conclude I would like to mention that too much rigidity may not be congenial in this atmosphere particularly when most of the arguments were based on technical assumption but nevertheless this assumption may not be quite chronometrically correct but it will definitely be near about such correctness. I, therefore, taking all aspects, consider that compensation be paid to the workmen for the loss of production from March 1963 onward at the rate of 4 m.t. per day or 120 m.t. in a month of 30 days. This is my Award.

For the Company: Shri K. K. Maitra, Vice-President of the Assam, West Bengal, Orissa and Bihar Employers' Association.

AWARD

By Order No. 268-I.R./IR/8L-6/61, dated the 19th January 1961, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Sarat Textile, 9 B. T. Road, Calcutta-2, and their workmen represented by Cotton Textile Workers' Union, 7 Rani Rashmoni Road, Calcutta-13, regarding the matters specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by notification No. 808-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

Whether the dismissal of the following workmen is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

(i) Shrimati Manorama Mukherji.

(ii) Shrimati Saraswati Mullick.

The reference relates to an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Sarat Textile, 9 B. T. Road, Calcutta-2 (hereinafter be referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Cotton Textile Workers' Union, 7 Rani Rashmoni Road, Calcutta-13 (hereinafter be referred to as the Union). Previously the dispute under reference was adjudicated upon by this tribunal and an award was given on 19th April 1962. There was only one issue framed in the order of reference regarding dismissal of two women workers Shrimati Manorama Mukherji and Shrimati Saraswati Mullick. By that award the two women workers became entitled to reinstatements and also to the wages for the period of their forced unemployments. Against that award the Company moved the Hon'ble High Court at Calcutta. A Rule was issued but none represented the workmen or the Union before the Hon'ble High Court. His Lordship was pleased to remand the case with direction for a finding on the preliminary point, whether the dispute under reference is an industrial or individual one. In accordance with the directions of the Hon'ble Court the case was taken up afresh.

Both parties appeared before this Tribunal and participated in the hearing of the case. Quite a number of witnesses were examined in addition to the evidence already on the record. The case was heard on several dates. Meanwhile parties having expressed common desire to settle up the dispute amicably, all opportunities and facilities were given to them for a peaceful settlement of the dispute. I am happy to note that parties have been successful in settling up the dispute amicably. They filed a joint petition of compromise on 16th May 1964 incorporating therein the terms of settlement. In terms thereof Shrimati Saraswati Mullick has been paid a lump sum of Rs. 390 and Shrimati Monorama Mukherji a sum of Rs. 290 in addition to their earned wages, provident fund, etc. In consideration of the payments received by the two women workers question of their reinstatements has been abandoned. The joint petition of compromise has been signed on behalf of the Company by the Manager Shri P. C. Das Gupta and also by the learned Advocate Shri K. K. Maitra and on behalf of the Union by the General Secretary Shri Kshitish Chandra Sinha. The two concerned workers also signed. Shrimati Manorama Mukherji signed her name and Shrimati Saraswati Mullick put her thumb impression. I have accepted the terms of settlement as fair, reasonable and lawful. Accordingly an award is made on compromise in terms of the joint petition of compromise filed before this Tribunal on 16th May 1964 which do form part of the compromise award as an annexure thereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between the Management of the Women's Co-operative Industrial Home Ltd., Uday Villa, Kamarhati, 24-Parganas, and their workmen represented by Women's Co-operative Industrial Home Employees' Union, Uday Villa, 64 Feeder Road, Belghoria, 24-Parganas. (Case No. VIII-181 of 1963.)

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri RENUPADA MUKHERJEE, Judge, First Industrial Tribunal.

By its Labour Department order No. 3607I.R./IR/11L-89(A)/62, dated Calcutta, the 28th August 1963, the Government of West Bengal has referred this industrial dispute to this Tribunal for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. One party to the reference is the management of the Women's Co-operative Industrial Home Ltd., Uday Villa, Kamarhatti, 24-Parganas (hereinafter to be described as the Management or Home), and the other party their workmen represented by Women's Co-operative Industrial Home Employees' Union (hereinafter to be described as the Union).

The only issue referred for my adjudication is the following:

> Whether the termination of service of Shrimati Sujata Mitra is justified? What relief, if any, is she entitled to?

After the reference was received by this Tribunal usual notices were issued to both parties and they filed their written statements.

The following are the main averments of the written statement filed on behalf of the Union.

This Home is an industrial establishment under the West Bengal Co-operative Societies Act. It does the work of handicrafts and other materials produced by female workers. For the purpose of running the establishment the Home engages several workmen and it is run under the direct control and administration of the Vice-President with two Secretaries. From the inception of this Industrial Home there has been a post called the post of a Superintendent whose duty it is to look after the work of the women workers, for betterment of the production and its quality and also to make arrangement for making production consistent with the orders received by the establishment and also to market the finished goods. This Home was running at a loss and the Vice-President Shrimati Bina Das induced Shrimati Sujata Mitra who was a graduate and qualified in special crafts to give up her employment under Community Development Project and to accept the post of the Superintendent at Uday Villa. During the period when Shrimati Mitra acted as Superintendent, the quality of production in Uday Villa improved to a great extent and Shrimati Mitra became very popular among the workers and other persons connected with this establishment. As a result of her popularity Shrimati Das went to the background and lost her importance to such an extent that she became jealous of Shrimati Mitra.

Shrimati Mitra had to work very hard for rendering her services to the establishment. In spite of her pressure of work she was compelled to entertain the friends and guests of Shrimati Das who were brought to Uday Villa. This was resented by Shrimati Mitra and Shrimat Das threatened her to resign her post which she declined to do. This made Shrimati Das furious and she managed to terminate the services of Shrimati Mitra on 14th October 1961 by a letter issued in the name of Shrimati Dipali Ghosh, a Joint Secretary of the establishment. It transpired subsequently that the post of the Superintendent which Shrimati Mitra was occupying has been abolished in a meeting alleged to have been held on 11th October 1961. No agenda for abolition of the post was put up at the meeting, and there is reason to think that the resolution regarding the abolition of the post is a false and fictitious one connected by Shrimati Das and her two Secretaries. The alleged termination of the service of Srimati Mitra was made with a mala fide motive for removing Shrimati Mitra from Udav Villa and it was done by Shrimati Das to feed fact her personal grudge against Shrimati Mitra. It should be held that the termination of Shrimati Mitra is illegal and unjustified and she should be reinstated with full compensation for the period of her unemployment.

In the written statement of the Home some preliminary objections have been taken besides the objection regarding the merits of the case. It is stated in the first place that the dispute is an individual dispute and not an industrial dispute and so the reference is not maintainable in law. In the second place it is stated that the Home does not carry on any business or undertaking with the sole object of earning profits and it is not an industry within the meaning of section 2 clause (j) of the Industrial Disputes Act and so no industrial dispute involving such an establishment can be raised in law. It is next contended that that Shrimati Sujata Mitra is not a workman within the definition of section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act inasmuch as she exercised managerial and adminstrative functions over the womenfolk under training and so she was in a position of command, direction and control.

As regards the merits of the case it is stated that Shrimati Mitra was never directed by the Vice-President to entertain her guests and friends or that she was ever jealous of Shrimati Mitra's popularity and threatened her to resign her post out of any personal or mala fide motive. It was further submitted on behalf of the Home that the termination of the services of Shrimati Mitra was not by way of retrenchment. Her post was abolished in pursuance of a resolution passed in a meeting of the Managing Committee on 11th October 1961. The resolution was passed after compliance with the rules and formalities required for a meeting. The service of Shrimati Mitra was terminated under the common law regulating the relationship of master and servant and there was no element of victimisation and so Shrimati Mitra was not entitled to any relief.

Appearance of the parties are as follows:

For Women's Co-operative Industrial Home Ltd. Shri N. K. Mukherjee, Advocate assisted by H. P. Palodhi, Advocate.

For Women's Co-operative Industrial Home Employees' Union—Shri N. M. Das Gupta, Advocate, instructed by Shri Patit Paban Pathak and Shri Nanda Srimani, Advocates.

Decision

Evidence, both oral and documentary, was adduced by both parties in this Tribunal. The subject-matter of adjudication is the legality or illegality of the termination of the service of Shrimati Sujata Mitra. It is an admitted fact that she joined this Society or Home at Uday Villa on 19th November 1959. It is not also disputed that she held the post of Superintendent. Whether she was a workman under the Home as prescribed in section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act is a question to which I shall advert in its appropriate place. Her service was terminated by a letter, dated 14th October 1961 (Ext. C). It is a very short and cryptic letter and it runs as follows:

"Notice is hereby given to Shrimati Sujata Mitra, Superintendent, that her service is terminated from 15th October 1961, her dues may be collected from the office."

Dipali Ghosh,
Joint Secretary.

The legality and propriety of this termination is the subject matter of the present reference. Before I come to that question I shall deal with and dispose of some preliminary objections raised on behalf of the Home by Shri Mukherjee who represented it.

The first preliminary objection taken by Shri Mukherjee is that under sections 86 and 87 of the Bengal Co-operative Societies Act, 1940, this Tribunal has no jurisdiction to entertain this reference and the dispute which is the occasion for the reference should be settled according to the procedure laid down in sections 86 and 87 of the above Act. Those sections run as follows:

"Section 86--

Any dispute touching the business of a co-operative society (other than a dispute regarding disciplinary action taken by a society or its managing comittee against a paid servant of the society) or of the liquidator of a society shall be referred to the Registrar if the parties thereto are among the following, namely:

(a) the society, its managing commitee, any past or present officer, agent or servant or the liquidator of the society; or

(b) a member, past member or persons claiming through a member, past member or deceased member of the society; or

(c) a surety of a member, past member or deceased member of the society, whether such surety is or is not a member of the society; or

(d) any other co-operative society or the liquidator of such society.

Section 87—

(1) On receipt of a reference under section 86 the Registrar shall, subject to the rules—

(a) decide the dispute himself; or

(b) transfer it for disposal to any person authorised by the State Government to exercise the powers of the Registrar in this behalf; or

(c) refer it for disposal to one or more arbitrators to be appointed by the Registrar.

(2) Subject to the rules, the Registrar may withdraw any reference transferred or referred under sub-section (1) and may deal with it himself in the manner provided in such rules."

I may mention here that this objection was not specifically taken in the written statement of the Home but it was allowed to be taken as it is an objection regarding a question of law.

Shri Das Gupta submitted on behalf of the Union that the present dispute is not a dispute "touching the business of a Co-operative Society", but it is an industrial dispute between a Home registered under the Act mentioned above and its employee whose service has been terminated. Such a dispute, according to the contention of Shri Das Gupta, is capable of being adjudicated upon by this Tribunal. In support of his argument Shri Das Gupta relied on a decision of Calcutta High Court reported in 1958, L.L.J., Volume II, page 61 (case of Co-operative Milk Societies Union Ltd., versus State of West Bengal and others). It has been held by Hon'ble Mr. Justice P. B. Mukharji in that case that so long as the dispute is an industrial dispute it is governed by the Industrial Disputes Act although the industrial dispute is between a Co-operative Society under the Bengal Co-operative Societies Act and its workmen and notwithstanding provisions for settlement of disputes in sections 86 and 87 of the Bengal Co-operative Societies Act. Shri Mukherjee on behalf of the Home cited two decisions of this High Court in support of his proposition that a dispute of the present nature can be settled only in accordance with the provisions of sections 86 and 87 of the Bengal Co-operative Societies Act. The first case is reported in 1963, L.L.J., Volume II, page 167 (East India Railway Employees' Co-operative Society Ltd., versus Arbitrator and District Auditor). The second case is reported in A.I.R. 1964, Calcutta, page 190 (Syamapada Banerjee versus Assistant Registrar Co-operative Society, Burdwan). I have gone through these cases and I do not see that the learned Judges who decided them dissented from the view taken by the Hon'ble Mr. Justice P. B. Mukharji in the case mentioned earlier. Whether a dispute is one touching the business of a Co-operative Society is to be determined according to the particular circumstances of each case. I am not prepared to say that an industrial dispute concerning the termination of the service of a workman is one which touches the business of a Co-operative Society. Shri Mukherjee wanted to lay down a broad proposition of law that whatever may be the form or nature of the dispute between a Co-operative Society and its workmen it must be determined according to the procedure laid down in sections 86 and 87 of the Bengal Co-operative Societies Act. I am not prepared to accept this general proposition of law and in my opinion the decision of Hon'ble Mr. Justice P. B. Mukharji mentioned above must be followed in this case.

In the above connection Shri Mukherjee also cited a case of Madras High Court reported in A.I.R. 1964, Madras, page 103 (South Arcot C.M.T. Society versus Syed Batcha). This case has no application to the facts of the present case because the Co-operative Society which is concerned in the case cited was registered under Madras Co-operative Societies Act and the facts of the case would show that the Special Bye-laws and Rules governing the Society are quite distinct from the Bye-laws governing the Home involved in the present dispute. I, therefore, negative the first preliminary objection of Shri Mukherjee that this Tribunal has no jurisdiction to entertain or to adjudicate upon the present dispute and that it should be resolved according to the procedure laid down in sections 86 and 87 of the Bengal Co-operative Societies Act.

The second contention urged on behalf of the Home was that this Home is not an "Industry" as defined in section 2(j) of the Industrial Disputes Act. The definition of "Industry" in section 2(j) is as follows:

> "'industry' means any business, trade, undertaking, manufacture or calling of employers and includes any calling, service, employment, handicraft, or industrial occupation or avocation of workmen."

Shri Mukherjee submitted that the main object for establishing the Home was to ameliorate the pecuniary condition of indigent and helpless women and also of middle-class women by establishing Works Centre for production of handloom articles and articles of other cottage industry. For achieving this objective the Home supplies raw materials to its members and sells the finished goods to the members and also in the market at the highest price. Shrimati Dipali Ghosh, Joint Secretary of this Home, has stated in her evidence that articles produced or manufactured by members of the Home are sold by it. When the articles are made over to the Society a price is fixed and the member concerned is given 25 per cent. of the price. At the end of the financial year the balance of profits which remains after meeting the expenses of running the Society is distributed amongst the members. The ultimate aim of the Home is no doubt to improve the pecuniary condition of poor and needy women. This aim is sought to be achieved by carrying on a trade in various articles of cottage industry. Besides the regular members of this Home who have got to purchase one share of Rs. 10 in the minimum there are also other workers in this Home. According to Shrimati Dipali Ghosh the members are given only 25 per cent. of the price of finished goods which they manuafcture. According to Shrimati Sujata Mitra all workers, whether members or non-members, are paid on piece rate basis. In my opinion this difference in payment is immaterial for the purpose of the present case. It is the common case of the parties that there is a Work Centre in this Home for manufacturing various articles of cottage industry. Shrimati Dipali Ghosh has stated that there are seven departments of home industries such as weaving, tailoring, printing, painting, etc. Raw materials are purchased by the Home and distributed amongst the members. The finished goods are manufactured by the members either in their own house or in the Works Centre which is located inside the premises of the Home. These finished goods are sold at profits either amongst the members or in the open market through wholesalers, retailers and commission agents. In my opinion these activities of the Home bring it within the definition of "industry" as defined in section 2(j) of the Industrial Disputes Act. This view is supported by a decision of the Supreme Court reported in 1960, 1, L.L.J., page 251 (State of Bombay versus Hospital Mazdur Sabha), in which their Lordships of the Supreme Court while laying down some tests as to whether an activity should be regarded as an undertaking have said that an activity systematically or habitually undertaken for the production or distribution of goods is an undertaking.

Shri Mukherjee contended on behalf of the Home that the main objective of this Home is to give training to refugee trainees sent by Government and so the Home should be regarded as an establishment for training women in handicrafts and cottage industry. In this connection some correspondence from Government was produced on behalf of the Home. These papers have been marked Ext. 10 series. They would show that displaced and unattached women are sent to the Home at Uday Villa for their maintenance and training for which adequate grants are also given by Government. Giving of training to displaced women is only a part of the activities of this Institution. I am not prepared to say that such activities of this Home bring it within the compass of the case reported in 1963, 2, L.L.J., page 335 (University of Delhi versus Ram Nath). It has been held in that case educational Institutions which are founded primarily for the purpose of imparting education would not fall within the ambit of the definition of "Industry" in section 2(j) of the Industrial Disputes Act. Judge by the objective for which this Home has been established and also the main activities of this Home I am not prepared to say that it is an educational institution or an institution analogous to it. Its main objective is to manufacture various indigenous articles of Home and cottage industry and to sell them at profits and to distribute the profits amongst the women. The contention of Shri Mukherjee that the Home does not carry on any industry and cannot be concerned in any industrial dispute is therefore negatived.

The next preliminary objection raised by Shri Mukherjee on behalf of the Home is that Shrimati Sujata Mitra is not a "workman" within the ambit of the definition in section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act. His contention was that Shrimati Mitra was employed mainly in a managerial or administrative capacity as laid down in clause (iii) of section 2(s) and so she should not be regarded as a workman. In this connection both parties have adduced evidence as to the nature of the duties of Shrimati Mitra. The resolution of the Managing Committee by which she was appointed does not give any indication as to the nature of her duties. The resolution was marked Ext. 2. The relevant portion runs in the following terms:

> "It was resolved that Shrimati Sujata Mitra be appointed on trial for six months for the present on a salary of Rs. 300 per month."

Shrimati Dipali Ghosh, the Joint Secretary, stated in her evidence that Shrimati Mitra's duty was to control and supervise the entire work of the Society. Shrimati Mitra stated in her evidence that she was called Superintendent and her main duties were to attend the Works Centre, to look after the work of the workmen, to supply designs of printing, Batik and embroidery and similar artistic things. She also stated in her evidence that she did everything according to the instruction of Shrimati Bina Das. On behalf of the Home some papers were produced to show that Shrimati Mitra sent orders for supplying raw materials (vide Ext. 3 series). Shrimati Mitra also granted leave to some workers and also permitted visitors of resident workers to have their names entered in the Visitors Book (vide Ext. 5 series). It further appears that Shrimati Mitra sometimes transferred workmen of one section to another section. In my opinion these facts do not make her a Manager or Administrative Officer of the Home. She was a worker and a supervisor and nothing more. Her pay was less than Rs. 500 per month and so she was a workman within the definition of section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act. The objection taken by Shri Mukherjee on this score is overruled.

The last objection taken on behalf of the Home was that this is an individual dispute and not an industrial dispute and it has not been properly raised by any legally constituted Union.

It is no doubt true that the mere fact that the dispute has been mentioned as an industrial dispute in the order of reference does not make it such. It is open to a party to raise an objection that the dispute is not an industrial dispute but only an individual dispute which is not within the jurisdiction of this Tribunal. Shri Mukherjee contended that Shrimati Sujata Mitra is concerned in this dispute in her individual character and the so-called Women Co-operative Industrial Home Employees' Union has got no legal existence. I have already observed that the service of Shrimati Mitra was terminated by a letter of Joint Secretary, dated 14th October 1961 (Ext. 6). There was no existence of the Union at that time. The Union was formed after this termination and it was registered on 14th May 1962 (vide Ext. B). This date is antecedent to the date of the reference. I may mention in this connection that before the formation of the Union as many as 100 workers submitted a petition to Deputy Labour Commissioner Shri S. N. Chatterjee on 25th November 1961 challenging the validity of the termination of Shrimati Sujata Mitra and asking for appropriate relief (vide Ext. H). It transpires from evidence that most of the signatories with the exception of nine or so are members of the Society or Home. Shri Mukherjee contended that the members in fact are the owners of the Society and they cannot be regarded as workmen and any application filed by the members cannot be regarded as an application made by workmen. According to Shri Mukherjee the dispute was never sponsored by workmen and so it never attained the character of industrial dispute.

Shri Das Gupta contended on behalf of the Union that in the definition of the word "workman" in section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act it has nowhere been stated that the members of a Co-operative Society who work under the Society and earn remuneration cannot be regarded as workman. He submitted that in relation to the Society taken as a whole individual members who earn their remuneration by working under the Society should be regarded as "workmen". I accept this contention of Shri Das Gupta. To hold otherwise would be to put too narrow a construction upon the meaning of the word workman as defined in section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act. There is no bar to a member of a Co-operative Society in becoming a paid worker of the Society as well. It would not be proper to say that such a member who hold a dual capacity would be prevented from getting the benefit of the Industrial Disputes Act in an appropriate case. That being so and this dispute having been at first sponsored by a substantial member of workmen and later by the Union became an Industrial Dispute. The mere fact that the Union is composed mostly of members of the Society does not make it an invalid Union. In a case reported in 1960, Volume 1, Indian Factories and Labour Reports, page 587 (Newspapers Limited, Allahabad versus U.P. State Industrial Tribunal), Their Lordships of the Supreme Court have held that a dispute becomes an industrial dispute if it is shown that a body of workmen either acting through their Union or otherwise have sponsored the workmen's case. In the instant case the dispute was sponsored by as many as 100 workers of the Works Centre and also subsequently by the Union. In my opinion this dispute is an industrial dispute. The last objection taken by the Home fails.

Having disposed of all the preliminary objections taken on behalf of the Home I now proceed to deal with the merits of the case. I have already observed that Shrimati Sujata Mitra was appointed by a resolution passed on 21st October 1959 at a meeting of the Board of Directors of this Home. Shrimati Mitra has stated in her evidence that she joined at Uday Villa on 19th October 1959. It may be that she had joined her post two days before the passing of the resolution. This is not uncommon in the case of private institutions. Her service was terminated with effect from 15th October 1961 by a letter, dated 14th October 1961 (vide Ext. C).

Shri Mukherjee contended on behalf of the Home that Shrimati Mitra was a temporary workman and her post was abolished and the termination of her service was effected by way of discharge simpliciter and there was no question of mala fide or victimisation. The case of the Union, on the other hand, was that the service of Shrimati Mitra was terminated by Shrimati Bina Das in a most illegal and high handed manner and for wreaking personal vengeance upon Shrimati Mitra. I shall now examine which of these conflicting versions should be accepted.

The case of the Union was that because of the popularity which Shrimati Mitra gained with the workers of this Institution Shrimati Das became jealous of her. A good number of visitors and friends of Shrimati Das used to visit this Works Centre and Shrimati Mitra had to provide for their accommodation and entertainment. Shrimati Mitra was unwilling to do these things as they did not form any part of her duty and so Shrimati Das became enraged and she removed Shrimati Mitra by getting a faked resolution passed at a meeting without bringing the question of the termination of Shrimati Mitra's service as a part of the agenda of the meeting. The allegation that Shrimati Das became jealous of Shrimati Mitra on account of her growing popularity has not been proved but it cannot be questioned in any way that there was a serious tension between Shrimati Mitra and Shrimati Das at the relevant time. In the written statement of the Home it has been stated in paargraph 7 that Shrimati Mitra was never required to entertain the guests and friends of Shrimati Das and that she was never directed by Shrimati Das to entertain them. This statement is apparently untrue. Exhibit 7 is a note which Shrimati Mitra sent to Shrimati Das on 29th September 1961. It contains the following statement:

> "I do not think that it is my duty to look after the lunch of the visitors. Of course I shall have to do it when it is ordered by you now. As I am already overworked, Hostel Matron may be asked to do this duty. But I strongly feel that it is not fair to put this burden on me at this time when I am overburdened and the order supply will suffer most."

Upon the above note of Shrimati Mitra, Shrimati Bina Das made the following comment on 29th September 1961 (vide Ext. 7a):

> "I do not think the order supply will suffer. You may ask Matron to help you."

On receipt of this comment Shrimati Mitra wrote as follows:

> "I may please be released of my present post if needed. I do not think I can continue here in this way" (vide Ext. 7b).

It would appear from the above exhibits that Shrimati Mitra took strong exception to the order of Shrimati Das requiring Shrimati Mitra to entertain the visitors. Within a few days after the above comments and notes were written, Shrimati Das addressed a letter to Shrimati Mitra which would show that the relations between these two ladies were very much strained. This letter is dated 5th October 1961 and is marked Ext. A. Towards the end the letter contains the following statement:

> "There is no need to go into details here. I have received some notes from you on 29th September 1961 regarding your inability to carry out some instructions given by me. You have intimated your desire to resign. I think that will be the best course for you to take. I have received many complaints from many of the staff regarding your behaviour. I have seen your ill-mannered letter written to Shrimati Surekha Mukherjee. Considering all circumstances I do not think it will be possible for us to work happily together any more."

On a perusal of the entire letter marked Ext. A and particularly the portion quotted above, it will be clear that Shrimati Das was extremely annoyed with Shrimati Mitra and she wanted that the latter should resign. Shrimati Mitra replied to this letter on the very next day, namely, on 6th October 1961. Towards the end of this letter she has stated as follows:

> "I do not think the question of resignation can ever arise."

In spite of this statement of Shrimati Mitra her service was terminated by a resolution passed at a meeting of the Board of Directors on 11th October 1961, i.e., within five days of Shrimati Mitra's letter. The notice for this meeting was given on 5th October 1961 (vide Ext. 8). There are five items on the agenda of the meeting. Item No. 4 is relevant for our consideration. This item is simply mentioned as "departmental." Under this item the following resolutions was passed by the Board of Directors (vide Item No. 4 of Ext. 13):

> "Resolved after discussion that the post of Superintendent which was created two years back be abolished as it would now be superfluous and it would also mean a monthly saving of Rs. 225 in view of the fact that the Joint Secretaries were taking charge of supervising the various activities of the Society. Shrimati Dipali Ghosh is directed to issue notice of termination of Superintendent's post with effect from 15th October 1961."

Shrimati Mitra had been serving this institution for nearly two years before her service was terminated. It does not appear that she was ever informed that her service was continuing on temporary basis. The relevant resolution by which her service was terminated contains a statement that the post of the Superintendent had been created two years back. There is not a scrap of paper to show that this statement is true. I have already mentioned the resolution by which Shrimati Mitra was appointed. It does not show that the post of the Superintendent was created for the first time when Shrimati Mitra was appointed. From the evidence of Shrimati Mitra I am satisfied that this post was in existence before the appointment of Shrimati Mitra. The fact that the service of Shrimati Mitra was terminated because of the abolition of the post is a mere eye wash for supporting the termination. The agenda for the meeting in question do not contain anything which would show that the question of the termination of Shrimati Mitra's services was going to be raised or discussed in the meeting. When all these facts are considered in their proper perspective, there will be no room for doubt that Shrimati Mitra was discharged because the Vice-President Shrimati Bina Das was displeased with her. In the circumstances of the case it must be held that the discharge or termination was a mala fide one and Shrimati Das wanted to remove Shrimati Mitra from her way because she was displeased with her. If Shrimati Mitra was guilty of anything like misconduct or misdemeanour she should have been properly charged for the same. It is true that when Shrimati Das insisted that Shrimati Mitra should provide entertain for her visitors Shrimati Mitra wanted to be relieved of her post in a moment of desparation. When Shrimati Das wanted to take advantage of this momentary expression of Shrimati Mitra's feelings and suggested that the latter should resign. Shrimati Mitra at once protested and said that no question of resignation arose. I have already discussed the documents showing the undercurrent of strained feelings between the two ladies. Although Shrimati Mitra had stated in Ext. D that no question of her resignation arose, Shrimati Das terminated her service within less than a week without properly or legally putting the matter on the agenda of the meeting. I can only say that this looks like a personal vendetta on the part of Shrimati Bina Das. The procedure adopted by the Home under the guidance of Shrimati Bina Das for removing Shrimati Sujata Mitra must be held to be unjust, unfair and mala fide.

The only remaining question for my consideration in this case is what relief should be given to Shrimati Mitra for the unfair and unjust termination of her service.

Shri Das Gupta contended on behalf of the Union that this is a case of invalid retrenchment because of the non-compliance of the provisions of section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act and so it should be held that Shrimati Sujata Mitra is still continuing in service and she should be given all back wages at the rate of Rs. 300 per month from the date of termination of her service and also such future compensation as this Tribunal may allow.

Shri Mukherjee submitted on behalf of the Home that this is not a case of retrenchment at all but a case of termination of service following the expression of Shrimati Mitra's desire to resign her service voluntarily. As to the case of termination of service on account of Shrimati Mitra's desire to resign her service, I have already observed that no such question arises in this case. I need not repeat the reasons for holding this because they have already been given in an earlier portion of this Award. At the same time I am unable to agree with the submission of Shri Das Gupta that this is a case of retrenchment. It is no doubt true that in the relevant resolution passed by the Board of Directors on 11th October 1961 it was mentioned that the post of the Superintendent was abolished and a notice of abolition of the Superintendent's post was directed to be given with effect from 15th October 1961 (vide Ext. 13). From the evidence of Joint Secretary Shrimati Dipali Ghosh (P.W. 1) it would appear that some of the duties of Shrimati Mitra were allotted to the two Joint Secretaries for which the honorarium of each was increased by Rs. 25 and an Administrative Officer was also engaged on a pay of Rs. 250 per month. Thus there was no saving of expenses on account of the so-called abolition of the post of the Superintendent.

In the abve connection Shri Das Gupta drew my attention to a decision of the Superme Court reported in 1960, 1, L.L.J., page 251 (State of Bombay versus Hospital Mazdoor Sabha). There it has been held that retrenchment effected without complying with the provisions of section 25F(b) of the Act would be invalid. In my opinion this decision has got no application to the facts of the present case because I am of opinion that the termination of the service of Shrimati Sujata Mitra does not amount to retrenchment as defined in section 2(oo) of the Industrial Disputes Act. Although a colour of retrenchment has been sought to be given in the resolution passed by the Board of Directors to which I have already referred, the termination in the present case was due to a personal ill-feeling between the then Vice-President Shrimati Bina Das and Shrimati Sujata Mitra. That being the case it was not necessary to comply with the mandatary provisions of section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act and the non-compliance with those provisions does not mean that Shrimati Mitra is still continuing in service. Her service was terminated in an unjust, unfair and mala fide way as has already been held by me. I am, not however, prepared to allow reinstatement in this case because that would be ruinous to this Institution.

It is not in evidence whether Shrimati Sujata Mitra has succeeded in obtaining another employment. This is a case where some substantial amount should be given to her as compensation for loss of her service. I am of opinion that the ends of justice would be met if I allow a sum of Rs. 3,000 (three thousand) to her by way of compensation which would represent wages for ten months.

In the result I make the following award. I hold that the termination of service of Shrimati Sujata Mitra was not justified. She would get a compensation of Rs. 3,000 (three thousand rupees) from the Home for loss of her service which must be paid within a month of publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Shri Ramdhari represented by Iron & Steel Workmen's Union, 7 Dayaram Naskar Lane, Ghusury, Howrah, against the employer Company Messrs. Shree Hanuman Foundries Ltd. (Rolling Mills), 15 Dr. H. K. Chatterjee Lane, Ghusury, Howrah. (Case No. 113 under section 33A of 1963.)

Present:

Shri A. P. BHATTACHARYA, Judge,
Second Industrial Tribunal.

Appearanecs:

For the workman: Shri Patit Paban Pathak.

For the Company: Shri T. M. Pal, Legal Adviser of the Company.

AWARD

This is a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Shri Ramdhari against the employer Company Messrs. Shree Hanuman Foundries Ltd. (Rolling Mills), 15 Dr. H. K. Chatterjee Lane, Ghusury, Howrah, against the order of dismissal passed by the Company against him during the pendency of a dispute before this Tribunal referred under G.O. No. 7162-I.R., dated 24th November 1961. The workman complains that he was suspended after a charge-sheet and was refused employment thereafter. The allegation is that the employer contravened the provisions of section 33 of the Act in dismissing him from service.

The Company filed a written statement denying that it had dismissed the workman in contravention of the provisions of section 33. The contention of the Company is that action was taken against the workman in terms of the standing orders for disobedience and misconduct on the part of the workman in question. A Committee of Enquiry duly enquired into the charge-sheet and recommended dismissal and by the letter, dated 4th October 1962, the workman was dismissed from service. The action of the Management is justified on mertis.

Decision

Under section 33A, the Tribunal is to adjudicate upon the complaint of a workman, provided it is proved that there had been contravention of the provisions of section 33 by the employer. If the Tribunal finds in favour of contravention, then the further point which the Tribunal will proceed to decide is whether the order passed by the employer was justified on merits.

On the point of contravention of the provision of section 33, it is admitted by the employer's witness that after the order of dismissal on 4th October 1962, the Company did not apply for approval under section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The letter of dismissal is Ext. 2. In this letter the Company stated that the workman might take one month's wages from the Company's office. There is admitted contravention in view of the fact that there was no application under section 33(2)(b) of the Act. In the present case, there is no controversy that the workman was dismissed. At least, on the side of the Company, the position is that the workman had been dismissed. It was the duty of the Company to pay wages for one month to the dismissed workman, but in the present case this has not been done. There was no tender of wages also. The mere mentioning in the dismissal letter (Ext. 2) that the workman might take one month's wages from the Company's office cannot be construed as payment of wages for one month. It is, therefore, obvious that the employer contravened the provisions of section 33—thereby giving the Tribunal jurisdiction to adjudicate upon the complaint.

Coming to the complaint on merits, the workman stated that there was no enquiry in his presence, though he was served with a charge-sheet. He, however, admits in his cross-examination that he attended the enquiry on 22nd June 1962, which is the first date fixed for enquiry. He added that he was not asked to attend the enquiry on 25th June 1962 and he disclosed the names of three witnesses. It will appear from the enquiry proceedings that on 25th June 1962, to which date the enquiry was adjourned, the workman did not attend the enquiry. The enquiry was not held on that date, and it was adjourned to 19th July 1962. On the first day of enquiry, the workman — Ramdhari alone was examined. On 19th July 1962 the Enquiry Committee sat and it was decided that a notice should be sent to the permanent address of the workman asking him to attend the enquiry on 18th August 1962. On 18th August 1962 the Enquiry Committee sat, but as the acknowledgment receipt was not received, the enquiry was adjourned to 27th September 1962. On 27th September 1962 Jagannath and Narayan were examined, and on their evidence the Enquiring Officers found that the duty of Ramdhari was to charge materials, but he refused to charge the same at the bidding of the Manager, and this was the ground for dismissal. It is urged before me that Ramdhari did not get notice of the subsequent dates of enquiry. It is true that Ramdhari attended the enquiry on 22nd June 1962, and got notice of the next date, i.e., 25th June 1962, but he did not attend the enquiry on that date. Then the Enquiry Committee adjourned the enquiry to different dates and issued notices to the workman. The notices were not, however, received by the workman and were returned with the Postal Endorsement "not found", "left", etc. The fact is that Ramdhari did not attend the enquiry on those subsequent dates. Since Ramdhari attended the enquiry on the first day, it was his bounden duty to attend the enquiry at subsequent dates or at least to enquire as to what happened to the enquiry. Since notices were issued to Ramdhari at all conceivable addresses, as will appear from the enquiry proceedings, it is obvious that the Company was anxious to give Ramdhari every opportunity to place his case. Narayan and Jagannath were examined at the enquiry as witnesses as cited by Ramdhari. They stated that the duty of Ramdhari was also to charge materials. The Manager asked him to charge materials on a particular date, but he refused to do the work. While refusing to comply with the order of the Manager, Ramdhari pleaded that charging of materials was no part of his duty. From the evidence of Narayan and Jagannath, it will appear that it was the duty of Ramdhari to charge materials and also to stroke, i.e., to pull coal to the furnace. The Office Manager Shri Bankim Sarkar gave evidence to the fact that Ramdhari refused to obey his order, and this is a misconduct which would justify the order of his dismissal. The workman, in the present case, has therefore no case on merits. In the result, the application should be dismissed, and the workman is not entitled to any relief.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Padma Limited, P-11 New Howrah Bridge Approach Road, Calcutta, and their workmen employed in Upper Fagu Tea Estate, P.O. Fagu, district Darjeeling, represented by the West Bengal Cha Sramik Union, P.O. and district Jalpaiguri. (Case No. 218 of 1963.)

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri K. P. MUKHERJI, Judge,
Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company: Shri T. Sen Gupta, Advocate.

Present for the Union: Shri D. L. Sen Gupta, Advocate.

This dispute between Messrs. Padma Limited, P-11 New Howrah Bridge Approach Road, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by the West Bengal Cha Sramik Union, P.O. and district Jalpaiguri, was referred to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 4039-I.R./IR/9L-44/63, dated the 25th September 1963, for adjudication upon the only issue which is as follows:

Is the dismissal of Shri Purnabahadur Mager, Dresser, justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

The case of the Union, shortly put, is as follows: Shri Purnabahadur Magar was a Dresser in Upper Fagu Tea Estate owned and managed by Messrs. Padma Limited. He was also the President of the West Bengal Cha Sramik Union, a registered Trade Union, unit Upper Fagu Tea Estate. The Company was not well disposed towards Purnabahadur on account of his Trade Union activities. As there was no doctor in the Upper Fagu Tea Estate, Puranbahadur was to perform some extra duties which were ordinarily the duties of the doctor. A charge-sheet was given to Puranbahadur on 2nd June 1962 for excess payment of 75 nP. as sick hazira to one Ganga Prosad Bahun. Another charge-sheet on the same allegation was given to him on 12th June 1962. He submitted explanations to both the charge-sheets in which he pleaded that the overpayment was made through inadvertence due to pressure of work. The Company, however, without giving him any opportunity of hearing, and without holding any enquiry whatsoever into the charge-sheets, dismissed him in an arbitrary, high-handed and capricious manner. The matter was taken to the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Darjeeling, and conciliation proceedings were started, but to no effect. The Union has prayed for reinstatement of the workman Puranbahadur with full back wages on the ground that he was wrongly dismissed from service. The Company has filed a written reply to the written statement filed by the Union, and the case as set forth in the written statement of the Company may shortly be stated as follows:

The workman Puranbahadur was guilty of violation of the Standing Orders of the Company which amounted to fraud inasmuch as he misappropriated some money of the Company. The fraud alleged against him was that a sum of 75 nP. was shown paid to a workman who was not entitled to receive the payment of the same. In view of this dereliction of duty he was dismissed from service by the management. It is pleaded that the management was justified in dismissing the workman for violation of the Standing Orders, and it is denied that in dismissing the workman the management was actuated by any desire of victimisation or unfair labour practice. A plea has been raised that the present dispute is an "individual dispute" and not an "industrial dispute", and as such the reference is misconceived and incompetent.

The only issue relates to the dismissal of Puranbahadur. The undisputed facts bearing on the dismissal of this workman are these: He was employed as a Dresser in the Upper Fagu Tea Estate owned by Messrs. Padma Limited. Charge-sheets were issued to him on 2nd June 1962 and 12th June 1962 respectively alleging excess payment of 75 nP. as sick hazira to a workman Ganga Prosad Bahun. He submitted explanations to the charge-sheets issued to him wherein he admitted excess payment, but pleaded that it was paid through inadvertence due to pressure of work. The explanations submitted by him were not accepted and he was dismissed from service by the management without holding any enquiry into the matter or giving him any opportunity to explain his conduct.

A preliminary objection has been raised on behalf of the Company regarding the maintainability of this reference. The contention of the learned lawyer appearing on behalf of the Company is that the present Union does not represent a majority of workmen of Upper Fagu Tea Estate and, as such, the Union is not competent to take up the alleged dispute between the workman concerned and the Company, and the present dispute not being an industrial dispute is misconceived, and incompetent. This contention does not appear to be well founded, and cannot be accepted. The evidence of P.W. 1 Shri Ghanashyam Misra, the Joint Secretary of the West Bengal Cha Sramik Union, is that about 70 per cent. of the workmen of Upper Fagu Tea Estate are members of this Union. He has, however, not produced the relevant papers in support of his oral statement. It was suggested to this witness that only 5 to 10 per cent. of the workmen of the Upper Fagu Tea Estate are members of the Union. This suggestion has been denied by P.W. 1, the Joint Secretary of the Union. The suggestion made to this Union clearly indicates that the present Union represents some workmen of the Upper Fagu Tea Estate. It is now well settled that a Union which does not represent a majority of workmen of an industrial concern can take up the cause of a workman. The present Union, even if it be accepted that it does not represent a majority of workmen of the Upper Fagu Tea Estate, can take up the cause of the workman concerned. It has been urged that no papers have been produced to show that the present Union was asked to take up the matter with the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Darjeeling. The evidence of P.W. 1 is that on receipt of the information about the dismissal of Puranbahadur he went to the garden, and a resolution was passed by the members of the Union to take up the matter of dismissal of Puranbahadur with the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Darjeeling. No copy of the resolution has been produced. But the non-production of the resolution does not necessarily prove that no such resolution was passed by the workmen, in view of the sworn testimony of P.W. 1. The Company never raised the plea at any stage during the conciliation proceedings that the Union is not competent to take up the cause of the workman concerned and, in view of this fact, the oral evidence of P.W. 1 that in pursuance of a resolution of the workmen who are members of the Union, the matter of dismissal of Purnabahadur was referred to the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Darjeeling, appears to be true. The evidence of P.W. 1, taken along with the fact that no objection was raised before the conciliation officer regarding the competency of the Union to represent the case of the workman concerned, leaves no room for doubt that the present Union is competent to take up the cause of the workman, and the present reference is not incompetent or misconceived. The preliminary objection on behalf of the Company is thus overruled.

I shall now deal with the merits of the case. It is an undisputed fact that the charge against Purnabahadur which led to his dismissal is an excess payment of 75 nP. as sick hazira to a workman who was sick. This is clearly indicated in the charge-sheet, Ext. 1, dated 2nd June 1962, which is Annexure A to the Union's written statement. A reply to the charge-sheet was given by the workman on 3rd June 1962 wherein he admitted his mistake and begged to be excused. This reply is marked Ext. 1(b) and is Annexure C to the Union's written statement. Another charge-sheet relating to this excess payment of 75 nP. to Ganga Prosad Bahun was issued to the workman on 12th June 1962 which is Annexure B to the Union's written statement, and has been marked Ext. 1(a). In this charge-sheet it is stated for the first time that this amount was drawn by Purnabahadur in the name of Ganga Prosad Bahun. In reply to this charge-sheet, dated 14th June 1962, which is Annexure D to the Union's written statement, Purnabahadur pleaded that the excess payment was due to a mistake on his part and he begged to be excused. This explanation was not found satisfactory by the management, and he was dismissed from service for dereliction of duty and misconduct under clause 13(b) of the Standing Orders. In the charge-sheet issued to the workman on 2nd June 1962 all that is stated is that the workman concerned was guilty of an act of omission. There is no charge of any fraud being practised on the Company by drawing .75 nP. in the name of Ganga Prosad Bahun. The subsequent charge-sheet, dated the 12th June 1962, clearly appears to be an after-thought to make out a case of fraud against the workman concerned. The Company has not produced the relevant papers which are in its possession to show that actually no excess payment of .75 nP. was made to Ganga Prosad Bahun, nor Ganga Prosad has been examined to prove that he did not receive the payment. It is thus difficult to hold that any fraud was practised upon the Company by the workman concerned so as to attract the provision of paragraph 13(c)(ii) of the certified Standing Orders of the Company, as stated in the charge-sheet, dated 12th June 1962. The excess payment of .75 nP. to Gangaprosad Bahun it appears was made through a bona fide mistake on the part of the workman concerned, as stated by him, and I see no reason to suspect his bona fides. The act of the workman concerned in making the excess payment is at best a neglect of work on his part, and in the absence of any mala fides on the part of the workman the explanation submitted by him appears to be quite reasonable, and should have been accepted by the Company. But instead of accepting the explanation submitted by the workman, and without giving any opportunity of being heard, he was dismissed from service on the plea that the explanation submitted by him on 14th June 1962 was not satisfactory. No enquiry was held into the charge-sheets that were issued to the workman and he was also not given any opportunity to defend himself, and there has thus been clear violation of the principles of natural justice which demand that a man should not be condemned unheard. It is provided in clause (d) of paragraph 13 of the certified Standing Orders that no workman should be dismissed for the first offence under (X) of paragraph 13 unless he has previously been suspended for a similar offence. In the instant case the act of the workman, if taken as neglect of work on his part, which amounts to a misconduct, cannot be made a ground for his dismissal from service, as this is his first offence. It also appears that the provision of section (g) of paragraph 13 of the Standing Orders has not been complied with. In view of the facts and circumstances stated above, the act of the management in dismissing Purnabahadur cannot be justified and he is entitled to the reliefs claimed.

The Company is directed to reinstate the workman Purnabahadur Mager to his former post and also to pay him arrears of wages from the date of his dismissal up to the date of his reinstatement, within one month from the date of publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Satyanarayan Oil Mill, 33 Beneras Road, Salkia, Howrah, and their workmen represented by Employees' Association, c/o Shri Panchanan Bhattacharya, 1 Joy Bhattacharya Lane, Calcutta-3. (Case No. VIII-59/63.)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

Shri A. P. BHATTACHARYA, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri P. R. Mukherjee.
For the Union: Shri P. Bhattacharya.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department Order No. 1293-I.R./IR-15L-4/63, dated 26th March 1963, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Satyanarayan Oil Mill, 33 Beneras Road, Salkia, Howrah, and their workmen represented by Employees' Association, c/o Shri Panchanan Bhattacharya, 1 Joy Bhattacharya Lane, Calcutta-3, for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The issue framed in this case for adjudication runs as follows:

Whether the dismissal of Shri Upendra Nath Majhi is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

AWARD

It is the case of the Unoin that the workman concerned in this dispute—Shri Upendra Nath Majhi—joined the Employees' Association in 1962. Certain demands of the workmen were placed before the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Howrah, at about the same time. In August 1962 Shri Majhi was served with a notice containing baseless charges. He was asked to attend the enquiry. On the date fixed for enquiry, he went to the mill but was not allowed to enter the factory. On his protest, a second date for enquiry was fixed . On the date so fixed, Shri Majhi went to attend the enquiry but he was told that the enquiry would not be held before the Pujas. Shri Majhi's residence is close to the mill. Shri Majhi pressed for early enquiry, and at this he was told to wait in his residence with promise that he would be called at the enquiry. But he was not ultimately called at the enquiry, and this was on 12th September 1962. By a letter, dated 14th September 1962, Shri Gazdar, Proprietor of the mill, dismissed Shri Majhi. The Union therefore demands that Shri Majhi should be reinstated in service and paid back wages for the period of forced unemployment.

The Company filed a written statement denying Shri Majhi's association with the Employees' Association. The Company's contention is that Shri Majhi used to leave his duty and for that he was reprimanded by the Manager. At this, Shri Majhi showed temper to the Manager and abused him. So, a charge-sheet was issued against Shri Majhi on that ground and he was found guilty of the charge. Shri Majhi did not attend the enquiry either on 1st September 1962 or on 12th September 1962. It is denied that Shri Majhi was not allowed to attend the enquiry. He was found guilty of misconduct and was dismissed accordingly.

Decision

The question is whether the dismissal of Shri Majhi is justified. With regard to the departmental enquiry alleged to have been held by the Company, the Union submits that the depratmental enquiry was not held properly, for Shri Majhi was not given opportunities to attend the enquiry. The charge against Shri Majhi was in respect of an alleged incident on 9th August 1962. The Manager—Shri Patit Paban Mukherjee—is said to have been abused by Shri Majhi. According to the Company's case, the Manager made a written complaint to the Proprietor against Shri Majhi, and Shri Majhi was also supplied with a copy of the same. The chargesheet is Ext. 3 and it is dated 10th August 1962. But from the Postal Stamp appearing on the envelope under the cover of which the chargesheet was sent to Shri Majhi, it will be seen that the chargesheet was posted on 14th August 1962 and was received by Shri Majhi on 16th August 1962. Since according to the Company the incident took place in presence of the Manager and the Proprietor, there is no reason for this delay in posting the chargesheet, though it was typed on 10th August 1962. The suggestion is that the question of issuing a chargesheet was thought of on 14th August 1962, and so the letter (Ext. 3) is a back-dated one. Shri Majhi replied to the chargesheet, but denied having received a copy of the complaint. Without the complaint, Ext. 3 must be considered to be an incomplete chargesheet. From the manner of folding of the copy of the complaint (Ext. 13), it is urged on the side of the Union that it could never have been sent by the Company along with the chargesheet marked Ext. 3. The folding of Ext. 13 would, of course, support the contention of the Union. Shri Majhi stated in his evidence that he received the complaint much later during his absence. This is borne out by the fact that immediately after the receipt of Ext. 3, Shri Majhi complained about the non-receipt of the Manager's complaint in his letter, dated 18th August 1962 (Ext. 4). The Company, however, did not furnish Shri Majhi with a copy of the complaint. Unless a copy of the complaint is supplied to the chargesheeted person, the proceeding must be held to be vitiated. With regard to enquiry, it was fixed on 1st September 1962. Shri Majhi stated in his evidence that he was not allowed to enter into the mill premises. The notice regarding enquiry on 1st September 1962 was, however, given by the Company as will appear from Ext. 5, and this was replied to by Shri Majhi on that very date (1st September 1962). Shri Majhi complained that he did not receive the chargesheet—obviously referring to the complaint of the Manager. He further added that on 1st September 1962 at 10 a.m. he went to the mill for attending the enquiry, and the Manager turned him out by saying that no enquiry would be held. On the complaint of Shri Majhi, however, another date for enquiry was fixed on 12th September 1962. But on that date also, Shri Majhi was not allowed to attend the enquiry. This is the evidence of Shri Majhi and he complained about it at the earliest opportunity. The Union adduced evidence to prove that the Company was giving false evidence by saying that Shri Majhi was given opportunities of being heard at the enquiry. The only witnesses for the Company in this respect are the Manager, Shri Patit Paban Mukherjee, who is said to have been insulted by Shri Majhi, and the Enquiring Officer, Shri Ajit Kumar Chakrabarty. On the contrary, there is overwhelming evidence on the side of the Union to prove that Shri Majhi was not given any opportunity of being heard, and that the entire chargesheet is a fabricated one. Shri Majhi lodged a diary at the local police-station complaining that he was driven out by the Manager and the Proprietor following an altercation on 9th August 1962. The G.D. Entry is dated 10th August 1962 and it is Ext. 1. P.W. 2 Shri Debendra Nath Das, who is a Police Constable at Traffic Outpost at Golabari, stated in his testimony to the effect that on 9th January 1962 at about 8 a.m. the Proprietor of the mill Shri Gazdar and the Manager caught hold of both the arms of Shri Majhi and drove him out of the mill. There is no reason why this Traffic Constable would give false evidence. P.W. 4, Shri Ram Dutta Murari is an old employee of this very mill. He gave evidence to the effect that he was present when the Proprietor and the Manager drove out Shri Majhi, pulling him by the neck. He further added that Shri Majhi asked him to give evidence for him at the enquiry. But there was no enquiry at all. On one day, the Manager told Shri Majhi that no enquiry would be held. Upon this, Shri Majhi left the factory after waiting for three hours, and there was no enquiry on that date. That Shri Majhi was not given any opportunity to attend the enquiry and that there was no enquiry at all will be borne out by other evidence and circumstances also. If Shri Majhi attended the enquiry or had opportunities of attending the same, he would not have complained about it at the earliest opportunity. The Management acted mala fide with a view to victimise him. It is clear that there was a Jispute between the Union and the Company, and an agreement was reached between them on 26th September 1962 (Ext. 2). Shri Majhi was a member of the Union and the Management had differences with him, and this led the Management to dismiss him without any enquiry. This is opposed to the principle of natural justice. Shri Ajit Chakrabarty, who is said to have held the enquiry, stated in his evidence that he prepared a report in Bengali, and it was translated into English by Shri P. R. Mukherjee, who is representing the Company before the Tribunal. That translated report is Ext. F. But curiously enough I do not find the Bengali report, which is said to be the original report of the Enquiring Officer. In the circumstances I am inclined to accept the Union's suggestion that the report Ext. F was never in existence and it was manufactured for the purpose of this case. There is considerable force in the argument advanced by the Union in this respect. It is a clear case of victimisation, and I am of opinion that the alleged incident did not take place in the manner stated by the Manager in his written complaint. The incident was of a different nature, and the Management gave a colour to it in order to victimise the workman.

It is the established principle of law that the Tribunal should interfere only in cases where there is want of good faith, victimisation or unfair labour practice or the Management is guilty of violation of the principle of natural justice. On the evidence before me, the charge appears to be completely baseless and perverse. Even if there was no proper enquiry, it was open to the Company to prove the charges before the Tribunal. The Company examined the Manager, who is said to be the aggrieved person. He does not speak about the incident in his evidence. His evidence is that he gave evidence at the enquiry. On the side of the Union, witnesses were examined to prove that the occurrence was not as alleged by the Manager, and that it was of a different nature. The Manager was not abused. On the contrary, the workman was driven out by the neck by the Manager and the Proprietor Shri Gazdar. Even before the Tribunal, the Company fails miserably to prove the charge on merits.

In the result, the order of dismissal passed by the Management against Shri Upendra Nath Majhi must be held to be unjustified. The workman is, therefore, entitled to reinstatement with full back wages for the period of forced unemployment, i.e., from 14th September 1962 till the date of his reinstatement. I accordingly direct the Company to reinstate the workman and make payment of his back wages within 30 days of the publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

This is my award.

AWARD

By Order No. 5673-I.R./IR/8L-49/60, dated the 3rd November 1960, as amended by Order No. 97-I.R./IR/8L-10/61, dated the 5th January 1963, and Order No. 952-I.R./IR/8L-49/60, dated the 24th February 1961, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Janata Textile Mills, 1 Garagacha Road, Kidderpore, Calcutta-23, and their workmen represented by Hide Road Textile Mazdoor Union, 1/1 Garden Reach Road, Calcutta-24, regarding the matters specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, by Notification No. 808-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issues

1. Wages and dearness allowance.
2. Bonus for 1959 payable in 1960.
3. Night Shift Allowance.
4. Whether the termination of service of Shri Abdul Gani is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?
5. Casual leave.

The reference was received from the Government of West Bengal in their Labour Department for adjudication of some industrial disputes existing between Messrs. Janata Textile Mills Ltd., 1 Garagacha Road, Kidderpore, Calcutta-23 (hereinafter be referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Hide Road Textile Mazdoor Union, 1/1 Garden Reach Road, Calcutta-24 (hereinafter be referred to as the Union).

The reference although was initially received about the close of the year 1960, but it has a chequered career. It was amended by issuing an addendum on 24th February 1961, and by a corrigendum on 5th January 1963. Proper notices and opportunities were given to both parties, who entered their appearances and filed their written statements and additional and supplementary written statements following the amendments of the original reference.

The Union's case in the written statement is that the Company is a powerloom factory producing cotton textile goods and has got a good market for its produce. The Company is in sound financial position but it does not concede to its workmen the minimum wages and other benefits enjoyed by workmen of similar concern. So, the workmen organised themselves to form a Union in order to press their reasonable demands regarding the basic wages, dearness allowance, casual leave, bonus, night shift allowance, etc. The aforesaid demands were placed before the management but they received no consideration from the management. So, the Labour Directorate was approached, joint conferences were called by the conciliation officer but it was of no effect in view of the Company's adament attitude. Therefore, the disputes have been referred to this tribunal for adjudication.

The Union has also specifically mentioned what should be the basic wages of different categories of workers and the dearness allowance. It has also claimed some special allowance for night shift workers and reinstatement of a workman Abdul Gani who remains out of employment since 26th December 1959.

The Union also filed two supplementary written statements after the order of reference was amended by the Government by issuing addendum and corrigendum. The Union has claimed therein six days' casual leave with wages and four days' without pay every year since 1958 or six days' wages.

The Union has further claimed for the workmen payment of two months' wages as bonus for the year 1959 payable in 1960.

The Company has stated that the Mill was started from 1st January 1959. It is a small industry where 16 looms only are working for the manufacture of cheap quality dhoties and sharies and there are only 24 permanent workmen and almost equal number of casual hands in the employ of the Company. There is no spinning section in the mill. So, textile yarns are purchased from tight market and the Company is faced with keen competition in the market. The industry is still in its infancy and has not yet reached financial stability. Therefore, any additional financial burden by way of increase of wages and dearness allowance will be prejudicial to the interest of the industry. The workmen are already being paid fair and reasonable wages in comparison with other similar and comparable industries in the region. Company has denied the allegation that no weekly holiday is granted to the workmen. They are, on the contrary, granted weekly day of rest in spite of the fact that they work for 45 hours in a week instead of 48 hours as provided in the Factories Act. It may be that there is no common day of rest for all workmen, but the day of rest is different for different set of workmen in each shift.

The Company's further case is that the workmen are not entitled to claim any bonus as there was no available surplus of profit for distribution as such. The Company has also denied the workers' claim for night shift allowance because they actually work for seven and half hours only in place of eight hours and at the same time they are paid D.A. on eight hours basis and basic wages on piece-rate basis.

As regards dismissal of the workman Abdul Gani it has stated that he was on leave on medical grounds up to 16th November 1959, when he was declared fit to resume his duties by the Panel Doctor of the Employees' State Insurance Corporation. He actually resumed his duties and worked from 17th November 1959 to 20th November 1959 and started absenting himself from duty since 22nd November 1959 without any information or application for leave or permission. So a letter was addressed to him on 21st December 1959 directing him to join or to communicate the reasons for his absence. There was no response. So, he was charge-sheeted on 9th January 1960 and following a domestic enquiry and finding him guilty of long absence without reason he was dismissed from service. All other allegations are denied.

Company in the two supplementary written statements has reiterated the fact that the industry is still in its infancy and yet to attain financial stability. Therefore, it has not the capacity to bear the extra burden of expenditure of permanent nature in the shape of wage increase, etc. The Company has denied its liability to pay six days' wages on account of casual leave or to grant any casual leave or any compensation for unavailed of casual leave. The Company has lastly prayed for rejection of the Union's claim of bonus for the year 1959 payable in 1960.

Decision

Issue No. 1

The Union representing the workmen of the Company claims revision of rates of wages and dearness allowance on the allegation that the workmen are not being paid adequately although the Company is making a very good profit and is in sound financial position.

Company has denied the allegations. Admittedly it is a powerloom factory producing cotton textile goods using 16 looms (vide Ext. D). It is not a composite mill. There is no spinning section but weaving only. Admittedly the factory was started on 1st October 1958 and according to the Manager, D.W. 1 Ramnath Sharma, it went into production from 1st January 1959. It further appears from the Manager's evidence that the workmen struck work for about a month from 1st October 1959 to 29th October 1959. This fact remains unchallenged. So, it is unfortunate that the workmen or their leader, if any, whose advice they followed, did not consider such a step almost at the initial stage of the mill undesirable and prejudicial to the interest of all concerned. It hampered production and the enterprise yielded no profit. Naturally the employer was dissatisfied having suffered a setback at the very beginning of the enterprise. Ultimately the workmen themselves would suffer because without profit of the business they cannot expect their employer to grant any additional benefit or amenities to them. The balance-sheet (Ext. E) shows that actually there was no profit. So, the workmen by such a hasty action undoubtedly did harm to themselves as well. The more they will produce, the more profit there will be and then and then only they can reasonably expect to share the profit as a fruit of their labour. The Company had very little breathing time. In the very first year of existence of the mill the workmen started agitation, raised various demands as will appear from the Union's correspondence Exts. 2(a) and 2(b). They went so far as to resort to strike during the whole of the month of October 1959 without consideration of the fact that the mill functioned at that point of time only for a few months. It must be given reasonable time and opportunity to work. However, that is a matter not very material for the purpose of adjudication of the disputes under reference but incidentally it came up before me in connection with the profit or loss of the business and there was evidence placed on the record on the point I have just discussed.

The Union to support its demand for higher rates of wages and dearness allowance has relied upon an agreement Ext. 1 arrived at on 1st March 1961 between the employers in the Cotton Textile Industry in West Bengal represented by the Bengal Mill Owners' Association on the one hand and the trade unions in the Cotton Textile Industry represented by the four central trade union organisations in West Bengal on the other. It was no doubt a tripartite agreement, and the Secretary, Labour Department, and the Labour Commissioner, Government of West Bengal, were signatories to the agreement. But admittedly the present concern which is fairly a small mill working with 16 looms only was no party to the agreement. So, the present concern will not be bound by the said agreement. There is also no evidence to show that the mills which are parties to the agreement are suitably comparable units. There is no evidence to show their standing, the strength of labour employed, extent of profit etc. Therefore, I am unable to accept the Union's contention that this document will be a guiding factor in the matter of fixation of wages and D.A. for the employees of the present concern.

In the matter of fixation of wages and D.A. certain principles have been laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Express Newspaper (Private) Ltd. [1961 (I) L.L.J. 339].

The capacity of the industry to pay is one of the essential circumstances to be taken into consideration except in cases of bare subsistence or minimum wage where the employer is bound to pay the same irrespective of such capacity. Then the capacity of the industry to pay is to be considered on an industry-cum-region basis after taking a fair cross section of the industry. In this connection there are also other things to be taken into consideration like elasticity of demand for the produce, etc.

In another case of Novex Dry Cleaners [1962(4) F.L.R. 224], the Hon'ble Supreme Court observed that in fixing a fair wage the capacity of the industry to bear the burden of the said wage is very relevant and important. Where the wage structure is being fixed with reference to those in other similar industries in the region, the standing of the industries, the strength of labour employed, extent of customers, profits and loss must be taken into account. It is necessary to assess whether the employer would be able to meet the additional liability. In the same volume of the above reference at page 312 has been reported the case of Bengal Porcelain Company Ltd. In that case it has been held by the Hon'ble High Court at Calcutta that the increase in the wages can only be made after a consideration of the financial ability of the Company to bear the increase and after the Tribunal had come to the conclusion upon the evidence before it that the Company had the capacity to bear this increase. In that case it has also been held that the same consideration will apply to the fixation of D.A.

In the light of the above principles the claim of the Union may be considered. The wages claimed by the Union in paragraph 9 of the written statement are as follows:

"(1) Unskilled workers—Rs. 34.37 nP. per month.
(2) Weavers—Rs. 50.17 nP. per month.
(3) Durwans -Rs. 44.67 nP.--2-66.67 nP.
(4) Other categories—Rs. 45 per month.
(5) Jobber—Rs. 130 per month."

The Company has placed before the Tribunal two charts Exts. F and F/1 to show the existing rates of wages and also the previous rates paid by the Company to these workmen. The existing rates are as follows:

(1) Unskilled workers—Rs. 32.50 nP.
(2) Weavers—Rs. 55.12 nP.
(3) Jobber (there is one only)—Rs. 149.50 nP.
(4) Durwan -No mention of wage rate.

Other categories—

(5) Winders—Rs. 32.50 nP.
(6) Checker (there is one only)—Rs. 45.50 nP.

The Union has not specifically mentioned who the workers are included in the "other categories". No evidence has also been adduced on this point. But it appears from the company's chart Exts. F, F/1 that the workmen of other categories in the employ of the Company are six winders and one checker. So, I consider their wages as well.

It appears from the Union's correspondence with the Labour Commissioner Ext. 2(a) that in connection with the demands of the workmen it referred to the Second Omnibus Cotton Textile Industry Award, 1958. The said award was published in the extraordinary issue of the "Calcutta Gazette", dated June 10, 1958, pages 2029 to 2134. At pages 2073 and 2074 of the award, the Tribunal fixed the lowest wage of male Cotton Mill workers in West Bengal at Rs. 60.67 nP. per month of 26 days of 208 hours. That was the total wage of the lowest paid male workers, which total wage was divided in that award into Rs. 28.17 nP. as the basic wage per month and Rs. 32.50 nP. as D.A. per month. The standardised basic wages will appear in Appendices VII and VII(a) at pages 2126 to 2128 of the Second Omnibus Cotton Textile Award. The basic wage rates fixed by the Second Omnibus Cotton Textile Award are as follows:

(1) Unskilled workmen—Rs. 28.17 nP. per month.
(2) Weavers—Rs. 44.17 nP.
(3) Jobber—8 to 10 per cent. of the basic earnings of the weavers under him.
(4) Winders—Rs. 32.17 nP.
(5) Checkers Rs. 34.17 nP. per month.

It has been contended on behalf of the Company that the Second Omnibus Cotton Textile Industry Award, 1958, will not apply to the present case in view of the fact that it is a small power loom factory and was no party to the said omnibus reference. It is quite true that this company was not party to the said omnibus reference because it did not come into existence even at the time of publication of its award. But it will appear from Appendix II at page 2116 of the said omnibus award that a number of powerloom factories were covered by that award were such wherein even less than 16 looms had been used. It is clear from the award that wages have been fixed in respect of different categories of Cotton Mill workers in West Bengal. Therefore, I see no reason why this award should not be a guiding factor for fixation of wages and other allowances. As a matter of fact, it appears that the Company has practically followed this award and the existing wage rates paid to it, workmen are somewhat better than in the Second Omnibus Cotton Textile Award, 1958. Sometimes after the Second Omnibus Textile Industry Award there was an award made by the Fourth Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal, in respect of some industrial disputes raised by the workmen of Messrs. Hindusthan Lace Manufacturing Corporation Private Ltd., Jainkunj, Hide Road, Kidderpore, Calcutta. That award was published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated August 24, 1961 (a copy is kept with the record). This award was referred to by the Union. Some similar items of disputes as in the present reference were raised in that reference and according to the Union Messrs. Hindusthan Lace Manufacturing Corporation Private Ltd. is an allied concern and the proprietor of that concern is the same as of the present concern (Messrs. Janata Textile Mills). The Company does not admit this in so many words but it appears from the evidence of the Manager Shri Sharma that the Manager of the other concern serves as the weaving master of this concern. He is Shri N. C. Majumder. These two concerns are admittedly situated side by side. The Manager Shri Sharma (D.W. 1) has no technical qualification. He admits that the technical side of the mill is entirely looked after by Shri N. C. Majumder the Weaving Master who is admittedly the Manager as well as the Weaving Master of Messrs. Hindusthan Lace Manufacturing Corporation Private Ltd. What the Manager himself admits is carefully suppressed by the other supervising staff, namely, D.W. 2 Gouri Sankar Dutt who is the Senior Supervisor of Janata Textile and by D.W. 3 Sitaram Joshi who is the Time-keeper of this mill. He went so far to say that Shri Majumder is in no way connected with their concern, i.e., Messrs. Janata Textile Mills but he is connected with Messrs. Hindusthan Lace Manufacturing Corporation Private Ltd. only. So, it seems that there may be some truth in the Union's contention. The Union has further contended that a number of small factories with smaller number of power looms are found more profitable than to have a big mill because the incidence of excise duty and other taxes are heavier in case of big mills compared to small powerloom factories. This is apparent from the Government circular regarding Central Excise Duties (Ext. 3). The Company has, of course, produced three receipts, Exts. C, C/1 and C/2, to show payment of heavy excise duties. But the amount was heavy because the factory runs three shifts. There is no manner of doubt that the incidence of taxes is heavier in case of big cotton textile mills. Naturally it is found profitable to run a number of small units using limited number of looms. However, not only there was an award in respect of industrial disputes raised by the workmen of that concern which has been referred to by the Union but the Company also has produced a chart of the wage-rates paid by the said concern to its workmen of different categories. This document is Ext. G. There is another chart Ext. G/1 on the same subject filed by the Company said to be in respect of workmen of Asoka Textile Mills. I have considered all these rates of wages and I find that the existing rates of wages paid by the present concern is not inadequate or very unfair. By the award of 1961 the wages of unskilled workmen of Messrs. Hindusthan Lace Manufacturing Corporation Private Ltd. were fixed at Rs. 28.17 nP. and that of the winders at Rs. 32.17 nP. The Tribunal refused to interfere with the earnings of the weavers in consideration of the fact that weavers were generally earning on the basis of piece-rate work Rs. 19.15 nP. in the average per month more than the unskilled workmen, i.e., Rs. 47.32 nP. Compared to the wage-rates fixed by the Second Omnibus Textile Award, 1958, and also the wage-rates fixed by the award in respect of Messrs. Hindusthan Lace Manufacturing Corporation Private Ltd., I find that the existing rates of wages of the different categories of workmen of the present concern are in no way unfair or inadequate. On the contrary, they are on the whole satisfactory though not very fair. Therefore, regard being had to the capacity of the industry to pay, and its financial position and standing, I do not propose to increase the wage-rates in respect of the workmen other than Durwans. I have already observed that neither party has adduced any evidence regarding the scale of pay of Durwans. The Union has claimed a scale of pay which remains unsupported by any evidence whatsoever. The Company also remains silent as to the pay of Durwans. In the circumstances, in absence of any evidence on this point on the record I take into consideration the scale of wages for Durwans prevailing in other industries and accordingly the scale is fixed at Rs. 35—1—55 per month. This will take effect from 1st April 1963. Any Durwan drawing monthly wages lesser than the minimum should be pulled up to Rs. 35. If any better scale of wages for Durwans is existing at present in the mill, then it will not be disturbed. The existing better scale will continue to operate.

The Union has demanded extra wage for Sunday work. No evidence has been led to support the demand. However, it is admitted that each and every worker gets weekly rest as provided in the Factories Act. It may be that there is no common off-day for all the workmen. There is evidence to show that the factory runs three shifts and there is no single off-day for all workmen of the mill. But it is not the Union's contention that some workmen are denied weekly rest. Those who work on Sundays are given off-day on any other day in a week. Therefore, there is no point in claiming extra wage for Sunday work. I reject this claim of the Union.

I now take up the demand for D.A. Union claims D.A. at the rate of Rs. 40 per month and at .18 nP. per point of rise or fall of cost of living-index over 372 points (1939 – 100 basis). In the definition of "wages" under the Industrial Disputes Act as amended in 1956, D.A. is included in wages. In the Third Major Engineering Industry Award that was published in the "Calcutta Gazette," extraordinary issue on November 5, 1958, it was observed that D.A. was a wartime measure introduced during the war just to offset the rising prices of commodities and to mitigate the sufferings of the people resulting therefrom. In that award it was further observed that D.A. depends on two factors viz.—

"(1) capacity of a particular industrial unit to pay, and

(2) it corresponds to the rise in the cost of living index".

The learned Judge who presided over the Third Omnibus Engineering Tribunal was pleased to observe that D.A. must not be granted such as to fully neutralise the rise in the cost of living-index for the following reasons:

"(1) It may as a result give fillip to the inflationary level of crisis.

(2) It may create a priviledged class in the society in the shape of industrial workers. There is no reason why they should have preferential treatment than all other people of the country to feel the pinch of rising prices. On the basis of this the percentage of neutralisation has been weighed down to 60 per cent. or at the highest 90 per cent. as in Bombay."

The Second Omnibus Cotton Textile Tribunal in West Bengal in 1958 fixed D.A. for the cotton mill workers in West Bengal at Rs. 32.50 nP. per month which is equivalent to Rs. 7.50 nP. for a week of 48 hours. In the light of this Omnibus Award of 1958 the learned Judge of the Fourth Industrial Tribunal assessed D.A. at Rs. 36.50 nP. per month of textile workers of a power loom factory—Messrs. Hindusthan Lace Manufacturing Corporation Private Ltd., Kidderpore, Calcutta. The award was published in the "Calcutta Gazette" on August 24, 1961, at pages 3071 to 3076. That was also a mill producing cotton fabrics using 24 power looms and it is situated just by the side of this mill and it is admitted there is at least one common principal staff working in both the concerns. It appears from Ext. 1 that in March 1961 the working-class cost of living index figure was 400. P.W. 1 Shri Arun Sen, the Secretary of the Union, has deposed that in 1962 average cost of living index in and around Calcutta was 422. It is, of course, common knowledge that prices of essential commodities are increasing almost beyond capacity of common man. But as I have noted above the cost of living-index figure alone will not be the guiding factor for fixing the D.A. The other very important factor is the paying capacity of the particular industrial unit. I have already found that this is a new mill of small unit using 16 looms only and in the very first year of existence it suffered loss and the workmen themselevs were partly responsible for the said loss, they having resorted to strike for a month or so. Taking all these into careful consideration I fix the D.A. at Rs. 36.50 nP. per month to take effect from April 1963, although the dispute was raised about the close of the year 1960 but it took a complete shape in January 1963 after a couple of amendments of the original reference by the Government at the instance of the Union. Arrears of D.A. be paid to the workmen within two months of the date of publication of the award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

Issue No. 2

The Union has demanded two months' wages as profit bonus. The Company has resisted the claim on the ground that there was no profit in the year ended on 31st March 1959. The Company has produced the balance-sheet Ext. E to show that the Company suffered loss to the extent of Rs. 18,803.66 nP. in that year. As there was no profit in that year question of profit bonus does not arise. However, I do not propose to go further into the merit of the case in view of the fact that the issue has not been properly framed. There is some amount of ambiguity in it. The Secretary of the Union admits in his evidence that he had no knowledge of the Company's trading year. It is clear from the balance-sheet, Ext. E, that the Company's trading year is from April to March. D.W. 1 Shri Ramnath Sharma, the Manager of the Mill, supports this fact which remains unchallenged by the Union. Therefore, it is difficult to give any adjudication effectively and precisely on this point. It is accordingly left open at the desire of the Union who did not press for any decision in view of the ambiguity.

Issue No. 3

The Union has demanded eight hours' full wages and D.A. for seven and half hours' work in the night shift. The workers receiving monthly wages and D.A. suffered no loss by way of deduction of pay or D.A. They get full amount for seven and half hours' work for the night shift. Therefore, I leave their case out of consideration.

But the workers who earn on piece rate basis surely suffer loss for not being able to work for full eight hours. They earn for their work of seven and half hours.

The Second Omnibus Cotton Textile Tribunal (1958) awarded that workers in Cotton Mills in West Bengal shall get eight hours' wages for seven and half hours' work at night. (At page 2095 of the "Calcutta Gazette", Extraordinary, dated June 10, 1958.)

In the same line was awarded by the Fourth Industrial Tribunal in the case of Messrs. Hindusthan Lace Manufacturing Corporation Private Ltd. That award was published in the "Calcutta Gazette" on 24th August 1961 at pages 3071 to 3076. That concern is very similar to the present one, and both are located side by side in the same region. Therefore, to be on the same line it is awarded that the piece-rated worker should be paid basic wages for the night shift work and this should be done by adding 1/15th portion of their work earnings with the wages earned for the night shift duties.

I may incidentally observe that a workman should not be placed on night shift work continuously but only by rotation at reasonable intervals of time, so that bad effect on his health by reasons of night work may disappear with nights of rest during those intervals of time.

Issue No. 4

The Company by letter, dated 21st January 1960, Ext. H/3 dismissed a workman Abdul Gani from services with effect from 22nd November 1959. The workman Abdul Gani (P.W. 3) has denied any knowledge of the alleged order of dismissal. Assuming for a moment that the order of dismissal was communicated to the workman concerned. By this order, dated 21st January 1960, the Company dismissed the workman from service with retrospective effect from 22nd November 1959. It is well settled that there cannot be dismissal or discharge made with retrospective effect [vide 1963 (4) F.L.R. 19]. It was also held in a case reported in 1959 (I) L.L.J. 585 that the order of dismissal with retrospective effect must be held to be an illegal order and consequently the dismissal must be held to be wrongful. Therefore, the order of dismissal with retrospective effect cannot be sustained. It is an illegal order and as such it cannot be justified.

According to the Company there was a charge-sheet issued against the workman on 9th January 1960 (vide Ext. H/1). No reply was forthcoming form the workman. So, there was an enquiry started, of which notice was sent by ordinary post under certificate of posting. Exhibit H/2 is a copy of the notice. D.W. 2 Gouri Sankar Dutt, an officer of the Company, is said to have held the enquiry in absence of the workman. His report is Ext. I. Going into the merits of the enquiry I have no hesitation to say that it was not a fair and proper enquiry. The charge-sheet, notice of enquiry or the order of dismissal, none of them was duly communicated to the workman. The Company ought to have sent them by registered post with acknowledgment due. But those were despatched by ordinary post under certificate of posting. The address appearing on the documents Exts. H series created some confusion about the correctness thereof. Names of two roads are mentioned therein. Therefore, it is difficult to believe that it was correctly addressed and it did reach the concerned workman. P.W. 3 Abdul Gani has denied knowledge of any of these letters. The Enquiry Officer admits in his evidence that he did not care to enquire why Abdul Gani absented himself from the enquiry, or whether proper intimation was given to him But attendance register Ext A/1 shows that the workman was on leave on medical grounds. The Enquiry Officer ought to have examined the attendance register and the medical certificates Exts. B, B/1 and B/2 which remained in the custody of the Company in order to be satisfied that the workman proceeded on leave on medical grounds. There was no attempt on his part to ascertain the cause of his absence specially when he left work for reasons of health. The enquiry ought to have been held in his presence. There is nothing to satisfy that the workman was duly informed of the charges levelled against him or of the date of the enquiry. Therefore, in my opinion, it was not a fair and proper enquiry. Moreover, I have already held that the order of dismissal passed against the workman with retrospective effect was an illegal order and as such it was worngful and unjustified.

Admittedly the workman having fallen ill went on leave and the Panel Doctor granted certificates Exts. B/1, B/2. There is one such certificate Ext. B to show that he was fit to resume work from 17th November 1959. The Company has produced attendance register to show that he actually joined on the 17th and worked on that day and on 19th and 20th of November 1959. He has denied to have joined on the 17th and worked up to 20th November 1959. The Company has stated in paragraph 9 of the written statement filed on 28th February 1961, that the workman resumed his duties and worked from 17th November 1959 to 20th November 1959. This is not correct and the Company's written statement is contradicted by the attendance register Ext. A/1 produced by the Company. This document shows that the workman did not attend on 18th November 1959. However, the fact remains that he having fallen ill was granted leave on medical grounds and he placed himself under the treatment of Panel Doctors as required by the Employees' State Insurance Act, and he has produced some reliable documents Exts. 5, 5(a) to show that he was for long under the treatment of a Panel Doctor as he was suffering from duodonal ulcer and also of gastritis. The two medical certificates granted by the Panel Doctor [(Exts. 5, 5(a)] clearly prove that the man was suffering seriously and remained under the proper medical treatment up to 25th December 1959 and immediately there after he having been declared fit to resume his duties presented himself at the gate of the factory in order to resume his duties but he was not allowed to do so by the Company. So, he at once wrote to the Manager enquiring why he had not been allowed to join his duties. He wrote to the Company by letter, dated 28th December 1959 (vide Ext. 6). Copies thereof were sent to the Assistant Labour Commissioner and also to the A.N.O. Office of E.S.I, 64 Ganesh Avenue. The Company has not denied this letter of the workman, nor there is any denial by the Manager that the workman produced the certificate of fitness from the Panel Doctor when he presented at the gate of the factory on 26th December 1959 for resumption of duties. Therefore, I am inclined to hold that there was justification for the workman's absence from duty on medical grounds in continuation of the medical leave granted by the Mill Manager as is apparent from the attendance register (Ext. A/1). There is, of course, no correspondence to show that the workman kept the Mill Manager informed about his continued illness and treatment by the Panel Doctor, under the Employees' State Insurance Scheme, which facts have been clearly established by the documents under the Employees' State Insurance [Exts. 5, 5(a)]. Therefore, for reasons stated above I hold the dismissal of the workman Abdul Gani with retrospective effect as illegal, wrongful and unjustified. He is accordingly entitled to reinstatement by the Company in his old job or if that is not available now in a suitable job similar to that one carrying almost equal wages and benefits. The Company is directed to reinstate him on his presenting himself at the factory within 15 days of the publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette". Regard being had to the circumstances of the case I further direct that the workman be paid three months' wages as compensation in addition to what he would be entitled to under the Employees' State Insurance Act. The period of his absence be treated as on leave for the purpose of continuation of service.

In conclusion I may observe that the Company has made an attempt to show that the workman Abdul Gani has been in service of Messrs. Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd. and to support that fact it has produced a letter Ext. H/4 from that concern which is dated 28th August 1961. This document shows that one Ab. Gani son of Samsuddin has been in the employment of that concern with effect from 5th December 1959. P.W. 3 Abdul Gani has denied his alleged employment by Messrs. Kesoram Cotton Mills. It appears that the name of the concerned workman is Abdul Gani. His father's name is Sahabuddin of Q/570, Akra Road (vide identity card Ext. 4) and Panel Doctor's certificates (Exts. B, B/1 and B/2). But the name of the workman employed by Messrs. Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd. as per letter Ext. H/4 is Ab. Gani whose father's name is Samsuddin. It is no knowing whether the name is Abul Gani or Abdul Gani. The father's name also differs. Therefore, identify has not been established. Moreover, it appears from the Panel Doctor's certificates Exts. 5 and 5(a) that the workman was under the medical treatment of the Panel Doctor even at that point of time. Therefore, the Company's plea seems unsubstantial.

The Union demands in the written statement, paragraph 2, filed on 8th April 1961, six day's wages or six days' casual leave with wages and four days' casual leave without pay every year since 1958. The Company objects to such privilege being granted to the workmen at this early stage of the factory which is still in its infancy.

Admittedly there was Second Omnibus Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal in West Bengal in 1958. The award was published in the "Calcutta Gazette", extraordinary issue, on June 10, 1958, pages 2029 to 3134. This Company was, of course, not a party in that Omnibus Cotton Textile Industry Award. As a matter of fact, it came into existence shortly after publication of this award. But I have already observed that Appendix II (at pages 2116-2117) will show that small power loom factories using less than 16 looms are also covered by the said award. Therefore, there is no reason why this award will not apply to this power loom factory using 16 looms if not more. By that award, manual and clerical workers within the meaning of Factories Act were allowed to enjoy 10 days' casual leave without pay in a year. At the same time they are allowed to get six days' wages by way of compensation for withdrawal of the benefit of five days' casual leave with pay as awarded by the First Omnibus Award in 1948. This lump payment was made payable to the workers concerned 15 days before the pujas and shall be calculated at the rate at which the worker was being paid in the month of August of the calendar year for which the payment is made. I have already observed that in 1961 similar dispute along with some others were referred to the Fourth Industrial Tribunal for adjudication. There was an award which was published in the "Calcutta Gazette", August 24, 1961. This was in respect of workmen employed by Messrs. Hindusthan Lace Manufacturing Corporation Private Ltd., Kidderpore, Calcutta, which factory is similar to the present one and both the factories are situated in the same region and the Union's allegation is that under common management. There is, however, evidence to show that at least there is a common supervisory staff who is Manager of the one and Technical Expert of the other. The workmen of that factory have been granted casual leave facilities almost in line with the Second Omnibus Cotton Textile Award. There is no reason why there should be discrimination. I accordingly grant the same benefit to the workers of this concern as well. It is accordingly directed that the workmen will get 10 days' casual leave without pay in a year. A lump payment amounting to six days' wages calculated at a rate at which the workers were paid in the month of August should be made 15 days before Saptami day before Durga Pujas in accordance with the scale laid down in paragraph 11(5) at page 2089 of the "Calcutta Gazette" (Extraordinary), dated June 10, 1958. This will take effect from April 1963.

This is my award.

Present:

Shri P. M. LAHIRI, Judge.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, by Order No. 1857-I.R./IR/8L-13(A)/64, dated 15th May 1964, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the abovementioned dispute to this Tribunal for its adjudication.

Issue

Whether Sarbashri Jhink Jaysayara, Sheeo Prosad Das, Vishnu Pada Sukul, Kapil Deo Singh, Ram Ujagir Pandey and Dutnath Dusad are eligible for permanent employment with retrospective effect?

To what relief, if any, are they entitled for their past services?

On receiving the order of reference by the Government, notices were duly served on the parties. After the service of the notice, the Secretary of the Union, Shri Jagamohan Trivedi, filed a petition to the effect that the Union would not press for the case as the Company had already fulfilled its claim.

A "no-dispute" award is passed accordingly.

Combined Index ..	100·00	101	100	100	100

The index number for Malda—West Dinajpur area came down by one point from 101 in December 1963 to 100 in January 1964 and remained steady in February and March 1964.

The fall in January 1964 was due mainly to the fall in the prices of rice and potato in spite of rise in prices of some other items in the food and fuel and lighting groups as well. In February and March 1964, there were simultaneous rise and fall of prices of some items which made the index number steady.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION, WEST BENGAL

General instructions to candidates applying in response to advertisements issued by the Commission for recruitment to posts of "Selection".

(1) Instructions regarding submission of application: Applications are to be made on the prescribed form which will be available from the office of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal, Anderson House (ground floor), Alipore, Calcutta-27, personally or on sending a large self-addressed envelope with stamps sufficient to cover the postage affixed to it. Candidates who are unable to obtain copies of the prescribed form may apply on any similar typed (not handwritten) form showing exactly the wording and spacing of the sample form published in the "Calcutta Gazette" of the 1st September 1955, provided the blanks are filled up in the candidates' own handwriting.

(2) Particulars and certificates required: Candidates should furnish evidence of their age, qualifications and previous experience together with certificates written not more than one year prior to the date of their applications, from responsible persons, testifying to their private character.

The Commission accepts only the age of a candidate as recorded in the Matriculation or the Secondary School Final/Leaving Certificate. In the case of a female candidate whose age is not recorded in the Matriculation or School Final Certificate, any of the following evidence of age is accepted by the Commission:—

1. A certificate from the Headmistress of the School, which she last attended, showing her exact age as recorded in the school register.

2. An affidavit regarding her age sworn by her father or mother or some other person in a position to know by having been present or heard of her birth at the time of occurrence.

3. A certificate regarding her age, from a Member of the Legislature or a gazetted officer, who must have known the candidate and her family, indicating clearly the evidence on the basis of which he/she satisfied himself/herself on the point.

(3) Fee: Candidates must enclose with their applications a fee of Rs. 5 in the form of a receipted chalan from a Government Treasury or the Reserve Bank of India under the head "XXI—Miscellaneous—Receipts of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal". Money orders, cheques, etc., in lieu of treasury chalans are not accepted. Postal Order, however, may be accepted from candidates. They should be crossed and made payable to "The Deputy Secretary, Public Service Commission, West Bengal". No application will be considered unless accompanied with the requisite application fee.

Candidates abroad may deposit their application fees with the High Commissioner of India or the Embassy, as the case may be, and obtain receipts for the same, which will have to be attached to their applications to be submitted to the Commission.

Candidates in Government service should make sure before depositing fee that their applications will be forwarded by their superior officers. In no case will the fee paid with the application be refunded.

Note: A member of the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe claiming age concession must furnish with his application a certificate in original from a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature belonging to the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe, specifying the particular caste or tribe to which he claims to belong.

(4) Address: Candidates should give their present address and should communicate at once any subsequent change of address.

(5) Canvassing: Any attempt on the part of candidates to enlist support of their applications through persons of influence or officials of Government will disqualify them for appointment. Spontaneous recommendation from persons interested in the candidates or otherwise known to them will be disregarded.

(6) Applications from candidates who are in permanent or temporary employment under any Government, a local or Statutory Body (e. g., Damodar Valley Corporation), in India will be rejected unless they are submitted through the appointing authority of their posts or service.

Candidates serving under Government or a local or Statutory Body should submit an advance copy in the prescribed form. The application fee should in such cases be attached to the advance copy and not to the original. The candidature of such applicants may not however be considered if the original applications do not reach the Commission's office within a fortnight from the closing date. Unless applications in original or advance copies with application fees are received within the closing date, late applications may be rejected

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

At present the area under the Calcutta Corporation comprises 80 wards and each ward forms a constituency for the purpose of electing one Councillor. The introduction of adult franchise involves a large increase in the number of voters and the constituencies as at present constituted have become somewhat unweildy. At the same time the distribution of such voters in the various existing wards is found to be grossly disproportionate. It is therefore proposed to increase the number of wards, i.e., constituencies from 80 to 100 so that the number of voters in the several constituencies may be kept within a reasonably manageable proportion and be more equitably distributed.

The Bill makes provisions for necessary and consequential amendments of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1951.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The provisions of the Bengal Excise Act, 1909, were framed about 55 years ago and these provisions with some modifications made from time to time have continued to constitute the excise law in West Bengal so far as alcoholic liquor and intoxicating drugs are concerned. Vast changes in the social, economic and political conditions of the country have taken place in the meantime.

The purpose of the Bill is to suitably modify the existing provisions of the Bengal Excise Act, 1909, in order to fight the menace of illicit distillation of liquor effectively as the existing provisions are not deterrent enough to prevent such crimes. The existing provisions regarding penalty for unlawful import, export, transport, manufacture, possession, sale, etc., of excisable articles are also considered to be inadequate in comparison with financial gains accruing from the offences committed at present. The provisions regarding penalties are, therefore, proposed to be suitably modified to check the excise crimes.

The Bill also seeks to effect other minor amendments.

No additional expenditure is envisaged for giving effect to the provisions of the amending Bill.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT

NOTIFICATION

No. 1861L. 20th July, 1964.—The Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 66 of the Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business in the West Bengal Legislative Assembly, the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information:—

THE WEST BENGAL OFFICIAL LANGUAGE (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1964.

to amend the West Bengal Official Language Act, 1961.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the West Bengal Official Language Act, 1961, for the purpose and in the manner hereinafter appearing; West Ben. Act XXIV of 1961.

It is hereby enacted in the Fifteenth Year of the Republic of India, by the Legislature of West Bengal, as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the West Bengal Official Language (Amendment) Act, 1964.

Addition of new section 4 in West Bengal Act XXIV of 1961.

2. After section 3 of the West Bengal Official Language Act, 1961, the following section shall be added, namely:—

4. Notwithstanding—

"Continuance of English language for official purposes of the State and for use in the State Legislature.

(a) the appointment of any day under section 2 or section 3 for the coming into operation of the provisions thereof, or

(b) the expiration of the period of fifteen years from the commencement of the Constitution, the English language may, as from the day so appointed or from the day on which such period expires, as the case may be, continue to be used—

(i) for all official purposes of the State of West Bengal for which it was being used immediately before that day, and

(ii) for the transaction of business in the State Legislature, in addition to any language or languages specified in section 2 or section 3.".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Clause (2) of article 210 of the Constitution of India lays down that, unless the State Legislature otherwise provides by law, English shall cease to be used for the transaction of business of the State Legislature after a period of fifteen years from the commencement of the Constitution, that is, after the 25th day of January, 1965.

Again, the West Bengal Official Language Act, 1961 provides that after certain dates to be appointed by the State Government, the language or languages to be generally used for certain official purposes of the State shall be, not English, but Bengali and, in certain areas, also Nepali.

As practical difficulties are likely to arise for the change-over from English to Hindi or such State languages within the times referred to above, it is proposed to make law enabling the continuance of the use, after such times, of English both for the purposes of transaction of business in the State Legislature as also for the official purposes of the State, in addition to Hindi and the above mentioned State languages.

The present Bill has been brought forward with this object in view.

A similar law has been made by Parliament for the continued use of English in the transaction of business in Parliament as well as for certain official purposes of the Union.

Member-in-charge.

ILLEGIBLE,
Chairman,
Kurseong Municipality.

Additional information in respect of the loan applied for :—

(a) The Commissioners have decided to increase the present percentage of water-rate by 2½ per cent. It is expected that by doing so the Municipality shall get an additional income of about Rs. 27,700·00 per year which is considered sufficient enough to meet the cost of maintenance and the repayment of loan with interest.

(b) The Commissioners have from this year enhanced the percentage on holding rate from 10 per cent. to 13 per cent. and that on Trade Tax from 50 per cent. to 75 per cent. It is expected that this will increase the revenue of the Municipality to some extent.

(c) A loan of Rs. 50,000·00 was received by the Municipality from the Government on 8-2-1951 for necessary repairs to Municipal roads, drains and Jhoras damaged by the landslides of 1950. The loan has since been made free of interest by the Government. The Municipality has so far repaid Rs. 23,429·17 nP., and the balance of Rs. 26,570·83 nP. will be repaid in four annual instalments.

(d) An ordinary surplus of Rs. 11,038·00 has been shown in col. 20 of the application form. For reasons stated in (a) and (b) above, it is expected that this surplus will increase in the coming years.

By order of the Governor,

GOVERNMENT OF WEST BENGAL

LABOUR DEPARTMENT

ORDERS

No. 2594-I.R./IR/15L-11/63.—3rd July 1964. — Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 3673-I.R./IR/15L-11/63, dated the 31st August 1963, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Swaika Vanaspati Products Ltd., 18B Brabourne Road, Calcutta-1, and their workmen represented by Swaika Mazdoor Union, 61 Chintamoni Dey Road, Howrah, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order being a matter specified in the second schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the First Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said First Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Swaika Vanaspati Products Ltd., 18B Brabourne Road, Calcutta-1, and their workmen represented by Swaika Mazdoor Union, 61 Chintamoni Dey Road, Howrah. (Case No. VIII-188/63.)

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri RENUPADA MUKHERJEE, Judge,
First Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri T. K. Jagadeesh, M.A. LL.B., Labour Adviser.

For the Union: Shri Nikhil Roy, Advocate.

This industrial dispute has been referred for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act by the Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department Order No. 3673-I.R./IR/15L-11/63, dated Calcutta, the 31st August 1963. The first party to the dispute is Messrs. Swaika Vanaspati Products Ltd. (hereinafter to be described as the Company) and the second party their workmen represented by Swaika Mazdoor Union (hereinafter to be described as the Union). The only issue referred for my adjudication is the following:

Whether refusal of employment of Shri K. S. Dikshit is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

On receipt of the reference usual notices were issued to both parties. The sum and substance of the written statement of the Union is that Shri K. S. Dikshit was a permanent workman for more than two and a half years in the service of the Company and he had a uniform good record of service. On 23rd October 1962 the management addressed a letter to Shri Dikshit alleging falsely that Shri Dikshit had expressed his desire on 22nd October 1962 to be relieved immediately and on that baseless ground informed him that he was no longer in the service of the Company with effect from 23rd October 1962. This allegation of the Company is a false one and Shri Dikshit never expressed his desire to be relieved of his service. Thereafter the workmen raised this industrial dispute through their Union before the Labour Directorate which started conciliation proceedings. Due to the unreasonable attitude of the Company the conciliation proceedings did not bear any fruit. So the Union prays for an award declaring that the refusal of employment to Shri Dikshit is unjustified and for reinstating Shri Dikshit to his former job with all back wages and allowance.

In reply to the written statement of the Union the Company stated that the workman in question resigned his service voluntarily and the management had no other alternative but to accept his offer of resignation. This is not a case of refusal of employment and the workman is not entitled to any relief. It was also contended on behalf of the Company that this dispute is not an industrial dispute and the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to make any adjudication.

Decision

Besides the question of jurisdiction which was raised by the Company the only other issue which arises for my determination is the issue contained in the order of reference. The case of the Union is that the Company has unjustifiably and arbitrarily refused to give employment to Shri K. S. Dikshit who was admittedly a permanent salesman under the Company. This case hinges upon a letter, dated 23rd October 1962. This letter was marked Ext. 3 and the body of the letter which is relevant for our consideration is quoted below:

"Dear Sir,

We refer to the talk you had with the undersigned yesterday evening (Monday, the 22nd October 1962), when you informed us that you wished to be relieved immediately. You further said that your account should also be settled.

We confirm having conveyed to you that your both requests were granted by us.

You are now instructed to visit our office any working day to settle up your account.

Please be advised that you are no longer in our services with effect from Tuesday, the 23rd October 1962.

Yours faithfully,
For Swaika Vanaspati Products Ltd.
D. N. Lalvani."

According to the case of the Company Shri Dikshit expressed his desire to be relieved of his service before Shri D. L. Lalvani, the Sales Manager, in the evening of 22nd October 1962 and this offer was accepted by the Company and on that basis the letter in question was issued to Shri Dikshit. Shri Dikshit denied the allegations of the Company that he had expressed his desire to resign his appointment. It is admitted that Shri Dikshit saw Shri Lalvani in the evening of 22nd October 1962 but Shri Dikshit stated that he did not say that he was giving up his service and he did not express any desire that his account should be settled. The evidence of Shri Lalvani is in a contrary vein. According to him Shri Dikshit had written several letters making some demands. On the evening of 22nd October 1962 he came to him and said that if his demands were not conceded to he would resign with immediate effect. Shri Lalvani further stated that he told Shri Dikshit that these demands could not be met. There was another gentleman present in the room who was in overall charge of the Administration. After consulting him Shri Lalvani accepted the offer of resignation made by Shri Dikshit. This was confirmed on the following day by the letter marked Ext. 3. In this case I have got to choose between the evidence of Shri Dikshit and of Shri Lalvani and I accept the evidence of the latter for the following reasons. Shri Dikshit admits that he had no ill feeling either with Shri Lalvani or with anybody else of the Company. If that be the case then there is no reason why the Company would suddenly terminate his service by assigning a false reason.

Shri Roy contended on behalf of the Union that this was done by the Company capriciously. It does not stand to reason that the Company would act in such a capricious and unjust manner without any reason whatsoever. On the other hand, some letters written by Shri Dikshit to the management would show that he had reason to be dissatisfied with his appointment. These two letters were marked Exts. B and C. They are in Hindi. English translations of these letters were furnished by Shri T. K. Jagadeesh. The letter marked Ext. B is dated 4th August 1962. This letter would show that for the year in question no increment of salary was given to this workman for which he was dissatisfied and he stated that he would not take his salary until the letter was replied to. The other letter is dated 7th September 1962. In his letter the workman requested the Company to furnish him with a room in Vanaspati Factory so that he might bring his ailing wife from Cawnpore for treatment. The management expressed its inability to furnish any room (vide Ext. D). It appears clear to me that this workman was dissatisfied with the Company and for that reason he expressed his intention of resigning his post. This was accepted by the Company and the workman was informed accordingly. The Company did not act mala fide and the workman having himself verbally resigned his appointment, no question of refusal of employment arises. The workman is not, therefore, entitled to any relief.

As the claim of the workman fails on the merits, it is not necessary to enter into the question whether this dispute is an industrial dispute or whether this Tribunal has jurisdiction to entertain this reference. If, however, it had been necessary for me to decide such a question, I would have decided it in favour of the Union. The workman became a member of the Union after the termination of his service and the dispute was sponsored by the Union. So the dispute became an industrial dispute and no question of jurisdiction arises.

In the result I pass the following award. The refusal of employment to Shri K. S. Dikshit is justified, because before such refusal he had voluntarily resigned his appointment. He is not entitled to get any relief.

This is my adjudication and award.

AWARD

After the receipt of the order of reference No. 3881-I.R., dated 13th September 1958, of the Government of West Bengal, Department of Labour, usual notices were served on the parties for appearances and taking necessary legal steps. The parties at first took some steps for leading the case to its final hearing. But subsequently the parties absented themselves on several dates and took no steps. So in order to dispose of the matter notices were issued on the parties asking them to appear on the date fixed for hearing and intimating them that if they failed to come ready for hearing the case would proceed ex-parte without further reference to them. But on the date so fixed with notices duly served on the parties neither party appeared before the court nor did any of the parties take any step whatsoever.

Therefore, considering the circumstances I have reasons to believe that no industrial dispute exists now between the parties. I therefore pass this no-dispute award and dispose of the case accordingly. Dictated and corrected by me.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Shri Jagabandhu Banerjee, P.O. and village Ghola, district 24-Parganas, a workman of Messrs. Bengal Potteries Limited, 45 Tangra Road, Calcutta-15, against the aforesaid Company in connection with G.O. No. 3665-I.R.|IR|11L-324|63, dated 30th August 1963. (Case No. 180 of 1963 under section 33A.)

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri RENUPADA MUKHERJEE,
Judge, First Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri C. L. Ganguly, Advocate.

For the workman: Shri Anil Das Choudhury, Advocate.

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act for alleged contravention of some of the provisions of section 33 of the Act. The application has been made by one Jagabandhu Banerjee who is a workman under the opposite party Company known as Messrs. Bengal Potteries Limited.

The sum and substance of the complaint of the petitioner is the following:

A dispute between the opposite party Company and its workmen is pending before this Tribunal for adjudication in pursuance of Labour Department Order No. 3665-I.R., dated 30th August 1963. The petitioner being a workman under the opposite party is concerned in the dispute and is also a protected workman under the Industrial Disputes Act. During the pendency of the said dispute the Company has punished the petitioner by way of victimisation by changing some of the service conditions of the petitioner. The petitioner has submitted that his working hours were from 9 a.m. to 5-30 p.m. with a recess for half an hour. These working hours were made from 8 a.m. to 4-30 p.m. by a letter, dated 17th October 1963. This was purposely done by the Company for punishing the petitioner for his bona fide Trade Union activities. The petitioner was a member of the office staff and he was transferred to factory by Order, dated 9th July 1963. All his service conditions were governed and regulated by office rules. Not only were the working hours of the petitioner illegally changed by the Company but also his holidays were curtailed unjustifiably. The petitioner has been put to serious financial loss for the change in his working hours and he prays that he may be allowed to revert to his original working hours and also he may be compensated by a sum of Rs. 76.80 nP. per month for his financial loss and the salary deducted against holidays may also be refunded to him.

The application of the workman is opposed by the Company. The Company has alleged that the application under section 33A is not maintainable inasmuch as the petitioner is not a workman concerned in the dispute and the subject matter of his application cannot be considered to be connected with the pending dispute. The Company further alleges that the petitioner was transferred from office to the Purchase Department of the factory on 19th July 1963, i.e., long before the main dispute was raised. By such transfer the petitioner became amenabel to the rules of the factory regarding the timings of his work and enjoyment of festival holidays. The Company did not do anything for punishing the petitioner for his alleged Trade Union activities and the petitioner is not entitled to get any financial relief or any other relief for the alteration in the timings of his duties.

Upon the allegations and counter-allegations made by the parties the following points arise for my decision.

(1) Is the application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act maintainable?

(2) Was the Company justified in changing the working hours of the petitioner as alleged by him?

(3) Was the Company justified in refusing to allow the petitioner to avail himself of festival holidays prescribed for the office?

(4) To what relief, if any, is the petitioner entitled?

Decision

Point No. 1

Before I enter into the question of the maintainability of the application it will be useful to state certain facts about which there is hardly any dispute. Applicant Jagabandhu Banerjee was appointed as a general assistant in the office of this Company by a letter, dated 16th September 1955 (vide Ext. 1). The office of the Company is situated at 45 Tangra Road. The working hours in the office were from 10 a.m. to 4-30 p.m. with a break for lunch of half an hour at 1-30 p.m. This is disclosed by the appointment letter. Jagabandhu Banerjee was confirmed by a letter, dated 30th December 1955 (vide Ext. 2). It is an admitted fact that towards the end of 1962 a proposal came from the Company to increase the working hours from 36 hours to 48 hours in a week. The office staff did not agree to the proposal and they made a protest. In spite of that protest the Company increased the working hours from 36 hours to 48 hours a week with effect from some date in the last week of December 1962 and the working hours were made from 9 a.m. to 5-30 p.m. with a break of half an hour. A dispute was raised by the Union over this matter and it is an admitted fact that a reference case in connection with the dispute was pending in this Tribunal at the time when this application under section 33A was filed.

Jagabandhu Banerjee was transferred from office to the Purchase Department of Factory No. 1 on 19th July 1963 (vide Ext. 3). Jagabandhu Banerjee joined there on 20th July 1963. It was specifically stated in this order of transfer that the working hours of this employee would be the same as at present. This means that the working hours would be from 9 a.m. to 5-30 p.m. with a break of half an hour for lunch. It is an admitted fact that the working hours in the factory were from 8 a.m. to 4-30 p.m. with a break of half an hour. The working hours of Jagabandhu Banerjee were made from 8 a.m. to 4-30 p.m. by a letter, dated 17th October 1963 (vide Ext. 6). He objected to this change by writing a protest letter, dated 28th October 1963 (vide Ext. 6a). This change in the working hours is one of the grounds for making this application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act.

Shri Ganguly contended on behalf of the Company that upon the admitted facts of the case as stated above this workman is not entitled to make any application under section 33A inasmuch as he was transferred to the Factory on 19th July 1963 and the reference was made on 30th August 1963 as would appear from the very head line of the application. He submitted that when Jagabandhu Banerjee was transferred to the factory he was bound to observe rules of the factory regarding hours of work etc. and although the management maintained status quo with regard to hours of work in the letter, dated 19th July 1963, it was within the rights of the management to withdraw the privilege granted to Jagabandhu Banerji at any time it considered necessary. Shri Ganguly submitted that there was no change in the conditions of service of this workman as prescribed in section 33(1)(a) of the Industrial Disputes Act and so the application is not maintainable.

Shri Das Choudhury submitted on behalf of the workman that hours of work constitute one of the conditions of service as laid down in item 4 of the fourth schedule of the Industrial Disputes Act and it was not open to the management to make a change in the hours of work to the prejudice of the worker without the permission of the Tribunal before which a reference case was pending. Shri Ganguly submitted that in this case there was really no change in the hours of work but there was a change only in the timings of work and so this matter does not fall under item 4 of the fourth schedule as claimed by Shri Das Choudhury. The distinction sought to be made by Shri Ganguly appears to me to be a distinction without any difference. It is to be observed that in the Company's letter, dated 17th October 1963 (Ext. 6), this workman was asked "to observe the factory working hours, viz., 8 a.m. to 4-30 p.m." The expression "working hours" certainly mean the same thing as hours of work. The letter under reference shows that the Company was making a change in the working hours of this employee. So this matter comes under item No. 4 of schedule IV and it constitutes a change in the conditions of service of Jagabandhu Banerjee.

The above change was effected when the reference case was pending in this Tribunal. The change was also made to the prejudice of the workmen as will be found later. So the previous permission of the Tribunal was necessary.

In the above context Shri Ganguly submitted two other contentions before me. He argued that Jagabandhu Banerjee was transferred to the factory before the reference was made to this Tribunal and was not concerned in the dispute because it was only the office staff who were concerned in it and so he cannot complain of any violation of the provision of section 33(1)(a) of the Industrial Disputes Act. In support of his contention he drew my attention to a decision of the Supreme Court reported in 1960, 1, L.L.J., page 551 (New India Motors versus K. T. Morris). In this judgment Their Lordships of the Supreme Court have given an elaborate exposition of the expression "workman concerned in the dispute.". I have gone through this case and I am unable to see how it applies to the facts of the present case. The very head line of the application of the petitioner would show that in the main reference one of the parties was the workmen of this Company represented by Bengal Potteries' Employees' Union. The office staff might have been immediately concerned in the dispute but all the workmen of this Company were made parties to the reference and certainly all of them would be bound by any award that might be passed in the main reference. It is also significant that when the dispute first originated Jagabandhu Banerjee was a member of the office staff. According to the case of the Company there is an interchange of office assistants from office to factory and vice versa. In these circumstances Jagabandhu Banerjee who had been a member of the office staff at the time of the origin of the dispute and who was transferred to factory less than a year ago may again be transferred back to office at any time. In these circumstances it is idle to contend that he is not concerned in the dispute and so the objection taken under this head by Shri Ganguly fails.

The next objection regarding the maintainability of the application taken by Shri Ganguly was that the change in the timings of Jagabandhu's work is not a matter "connected with the dispute" as required by section 33(1)(a) of the Industrial Disputes Act and so this application was not maintainable. I have already observed that in the main reference the subject matter of the dispute is the increase of working hours from 36 hours to 48 hours in a week. Jagabandhu Banerjee had made this application as his hours of work were altered by making an alteration in timings. The question as to when the duty hours of a particular workman would begin is certainly a matter related to the quantum of his hours of work. In these circumstances it cannot be said that the alteration in the working hours of this workman is not connected with the dispute raised in the main reference.

I now consider the question whether the alteration regarding the timings of Jagabandhu Banerjee's duty hours has caused any prejudice to him. This workman attends office from a place called Ghola which is three miles off from Sodepur Railway Station which is 15 miles from the factory of the Company. The evidence of Jagabandhu Banerjee would show that he has got to incur some extra expenses for purchasing his meals and tiffin at present. He has also been inconvenienced because by the acceleration of the timings he is not in a position to take a bus from his native place for coming to the railway station. All these facts have been prejudicial to him.

Another contention made by Shri Ganguly was that this change in regard to the working hours of Jagabandhu Banerjee was made not for the purpose of victimising him but for saving consumption of electricity. In this connection some Government notifications were filed on behalf of the Company [vide Ext. C to C(2)]. In my opinion these notifications are irrelevant for the purpose of our case because they only dispense with service of notice under section 9(1) of the Industrial Disputes Act in the matter of alteration of some of the conditions of service specified in the fourth schedule of the above Act. These notifications have got no bearing on section 33 of the Act. I therefore reject all the preliminary grounds taken by Shri Ganguly regarding the maintainability of the application and hold that it is maintainable.

This point is practically covered by the decision of Point No. 1. I have already observed that the main reference was made by the Labour Department, Government of West Bengal, to this Tribunal by an order, dated 30th August 1963. The hours of work of the applicant were changed by a letter, dated 17th October 1963, in spite of the fact that at the time of his transfer to the factory Jagabandhu Banerjee was given to understand that his duty hours would be the same as in the office, namely, from 9 a.m. to 5-30 p.m. (vide Ext. 3). Shri Ganguly contended that as the transfer was effected on 19th July 1963 which is prior to the date of the main reference it should be held that there was no change in the conditions of service of this workman. I am unable to agree with this contention.

The transfer of the applicant from office to factory is not the subject matter of this application. One of the subject matters of this application is the change in duty hours. As this change was effected without the previous permission of this Tribunal before which the main reference was pending, I hold that the Company was not justified in making the change. The change has undoubtedly caused prejudice to the workman. It is clear that this change was made because this workman had taken an active part in opposing the move of the Company for increasing duty hours. The explanation of the Company that this was done for saving consumption of electricity is merely an eyewash because there are several clerks in the factory whose duty hours are from 9 a.m. to 5-30 p.m. There would be no difficulty on the part of the Company if the same timing is observed by this particular clerk. Point No. 2 is decided accordingly.

Point No. 3

A grievance was made by this workman that he was not allowed to enjoy the same number of festival holidays as is enjoyed by the office staff. In my opinion the workman is not entitled to make any grievance on this score. When he was transferred to the factory the Company specifically mentioned that his working hours would be the same as in the office. As this employee was transferred to the factory it can be presumed that he was to be governed by Factory Rules in regard to other conditions of service such as enjoyment of festival holidays, leave, etc. It is in evidence that in the year 1963 this employee was allowed extra casual leave for four days in excess of the total casual leave permissible to him by the rules of the office. It is an admitted fact that factory staff get a few days' more casual leave than the office staff. This benefit was given to the applicant for 1963. As regards festival holidays he was allowed such holidays according to factory rules. There was therefore no inequity in this matter. The curtailment of festival holidays was compensated by additional casual leave. I, therefore, hold that the Company was justified in granting festival holidays to the applicant according to the factory rules and not rules prescribed for the office staff.

Point No. 4

From the decision of the foregoing points it would follow that the applicant should get some monetary compensation for the alteration in his working hours. From the evidence of the applicant, I am satisfied that he has got to incur some extra expenses on account of his meals, tiffin and rickshaw fare. He has also claimed some compensation for the loss of private tuition. I am not prepared to allow any compensation under the last mentioned item. Regarding other expenses I am of opinion that the applicant should be compensated to some extent. I allow a compensatory allowance of Rs. 15 per month for the period during which he worked or will work in future according to the modified timing as introduced by the Company's letter, dated 17th October 1963. I shall, however, permit the applicant to revert to his old timings of 9 a.m. to 5-30 p.m. from a date specified later.

In the result I make the following award on the application of the workmen under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. The applicant will enjoy festival holidays as prescribed for the office so long as he works in the factory. The working hours of the applicant will be from 9 a.m. to 5-30 p.m. with a recess of half an hour from the beginning of the English month following that in which this award will be published in the "Calcutta Gazette". For the period commencing from 19th October 1963 up to the date when this workman will work in the factory from 8 a.m. to 4-30 p.m., he will get a compensatory allowance of Rs. 15 per month. The entire amount of such allowance will be paid by the Company to the applicant within a month of publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

AWARD

The above dispute over the issues given in the order of reference and reproduced below was referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 3762-I.R./IR/13L-5/62, dated the 25th August 1962.

Issues

1. Grades and scales of pay.
2. Dearness allowance.
3. Leave and holidays.
4. Service cards.

After service of notices of the reference upon the parties, they appeared and filed their respective written statements. After necessary preliminary proceedings when the case became ripe for hearing, the parties took some adjournments on the ground that a talk of settlement was going on. Finally, 17th June 1964 was fixed for hearing. On that date, the parties filed a joint petition of compromise setting out the terms upon which the entire dispute had been amicably settled between them and praying for an award in terms of the settlement.

I have heard the representatives of the parties and considered the terms of settlement. The terms appear to be quite fair and lawful and I am satisfied that there has been a bona fide settlement of the entire dispute between the parties on the terms set out in the compromise petition. In these circumstances, there is to be a compromise award in the case, as prayed for.

In the result, I make an award in terms of the settlement embodied in the compromise petition, a copy whereof is made a part of the award as an Annexure.

AWARD

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act 1947 filed by the workman Shri Kalipad Mondal (hereinafter be referred to as the applicant), complaining of contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act by the employer Messrs. Britannia Building & Iron Co. Ltd. (hereinafter be referred to as the company).

His case in short is that he has been in service of the company from 1945. The company issued a charge-sheet on 2nd February 1961 against him for some alleged misconduct. He submitted written explanation on 4th Februry 1961, but the management punished him with suspension for three days from 16th February 1961. The punishment was awarded by the company at a time when there was a proceeding under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, pending before this tribunal. So, the company was under obligation to comply with the provisions contained in proviso to section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act, which the company did not and thereby contravened the legal provisions. His further case is that his order of suspension was wrongful and unjustified.

The company resisted the application by filing a written objection in which it has questioned the maintainability of the present application. The company has challenged the tribunal's jurisdiction to entertain this application in view of the fact that the provisions of section 33(2)(b) proviso are not attracted to as it is not a case of discharge or dismissal. The Company has denied other allegations.

In a complaint of this nature two issues to be decided are:—

(1) The fact of contravention, and

(2) the merits of the act and order of the employer.

In the present case the applicant has not turned up to pursue his application. But the company who is the opposite party attended and was ready for hearing of the case. No steps having been taken on behalf of the applicant, I have no other alternative but to dismiss the application for default, and for want of proper prosecution.

The company having raised a preliminary point questioning the tribunal's jurisdiction to entertain the present application I would like to give decision on that point. The materials on the record will be just sufficient to give a decision on that point. Admittedly there was a proceeding under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act pending before this tribunal at a time when a workman was charge-sheeted for some misconduct and following a domestic enquiry was awarded punishment of suspension for a period of three days from 16th February 1961. The disptue that was pending for adjudication by this tribunal was relating to the workmen's claim for bonus. That was the only dispute referred to this tribunal for adjudication. The applicant was charge-sheeted on 2nd February 1961 (vide Annexure A to the application) for having been absent from his place of work on 1st February 1961 when he kept himself engaged at another place in writing some Money Order Forms. So, that was a matter unconnected with the dispute under reference before this tribunal. That being so, section 33(1) has no application. Section 33(2)(b) may have some application provided the punishment meted out is either discharge or dismissal from service. The provisions contained in the proviso to section 33(2)(b) are to be complied with by employer when the workman is either discharged or dismissed from service and for no other kind of punishment. In the instant case the applicant was punished with suspension for a period of three days only for which the employer is under no legal obligation to comply with the provisions contained in the proviso to section 33(2)(b). So, there has been no contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. Admittedly, it is not a case of discharge or dismissal of workman from service, by his employer and as such the provisions of section 33(2)(b) proviso are not attracted. Therefore, the present application is not maintainable, the tribunal being without jurisdiction to entertain an application of this nature. Hence, it is rejected and disposed of.

AWARD

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, filed by a workman Shri P. R. Gurukkal complaining of contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act by their employer Messrs. Samuel Osborn (India) Private Ltd. (hereinafter be referred to as the Company).

Briefly stated, his case is that on 20th March 1963 he was appointed by the Company as a mechanic and was subsequently confirmed in that post from 1st July 1963. Later on the Company issued a charge-sheet against him on 21st November 1963 for negligence of duty. He submitted written explanations on 23rd November 1963 but the Company without holding any domestic enquiry terminated his service by a letter, dated 27th November 1963. At that point of time some proceeding was pending before this Tribunal regarding industrial dispute existing between the said Company and their workmen, the pending dispute was relating to customary bonus claimed by a workman. In view of the pending proceeding under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, the Company ought to have applied to this Tribunal for approval of the order of dismissal in compliance with the provisions contained in the proviso to section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act. Not only no application was filed seeking approval but also the Company failed to pay or offer one month's wages to the workman. Hence, there has been contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act by the Company. The Company also wrongfully dismissed him from service without holding any domestic enquiry into the alleged charges. The prayer is, therefore, for reinstatement after setting aside the order of dismissal.

The Company has resisted the application of the workman by filing written objection in which it is stated that the workman having admitted his guilt was punished by dismissal from service. The workman having worked negligently and carelessly has considerably injured and damaged the reputation and goodwill of the Company. Therefore, the workman had to be punished by his removal from service. The Company has denied violation of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. It has also denied the other allegations.

Admittedly the petitioner Shri P. R. Gurukkal was in the employ of the Company as a service mechanic. He was appointed on 20th March 1963 and on completion of his training he was confirmed in that job from 1st of July 1963. While in service of the Company he was charge-sheeted by the Company on 21st November 1963 for gross negligence of duty with specific instances enumerated in the charge-sheet (Ext. B). The petitioner submitted written explanations on 23rd November 1963 (vide Ext. A). The Company on scrutiny of the written reply to the charge-sheet found him guilty of the charges and dismissed him from service by letter, dated 27th November 1963. At that point of time it is admitted that there was an industrial dispute relating to a workman's claim for bonus referred to this Tribunal for adjudication, and was pending for disposal. That being the admitted fact it was incumbent upon the Company simultaneously with the order of dismissal to apply to this Tribunal for approval of the order of dismissal passed against the petitioner in compliance with the proviso to section 33(2)(b), which the Company did not. At least there is no iota of evidence to support such compliance by the Company. There is nothing to show that the workman was paid or at least tendered one month's wages and an application was made seeking approval of the action so taken against the workman. In paragraph 10 of the Company's written statement it has been stated that there was nothing to do with section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The Company has not where stated its compliance with the proviso to section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act. Therefore, I have no hesitation to conclude that there has been contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act by the Company.

It is well settled by the Hon'ble Supreme Court that in an enquiry of this nature, it is the contravention by the employer of the provisions of section 33 giving rise to a cause of action in favour of the workman to approach and to move the authority named in the section and this contravention is the condition precedent to the exercise by the authority concerned of the additional jurisdiction and powers conferred on it by the section. It has also been held that the authority to whom the complaint is made is to decide two issues, viz. –

(1) the fact of contravention and

(2) the merits of the act or order of the employer [vide 1955 L.L.J.(1) 346].

In the case of the Delhi Cloth Mill and General Mills Co. Ltd. (A.I.R. 1961 Supreme Court 689), it has been held by the Hon'ble Court that in an enquiry under section 33A the employee would not succeed in obtaining an order of reinstatement merely by proving contravention of section 33 by the employer. After such contravention is proved it would still be open to the employer to justify the impunged dismissal on the merits. An earlier decision in the case of Punjab National Bank Ltd. reported in A.I.R. 1960 Supreme Court 160, has been referred to. In that case it was observed by Their Lordships that if no enquiry has in fact been held by the employer the issue about the merits of the impunged order of dismissal is at large before the Tribunal and, on the evidence adduced before it, the Tribunal has to decide for itself whether the misconduct alleged is proved, and if yes, what would be the proper order to make.

In the instant case there was no domestic enquiry by the employer. Therefore, it is open to this Tribunal to enquire into the merits of the order of dismissal passed by the Company against the workman. The petitioner has examined himself at length. The employer-opposite party has examined three witnesses and also tendered several documents into evidence. The petitioner Shri P. R. Gurukkal who is a young man, was appointed by the Company (O.P.) as a mechanic from 20th March 1963. He was given facilities for practical training and on completion of training he was confirmed in his job from 1st July 1963. But he was charge-sheeted on 21st November 1963 for gross negligence of his duty (Ext. B is a copy of the charge-sheet). The Company has specified in the charge-sheet the instances wherein his work was found unsatisfactory and negligent to such an extent that the Company's reputation was at stake. The petitioner submitted a written explanation Ext. A on 23rd November 1963. This is the earliest document containing his statements explaining his conduct in the discharge of his duties as a mechanic. Shri Phani Ghosh, the President of the National Union of Mercantile Employees who was authorised by the petitioner to represent his case and who actually conducted the case on behalf of the petitioner has contended that whatever admission the petitioner has made in his written explanation (Ext. A) to the charge-sheet cannot be relied upon in view of the fact that such admission was made by the workman with intent to please the employer and to enlist the employer's sympathy and support. He has relied upon two decisions—one is reported in 1961 (II) L.L.J. 472 In that case the Second Labour Court relying upon the recorded admission of guilt by the concerned workman found him guilty. The admission of guilt was recorded by the Enquiring Officer, who is an officer of the Company and it was not in the hand of the workman himself. Therefore, His Lordship was pleased to set aside that award based on the recorded admission of guilt. The other decision is of the Hon'ble Supreme Court reported in 1963(I) L.L.J., page 325. In that case Their Lordships were pleased to observe that when the statements made by the appellant do not amount to a clear and unambiguous guilt, failure to hold a former enquiry would certainly constitute a serious infirmity in the order of dismissal passed against him. It may be noted that this is not a case under the Industrial Disputes Act but one under Article 311(2) of the Constitution of India. However, I find that the facts of these two cases are quite different and distinguishable from the present one, and as such they do not strictly apply to the instant case. In the first case the admission of guilt by the concerned workman was recorded by the Enquiring Officer. It was not in the hand of the workman himself as in the present case and that alleged admission was in course of an enquiry made before the Enquirnig Officer but in the present case the workman made some admission of his guilt in his written explanation to the charge-sheet. So whatever admission he made in his written reply to the charge-sheet was voluntary, uninfluenced and undisturbed, and probably unaided. He was all to himself when he wrote his explanations at that early stage. So, some truth is expected to come out in these early statements of the concerned workman. Then it may be true that the Company did not hold any enquiry and might have acted on the admission of guilty by the concerned workman. But so far as this Tribunal is concerned an enquiry is being held in which both parties are given equal opportunities and facilities to prove their respective cases, and not only the admission of guilt by the workman in his written explanation Ext. A is being relied upon but also other facts and circumstances on the record are also being considered. The Company has produced two reports (Exts. D/1 and D/2) before the Tribunal. The first one was made by D.W. 2 Shri K. R. K. Menon on 28th August 1963 and the second one by D.W. 3 Shri S. K. Das on 19th August 1963. Shri Phani Ghosh, the learned representative of the petitioner objected to these documents being considered by the Tribunal. His contention is that his client was not furnished with copies of these two reports and without the copies he had no sufficient opportunity to cross-examine the two witnesses who submitted the reports. To support his contention he relied upon a decision reported in 1963 (II) L.L.J., page 371. I am sorry to say again that the decision has been wrongly relied upon. In that case the prepared statements of witnesses taken in absence of the charge-sheeted workman were placed at the enquiry stage and the workman was asked to cross-examine without being furnished copies thereof sufficiently in advance. So, Their Lordships were pleased to hold the enquiry as vitiated by the violation of the principles of natural justice. In the instant case these are not prepared statements recorded in absence of the workman. But these are reports made by other mechanic who actually accompanied the concerned workman and who reported to his knowledge to the employer. The petitioner Shri Gurukkal has admitted in his evidence that he knew Shri S. K. Das another mechanic in the employ of Messrs. Das Zimmerman, the manufacturer of machineries whose selling agent was the present Company. He has further admitted that Shri S. K. Das accompanied him to the factory of Messrs. Kumardhubi Engineering Works on his failure to operate a new machine supplied to that Company. He has admitted that Shri S. K. Das operated that machine and on his return submitted a written report to the Company. He has identified this report as Ext. D. It may be noted that Ext. D is a typed copy of the original report Ext. D/2 which has been proved by D.W. 3 Shri S. K. Das. The opposite party not only admitted that he had knowledge of this report from the very beginning, but on his admission the report was exhibited and marked Ext. D on 6th of June 1964. The hearing of this case was concluded on 22nd June 1964 and D.W. 3 Shri S. K. Das was examined on 20th June 1964. Therefore, there is no substance in the allegation that the workman had no opportunity to know the contents of the report Exts. D and D/2 and as such he could not cross-examine the witness on that point. Therefore, the decision he has referred to has no application to the present case. The opposite party has further admitted that he had no ill feeling with D.W. 2 Shri K. R. K. Menon and D.W. 3 Shri S. K. Das. The workman has admitted the fact of his knowledge from the very beginning of the report Exts. D and D/2 submitted by Shri S. K. Das, Mechanic. But at the time of his evidence he has stated that the concluding two lines of the report contains wrong statement. It has been stated in the concluding two lines that the machine is working perfectly alright without changing even a single part of it. If the statement was not correct, what prevented the petitioner to object to these statements earlier or in his written explanation Ext. A?

I have already stated that in the charge-sheet Ext. B instances of negligent and unsatisfactory work have been specifically stated. The Petitioner's representative has contended that the charge-sheet is vague because the dates have not been mentioned. I do not think that the petitioner has been prejudiced thereby in any way. He has not raised that plea in his written reply Ext. A. On the contrary, he has admitted in his evidence before the Tribunal that all these instances took place in the month of August 1963. Therefore, there is nothing to show that the charge-sheeted workman was misled by the charge-sheet. His written explanation Ext. A clearly shows that he could easily follow the works complained of as unsatisfactory and negligent. The work of the petitioner was found unsatisfactory on occasions more than one. He was deputed to do some servicing work in the factory of Shalimar Tar Products Ltd. where due to his negligent work an important machinery part was damaged which his employer had to replace at his own cost. The Astralon Sheet that was broken by the petitioner is an imported article of the value of Rs. 160 as deposed by D.W. 1 Shri R. Srinivasan, the Internal Sales Manager of the Company. This officer of the Company has further deposed that the Administrative Officer of Messrs. Shalimar Tar Products reported the fact to the Company over telephone. The Astralon Sheet that was damaged by the petitioner on account of his careless and negligent work had to be replaced by the Company on payment to Messrs. Das Zimmerman, the supplier. The petitioner has admitted that he was deputed to do some work at Messrs. Gayson & Co. In that concern also he rendered similar defective service due to his careless work and defective fitting, one Astralon Sheet was damaged which had to be replaced and in his written explanation he has stated that the damage was due to his overlooking to take proper steps and precaution. On the third instance when he was deputed to Messrs. Kumardhubi Engineering Works Ltd. to operate a new machine supplied to that concern by the Company he failed to do so and when the manufacturer's mechanic accompanied him he could do it easily without changing any part of the machine. He pointed out to the petitioner that proper care was not taken to clean the Gears and Bushes of the machine which were full of dirt and also completely dry. So, he reported that Gurukkal had no basic idea of a service mechanic. The petitioner was found lacking in the basic knowledge of a mechanic. He was lacking in the knowledge of operating a machine after proper cleaning and oiling. Therefore, on occasions more than one the Company found his work unsatisfactory, negligent and not up to the mark as a mechanic. Complaints having poured in from customers, the Company was in an embarassing position and apart from the fact of its loss of reputation and goodwill. D.W. 1 Shri R. Srinivasan the Internal Sales Manager of the Company has also deposed to say that the petitioner Shri Gurukkal approached Messrs. Das Zimmerman and requested them not to lodge any complaint against him for not being able to operate the machine at Messrs. Kumardhubi Engineering Works Ltd. All these facts were reported to the Sales Director of the Company. So, the Company at last thought fit to issue a chargesheet against him. It was really damaging to the reputation of the firm to retain such a mechanic who proved himself careless and negligent in his works on occasions more than one. The petitioner had to admit in his written reply Ext. 1 that he has not given a very satisfactory service and his work is not up to the standard as expected. Therefore, having considered all the above facts and circumstances I am to conclude that the petitioner was guilty of the charges levelled against him and there was justification for the order of dismissal passed against him by the Company. In such a case when it has been found that there has been contravention of the provisions of section 33 by the employer but there was justification for the order of dismissal passed against the workman, the breach of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act may be regarded as a technical breach and may not justify any substantial order of compensation in favour of the employee unless there are compelling facts in favour of the employee. This view has been expressed by Their Lordships of the Supreme Court in a case reported in 1958 (I L.L.J. 793. In that case there was an enquiry under section 23 of the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act which corresponds to section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. The order of dismissal passed by the Company against the petitioner having been found justified on merits the contravention by the Company of the provisions of section 33 will be a technical breach but I find that the workman was not paid one month's wages at the time of his dismissal. Therefore, I direct the Company to pay him one month's wages as compensation. This payment be made within a month of publication of the award in the "Calcutta Gazette". The workman is entitled to no other relief. The application is accordingly disposed of.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Calcutta Flour Mills, 11 Shib Thakur Lane, Calcutta-7, and their workmen represented by All-Bengal Flour Mills Workers' Union, 63/1 Kali Banerjee Lane, Howrah. (Government Order No. 3712-I.R., dated 3rd August 1963. (VIII-196/63).

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

Present:

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri Satyendra Nath Banerjee, Advocate.

For the Company: Shri Satish Chandra Sen, Advocate.

On the basis of the Order No. 3712-I.R./IR/11L-152(A)/63, dated 3rd August 1963, of the Government of West Bengal, this reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act has been sent to this Tribunal for adjudication of the following issue:

Whether the refusal of employment to the following workmen is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

(i) Shrimati Sushila Dasi; (ii) Shrimati Sushila Bala Dasi; (iii) Shrimati Kiran Bala Dasi; (iv) Shrimati Sarala Bala Dasi; (v) Shrimati Bina Dasi; (vi) Shrimati Bhagabati Dasi.

The parties are Messrs. Calcutta Flour Mills, 11 Shib Thakur Lane, Calcutta-7, and their workmen represented by All-Bengal Flour Mills Workers' Union, 63/1 Kali Banerjee Lane, Howrah.

The parties filed written statements. In short, the case of the All-Bengal Flour Mills Workers' Union (hereinafter described as the Union) is that the six workers mentioned in the order of reference, viz., Shrimati Sushila Dasi, Shrimati Sushila Bala Dasi, Shrimati Kiran Bala Dasi, Shrimati Sarala Bala Dasi, Shrimati Bina Dasi and Shrimati Bhagabati Dasi were workers of the Calcutta Flour Mills (hereinafter described as the Company). They were being paid remuneration at the rate much lower than the one prescribed by the award of the Tribunal and other settlements between the Company and its workers. These female workers in order to get their legitimate wages filed applications before the Authority under the Payment of Wages Act, West Bengal, and, as a result thereof, the Company being enraged refused employment to them as a vindictive measure. These workers were not allowed to work under the Company on and from the 21st June 1962 without any notice or justification. On the representation of the workmen of the Company the Union took up the dispute and, ultimately, the present reference was made. It has been alleged by the Union that the refusal by the Company to employ these workmen is a case of victimisation and unfair labour practice, and it has been prayed that the workers in question may be directed to be reinstated with full back wages at the rate of the award passed by the Industrial Tribunal.

The Company in its written statement has stated that the six female workmen in question were employed in semi-skilled work as casual workers and that they were not covered by the award of the Industrial Tribunal. The rates of these workmen were fixed according to bipartite agreement between the Company and the West Bengal Flour Mills Mazdoor Congress, the representative body of the workers. This agreement is dated the 2nd November 1961. It has been further alleged that the female workmen started demanding higher rates of wages towards the end of April 1962 and they gave out that they would not do work unless an enhanced rate was allowed to them. The female workmen started cases before the Authority under the Payment of Wages Act demanding higher rates of wages according to the award of the Industrial Tribunal. After this, however, the female workers in question actually refused to do work when the Company requisitioned their services and, in fact, they did not report from 21st June 1962 to their work. The case of the Company is that the workers in question themselves gave up their service voluntarily and that the Company never refused employment or work to them. It is also stated that the claims of these workers were refused by the Authority under the Payment of Wages Act. It was also contended in the written statement that the Union before this Tribunal had no locus standi to represent the workmen of this Company and, therefore, it was not an industrial dispute.

In this case several witnesses have been examined on the side of the Union and the Company has examined on its side only one witness who is the office assistant of the Company. Some documents have been exhibited on both the sides.

During the argument it has not been contended from the side of the Company that the Union before this Tribunal has no locus standi to represent the workmen. P.W. 8 has stated that he is the President of the Calcutta Flour Mill Employees Union. From his evidence it further appears that there is another Union in the mill of the Company known as "West Bengal Flour Mills Mazdoor Congress". This witness has also admitted during the cross-examination that All-Bengal Flour Mills Workers' Union also represent a few workers of the mill. The witness of the Company has stated nothing about the representative capacity of any labour organisation. There is no convincing evidence as to which of these three labour organisations already mentioned has the majority of the workers under its control. It can therefore be presumed that all the three organisations have shared the workers of the Company as their members. The Company has not been able to show that the Union before me has no right or authority to represent the workmen of the Company. In the absence of any material I, therefore, hold that the Union has a right to expouse the cause of the workmen before me and that the present dispute is an industrial dispute.

In the written statement it was alleged by the Company that the female workers in question were casual workers. The only witness of the Company examined in this case has stated that it would be apparent from the Wage Register of the Company that they are casual workers and that separate registers are maintained for these workers. Admittedly, no papers of the Company have been produced before me to prove that the female workers before me are casual workers. Moreover, in the written statement of the Company it has been stated in paragraph 2 that the names of the female workers were shown, in the Master Roll of the Company, that they were paid by the said mill but they were employed in the sister Mills when there was no work available in the flour mill. The judgments passed by the Authority of the Payment of Wages Act have been filed in this case. They are Exts. B series. In the copies of those judgments it does not appear that at the time of hearing any contention was raised that the female workers were casual workers but, on the other hand, from the reading of the judgments the impression created is that from November 1961 to February 1962 the said workers worked under the Company without any break and accordingly in some cases some reliefs were given. However, this much I should say that there is no convincing and reliable evidence to prove before me that the female workers in question were casual workers.

Whether or not the female workers were casual workers is not an important question before me. This point is admitted by the learned lawyers of both the sides. The only point that has been raised by both the sides is whether the six female workers mentioned in the order of reference, in fact, voluntarily ceased coming to the mill to do their duties. If it is found that the workers of their own accord ceased coming to the mill on and from 21st June 1962, they will not get any relief in this case but if it is proved that the Company prevented them from joining their duties, certainly the workers will get relief. On this point the learned lawyers of both the sides have agreed. Now, I am to ascertain what the fact is. Four of the female workers have been examined in this case, as P.W. 3, P.W. 4, P.W. 5 and P.W. 6. These four workers have stated that they were not allowed by the Company to work in the mill although they went to join their duties. The evidence further shows that after the institution of the case before the Authority under the Payment of Wages Act, these workers were not allowed to join their duties. Admittedly, no work was done by these workers on and from 21st June 1962. Exhibit C series will show that in the month of May 1962 applications were filed by the female workers before the Authority under the Payment of Wages Act. Exhibit 1 is a letter written by the President of the Union to the Labour Commissioner with a copy forwarded to the Company. This letter is dated 18th July 1962. This letter registered a protest against the conduct of the Company for not allowing the workers to work from 21st June 1962. The evidence shows that the female workers attended the mill for several days but they were put off on frivolous pleas. In the circumstances of the case there was no unreasonable delay in lodging the protest in the form of Ext. A. Of course, I cannot place any importance to Ext. 2, a copy of the letter, dated 1st July 1962, alleged to have been sent to the Company by the female workers. There is no convincing proof that, in fact, any such letter was submitted to the Company. Moreover, Ext. 1 says that although such a letter was submitted to the Manager of the Company, the same was returned. No reliable witness has stated that any such letter was returned by any officer of the Company. In this connection I should note that I place no reliance on the oral evidence of Shri Muktipada Banerjee who does not appear to me to be a truthful and straightforward witness. The demeanour of the female workers examined before me and the manner in which they have deposed have convinced me that their evidence regarding refusal of employment to them by the Company is true. I have also considered the evidence of the witness examined by the Company. He has stated that the female workers began absenting themselves and then ceased coming to the mill. It does not appear from the evidence that he has any direct connection with the work of the female workers. It does not appear that he has to do any work of labour in the department where the female workers worked. It is curious to note that the Company produced no papers to show that there is any note in any department stating that the female workers began absenting themselves. If really these workers ceased coming to the mill, certainly the Company would have taken step either by way of issuing notice or by making necessary notes in the department. I have also noted that the company has not examined any supervisor of the department in which these female workers worked. The non-examination of competent persons will certainly raise an adverse inference against the Company, especially when the female workers have reasonably proved their case. The circumstances of this case also go in support of the workmen's case before me. It has been argued from the side of the Company that some of the female workers have stated that they are not willing to work under the Company if they are paid wages less than their demand. It has been argued that this statement and the attitude will prove that the workers voluntarily left their service because they were not getting higher wages according to the award of the Tribunal. I cannot accept this contention. Besides, the evidence shows that the applications were filed before the Authority under the Payment of Wages Act in May 1962. The workers were not working from 21st June 1962. The judgments were passed by the Authority under the Payment of Wages Act in 1963. When the cases were started and the judgments were not delivered, it is not expected that the workers will give up their service without knowing what their fate would be by those judgments. The evidence shows that the cases were fought before the Authority and, therefore, the parties were keen to see the result. In these circumstances, I cannot accept the contention that the female workers while their cases are pending, give up their services simply because they were getting wages at a lesser rate. However, I have considered the evidence both oral and documentary as well as the circumstances of the case and it has been proved that the female workers were prevented from joining their duties in the mill by the Company and this action of the Company is most unreasonable and unjustified. The reason for the attitude taken by the Company is apparent because these female workers started cases claiming their wages at a higher rate before the Authority under the Payment of Wages Act. The attitude of the Company is no doubt vindictive and the refusal of work and employment to the six female workers before me were cases of victimisation. My attention has been drawn to Ext. A containing terms of settlement arrived at by and between the Company and the West Bengal Flour Mills Mazdoor Congress. This document is not of any importance because I am not to decide the rate of wages of these female workers for the first part of the issues. Supporting the female workers in order to give a go-by into file cases before the Authority for the increase of their wages on the basis of the Award of the Industrial Tribunal but on that account can the company take recourse to vindictive action by refusing employment to these workmen? The only answer, I believe, should be in the negative. The workers wanted to interpret the award of the Industrial Tribunal. The Company had a right to defend it. It appears that the workers failed before the Authority under the Payment of Wages Act. The matter ends there. Everybody has right to take recourse to legal action and in the present case the female workers approached the authority. There was no harm in it, and there was no occasion for the Company to be annoyed and to take any vindictive attitude towards them. However, I find as I have already indicated, that it is a case of victimisation and unfair labour practice, and the Company was unjustified in refusing employment and work to the female workers mentioned in the order of reference, viz., Shrimati Sushila Dasi, Shrimati Sushila Bala Dasi, Shrimati Kiran Bala Dasi, Shrimati Sarala Bala Dasi, Shrimati Bina Dasi and Shrimati Bhagabati Dasi.

On the question of relief to be granted in the present case I should hold that the said workers shall be reinstated by the Company in their former position within a month from the date of publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette" and within that period the said workers shall be paid at the rates they were entitled to at the time of refusal of work for the period of non-employment. Exhibit B series should be considered in this connection. The period of non-employment should be treated as in continuity of the service of the workers. In the circumstances of this case I further direct that the Company should pay a cost of this proceeding to the Union representing the workmen and the cost is assessed at Rs. 25 in lump.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Sur Iron & Steel Co. (P) Ltd., 15 Convent Road, Entally, Calcutta-14, and their workmen represented by the Sur Iron & Steel Sramik Union, 52/7 Bepin Behari Ganguly Street, Calcutta-12, and Sur Iron & Steel Employees Association, 118 Middle Road, Calcutta-14. BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri K. P. MUKHERJI, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company: Shri P. K. Sen Gupta and Shri Kalyanmay Ganguly, Advocates, instructed by Shri Bisvanath Mitra, an officer of the Company.

Present for the Union: Shri Amar Prosad Chakravorty, Advocate, instructed by Shri Sunil Gupta, General Secretary of the Union.

This dispute between Messrs. Sur Iron & Steel Co. (P) Ltd., Convent Road, Entally, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by the Sur Iron & Steel Co. Sramik Union, 52/7 Bepin Behari Ganguly Street, Calcutta-12, and Sur Iron & Steel Employees Association, 118 Middle Road, Calcutta-14, was referred to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 3671-I.R./IR/10L-70/62, dated the 18th August 1962 for adjudication upon the issues mentioned below.

Issues

(1) Whether the lock-out of the factory with effect from 22nd April 1962 is justified?

(2) Whether the closure of the factory from 22nd June 1962 is real and bona fide? Whether the closure is beyond the control of the Management and in the circumstances it is justified?

(3) To what relief, if any, are the workers entitled?

The case of the Union as made out in the written statement, shortly stated, is as follows:

Messrs. Sur Iron & Steel Company Private Limited is incorporated as a private limited Company, registered under the Indian Companies Act. It employs more than 500 workmen in its factory at Nos. 8/5 and 9, Canal Street, Entally, Calcutta, and is engaged in the manufacture of stone crusher, granulator, welding transformers, fire fighting equipments and various other articles of similar nature for over 15 years. It is a prosperous concern earning good profits from the business. A Union of the workmen was formed in January 1962, and it was duly registered under the Indian Trade Unions Act in February 1962. The formation of the Union was made known to the Company, but the Company did not take in good grace the formation of the Union. The Company became very much annoyed by the formation of the Union and began to oppress the workmen in various ways. This fact was brought to the notice of the Labour Commissioner, West Bengal, and the Chief Inspector of Factories, West Bengal. Subsequently, the Company suddenly by a notice dated 18th April 1962 changed the duty hours of the workmen from 19th April 1962 with the ulterior object of harassing the workmen. The Union made a vehiment protest against the change of duty hours of the workmen and demanded restoration of the usual duty hours. Thereafter the workmen reported for duty under protest on 21st April 1962 (Saturday), but found to their utter surprise that the factory was closed. The Union wrote to the management enquiring about the reason of the closure of the factory on Saturday, the 21st April 1962, and a copy of that letter was sent to the Hon'ble Labour Minister, and also copies were sent to the Joint Secretary, Labour Department, the Labour Commissioner and the Chief Inspector of Factories. Thereafter the workmen reported for duty on 23rd April 1962, but to their utter surprise they found a notice dated 22nd April 1962 hung up at the entrance of the factory gate to the effect that a lock-out had been declared in the factory from 22nd April 1962. The Union made a representation to the Labour Commissioner, West Bengal, to take immediate action and for a conciliation proceeding for settlement of the dispute. The Labour Commissioner convened a conciliation proceeding on 25th April 1962, but none on behalf of the Company turned up on that date. Subsequently, the Company participated in the conciliation proceedings which continued for some time, but without any result. The Company made desperate attempts to break the morale of the members of the Union and to crush it by any means, fair or foul but was unsuccessful. The Union wrote to the Hon'ble Labour Minister, the Labour Directorate and the police officials and kept them informed about the day to day situation and the unfair and illegal activities of the Company. Subsequently, by a notice dated the 12th June 1962 which was hung up on the factory gate on the 13th June, the Company declared the lifting of the lock-out and directed the workmen to join the factory on and from the 18th June 1962 on the basis of an alleged agreement between the Company and another Union which was not in existence at the time when the lock-out was declared. The workmen assembled at the gate of the factory on the 18th June in accordance with the notification dated the 12th June 1962 and offered to join their duties, but they were not allowed to join by the Company. The Company only allowed a group of workers to enter the factory, and not the entire body of workers. The workmen turned up to join their duties on the next day, but they were also not allowed to enter. On the 20th June a notice was seen hung up on the factory gate to the effect that 37 workmen, who were members of the Union, would not be allowed to enter the factory as some of them had been suspended and some would be allowed to join on tendering apology to the Company. The other workmen who were present were also not allowed to enter the factory except a chosen few. The same thing happened on the 21st June 1962 and on the 22nd June the Company declared a closure of the factory for good on and from 22nd June 1962. The closure of the factory is said to be illegal, unjustified and mala fide. The lock-out was never lifted fully, and the lock-out continued till the date of the unjustified closure of the factory. The Company since then has been manufacturing articles similar in nature which it used to manufacture previous to the lock-out and the subsequent closure of the factory, at different places. There has been, it is alleged, no real closure of the factory, and the illegal lock-out declared in the factory has been given a colour of closure with the ulterior motive of crushing the Union and victimising the members of the Union. It is alleged that, in fact, the lock-out is continuing under the garb of alleged closure, and hence the matter has been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication.

The case of the Company, as set forth in its written statement, may be shortly stated as follows:

The Company was incorporated under the Indian Companies Act as a private limited concern in June 1951, and it was registered in September 1951. It started a factory at the premises No. 8/5 and 9, Canal Street, Calcutta, for manufacturing various articles of different nature for supply to the Government of India and other Companies. The Company, from the very beginning, suffered losses up to the financial year 1958-59. In 1960 the Company obtained some urgent orders from the Government of India through its contractors and more workers had to be employed to cope with the work. This continued for some time, but as there was no general market for the products of the Company, it had to be closed down for circumstances which were beyond the control of the Company. It is denied that the Company earned good profits and was in sound financial position. The Company has also denied the allegations made in paragraphs 5, 6, 7, 9, 10, 12, 14, 15, 16, 18, 21, 23, 24, and 25 of the Union's written statement. It is pleaded that the duty hours of the workmen were changed due to restrictions imposed on the supply of electricity, and this was done with notice to the Chief Inspector of Factories, and no objection was raised by him or by the workmen. The change of duty hours was effected by a notice dated the 18th April 1962 without any protest or objection from the workmen. The Company received a letter on the 19th April 1962 from the Calcutta Electricity Corporation Ltd. whereby it was intimated that every Saturday would be an off day. On receipt of this intimation the Company notified to the workmen on the 20th April 1962 that Saturday, the 21st April 1962, would be a holiday, and Sunday next would be a working day instead. The workmen did not turn up to join their duties on Saturday, the 21st April 1962. The workmen also did not join their duties on the 22nd April 1962 in the morning in spite of repeated verbal requests, and the Company was forced to declare a lock-out in the factory at 9-30 a.m. on the same date, as the workmen illegally refused to join their duties. It is pleaded that as there was illegal and unjustified strike by the workmen on 22nd April 1962, the consequent lock-out was justified. The Company attended the conciliation proceedings which were started at the instance of the Conciliation Officer. But due to unreasonable and unjustified demands made by the Union, no conciliation could be effected. Thereafter, at the instance of the Labour Directorate, the Company arrived at an agreement with one of the Unions which claimed to represent a large number of workmen on the 12th June 1962. Thereafter the lock-out was lifted on the 13th June 1962 and the workmen were directed to join their duties in batches from the 18th June 1962. The Company issued notifications in local newspapers intimating that all workers should join their duties except those whose names have been pasted on the notice board. The workmen wanted to join their duties on the date as notified, but the members of the present Union held out threats of violence and assault to them, and thereby they were deterred from joining their duties. The Company made requests to the Labour Directorate and to the police authorities to give protection to the workmen who were willing to join, but nothing was done, and the situation became such that it was not possible to carry on production and normal running of the factory. The Company thereafter decided to close down the factory for good, on and from 22nd June 1962, and a notice to that effect was hung up at the gate, and it was also published in local newspapers. It is alleged that the lock-out was lifted on and from 13th June 1962 till the date of closure on and from 22nd June 1962 which was forced upon the management and for which the leaders of the Union are to blame themselves. It is denied that the lock-out was illegal or that it was given a colour of closure to crush the Union, or its members and organisers. The Company kept the factory open since 13th June 1962, and had to close it down forever on and from 22nd June 1962 on account of circumstances beyond its control, and it was not possible for them to carry on the manufacturing business. It is denied that the lock-out is still continuing in the garb of closure of the factory, and it is pleaded that the Company has closed down the factory on and from 22nd June 1962, and the closure of the factory is bona fide and real. The Company, it is pleaded, is ready and willing to pay to the workers all benefits to which they are entitled under the law on account of the closure.

Messrs Sur Iron & Steel Company (P) Ltd., a company incorporated under the Indian Companies Act, carried on business in manufacturing and sale of various types of articles, such as stone crushers, granulators, welding transformers and fire fighting equipments, etc. It had its factory at 8/5 and 9, Canal Street, Calcutta, and it employed more than 500 workmen for running the factory. It is a common ground that a lock-out in the factory was declared on 22nd April 1962. The lock-out is sought to be justified by the management on the ground that due to restrictious imposed by the State Government on the use of electricity, Saturday was declared as an off day instead of Sunday which was to be a working day. This change of weekly off day was duly notified to the workmen, but this did not satisfy them. They did not attend the factory on 21st April 1962 which was a Saturday. The workmen came and collected near the factory gate on 22nd April 1962 which was a Sunday, but they did not enter the factory to report for duty although requested, and the management had no other alternative but to declare a lock-out in the factory.

On behalf of the Union the lock-out has been challenged not only as mala fide and unfair, but illegal on various grounds. I shall deal with the facts leading to a declaration of lock-out in the factory to come to a decision on issue No. 1 under reference, viz., whether the lock-out of the factory with effect from 22nd April 1962 is justified.

It is not disputed and it cannot be disputed that the Company received a letter from the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation regarding restrictions imposed on the use of electricity by the State Government, and the evidence of O.P.W. 14, who is one of the Directors of the Company, is that pursuant to this letter received from the Calcutta Electricity Corporation it was notified to the workmen that Saturday would be an off day instead of Sunday which would be a working day. The original letter has been marked Ext. A, and the acknowledgment receipt, Ext. A-1, shows that it was received by the Company on 19th April 1962. It is further stated by O.P.W. 14 that on receipt of the letter, Ext. A, from the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation, notice was issued to the workmen on 20th April 1962 intimating them that with effect from 21st April 1962, Saturday, instead of Sunday, would be the off day in the factory until further orders. The notice in Bengali has been produced and marked Ext. D-1, and that in English has been marked Ext. Q. This notice was circulated amongst the workmen on 20th April 1962, as appears from Ext. Q-1. It is also stated by O.P.W. 14 that this notice was circulated amongst the Supervisors of different departments in the factory, and the Labour Officer Shri Bisvanath Mitra also explained to the workmen that the factory would remain closed on Saturday, the 21st April and would remain open on Sunday, the 22nd April until further orders. The notice, Ext. Q-1 bears several initials which indicate that this was circulated amongst the staff, as stated by O.P.W. 14. The Union has examined P.Ws. 6, 12 and 13 who were previously workmen in the factory of the Company. P.W. 6 Bhola Singh has denied that notice was issued to the workmen intimating them that Sunday would be the working day and Saturday would be an off day. The other two workmen, viz., Nos. 12 and 13, have not denied that notice was issued to them regarding the change in the weekly off day in the factory. O.P.W. 11, who is an Assistant in the office of the Company, has stated that on 20th April 1962 a notice was shown to him that Saturday would be an off day in the factory and Sunday would be a working day on account of restrictions imposed on the use of electricity by the State Government under the Indian Electricity Act. This witness has corroborated O.P.W. 14 regarding circulation of the notice amongst the workmen regarding the proposed change in the weekly off day in the factory. It also does not stand to reason that the Company on receipt of the letter, Ext. A, from the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation would make no move in the matter to circulate the same amongst the workmen without any delay. It is only probable that a notice was circulated amongst the workmen regarding change in the weekly off day as stated by O.P.Ws. 11 and 14 which is also corroborated by the notices, Exts. D-1, Q & Q-1. In the letter, Ext. A, which was received by the Company on 19th April 1962, it is clearly mentioned that with effect from 15th April 1962 there will be no supply of electricity for running of the factory from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Saturdays, and Saturdays were to be observed as weekly off days. In view of this letter from the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation imposing restrictions on the use of electricity by the State Government under the Electricity Act, it was incumbent on the management to observe Saturdays as weekly off days instead of Sundays, with effect from the 15th April 1962. The change in the weekly off days was not a voluntary act on the part of the management, but it was forced upon them due to the restrictions imposed by the State Government on the use of electricity in the State. That being so, the Company had no other alternative, but to issue notice to the workmen intimating the change in the weekly off day. On the evidence on record I have no hesitation in coming to the finding that the notice regarding the proposed change in the weekly off day was duly circulated amongst the workmen on 20th April 1962.

It is now to be considered whether the workmen complied with the notice which was circulated amongst them on 20th April 1962 regarding the change in the weekly off day in the factory and in the office of the Company. The Company has adduced evidence to prove that the workmen did not attend the factory on 21st April 1964 in pursuance of the notice which was circulated amongst them on 20th April 1962, and they collected near the factory gate on 22nd April 1962 which was a Sunday, but did not enter the factory to join their duties in spite of repeated requests from the management. The evidence of O.P.W. 14 is that the workmen did not attend the factory on 21st April 1962 which was a Saturday. O.P.W. 11 has also stated that he did not attend office on 21st April 1962 as Saturday was declared an off day. It is the evidence of O.P.W. 14 that on 22nd April 1962, which was a Sunday, at about 8 a.m. the Labour Officer informed him that some workers had collected outside the factory gate, but they did not report for duty. This witness and the Labour Officer Shri Bisvanath Mitra came out of the factory and tried to persuade the workmen to join work. They succeeded in persuading some of the workmen to join, but the other workmen did not allow them to join, and gave out that they had decided to go on a strike. O.P.W. 11 has stated that he attended office at about 8 a.m. on 22nd April 1962 (Sunday) and while going to office he saw some workmen collected at different places near the factory, and on enquiry the workmen told him that they would not attend the factory on Sunday. He has also stated that he saw the Labour Officer of the Factory and O.P.W. 14 talking to some workmen near the factory gate. This witness has substantially corroborated O.P.W. 14. There was no cross-examination of O.P.Ws. 11 and 14 on this point, and their evidence, taken along with some other documentary evidence, goes to indicate that the workmen were not willing to work on Sunday, and they did not attend the factory on 22nd April 1962 although they collected near the factory gate at different places. It is the evidence of O.P.W. 14 that three notices in succession were issued to the workmen asking them to join their duties between 8 a.m. and 9 a.m. The notices have been marked Exts. C, C-1 and C-2. The workmen did not join and a lock-out was declared in the factory at 9-30 a.m. on 22nd April 1962 by the notice Ext. C-3. It is also stated by O.P.W. 11 that at about 10-15 a.m. the Labour Officer told him that a lock-out had been declared in the factory, and he left office as asked by the Labour Officer. An intimation about the lock-out was sent to the Office of the Labour Commissioner, Government of West Bengal. On 23rd April 1962 the Union addressed a letter to the Company challenging the bona fides and legality of the lock-out. In this letter there is no mention of the fact that the workmen attended the factory as usual on 21st April 1962 (Saturday) but they did not go to the factory for work on 22nd April 1962 which was a Sunday. All that is stated in this letter is that no notice regarding the change of weekly off day was given before hand, and the workmen did not come to work on 22nd April 1962 (Sunday) which was a closed holiday. I have already found that notices about the proposed change of the weekly off day was duly circulated amongst the workmen on 20th April 1962. None of the workmen examined by the Union has stated that he did not come to the factory on 22nd April 1962 which was a Sunday. It is also significant to note that in the letter, Ext. 6, it is not stated that the workmen attended the factory on 21st April 1962 and the evidence of O.P.W. 14 that no workman attended the factory on 21st April 1962 (Saturday) stands unrebutted. The Company addressed a letter to the Labour Commissioner, Government of West Bengal, on 1st May 1962 in which the circumstances under which the lock-out was declared had been specifically set-forth. The letter has been marked Ext. R. It is stated in this letter that the illegal strike resorted to by the workmen resulted in a lock-out being declared in the factory. It is also mentioned in the letter that the notice from the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation was received in the afternoon of the 20th April 1962, and it was circulated amongst the workmen immediately intimating them that Saturday would be an off day. The date regarding the receipt of the letter from the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation has been given as 20th April 1962 which is apparently not correct in view of the acknowledgment receipt, Ext. A-1. The fact that the notice about the proposed change in the weekly off day was circulated amongst the workmen on 20th April 1962 is mentioned in this letter, and the facts stated in this letter which led to and resulted in the lock-out being declared in the factory on 22nd April 1962 appears to be true in view of the facts and circumstances and the evidence adduced on this point.

It has been contended that the change in the weekly off day from Sunday to Saturday, without any notice under section 9A of the Industrial Disputes Act is illegal, and the workmen concerned were within their rights to ignore the notice which is said to have been circulated amongst them intimating them the change in the weekly off day in the factory. This contention does not appear to be well founded as, in my view, the change of weekly off day from Sunday to Saturday is not, strictly speaking, a change in the condition of service. Moreover, the State Government has power under section 9B of the Act to suspend operation of section 9A of the Act in appropriate cases when it thinks fit to do so. A notification was issued by the State Government in the Labour Department dated the 10th April 1962 by which no notice under section 9A was required to be served in respect of the matters specified in items Nos 4, 6 and 11 of the fourth schedule of the said Act for a period of 3 months from the date of publication of the notification in the "Calcutta Gazette" In view of this notification, the change in the weekly off day notified to the workmen appears to be quite legal It is clear from the evidence on record that the workmen on a common understanding struck work on Sunday, the 22nd April 1962, and they could not be persuaded to join their duties The management had thus no other alternative but to declare a lock-out in the factory on account of refusal by the workmen to work on Sunday which the Company was forced to do in view of the restrictions imposed on the use of electricity in the factory by the State Government. In the circumstances, the lock-out which was declared in the factory on 22nd April 1962 is quite justified. This issue is accordingly disposed of

This issue involves the question as to the bona fides of the closure of the factory with effect from 22nd June 1962 It is a common ground that the factory has been kept closed since the 22nd June 1962. According to the management, the lock-out was lifted with effect from 13th June 1962 in pursuance of an agreement between the management and the Employees' Association, and normal work was to start from 18th June 1962 Notifications were issued in local newspapers and the workers were asked to join in batches The workmen, however, did not turn up for work between 13th June 1962 and 18th June 1962 Some workmen attended the factory on 20th June 1962 and did some preparatory works for running the factory, but they were assaulted while they were returning home on 21st June 1962 having stayed in the factory on 20th June 1962 The Company waited in vain for the workers to turn up, and ultimately it decided to close the factory for good as it was found impossible to carry on the manufacturing business, and a notice of closure was also duly published in the local newspapers on 23rd June 1962. The alleged circumstances under which the closure of the factory was declared have been denied by the Union It is contended that the Company followed a policy of pick and choose and did not allow the workmen to join their duties although they were ready and willing to resume their duties, and the closure of the factory is not real and bona fide A preliminary objection has been raised on behalf of the Company that the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to entertain and decide issue No. 2 regarding the closure of the factory It is contended that as the factory has been closed, the industry is to be taken as dead in the eye of law, and no dispute could be raised by the workmen in respect of an industry which has ceased to function There cannot be any doubt that where the closure of an industry is real and bona fide, the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to entertain and adjudicate upon any dispute raised by its workmen. This view finds support in the decision of Pipraich Sugar Mills Ltd. vs. Pipraich Sugar Mills Mazdoor Union 1957-I L L J 235 The question of jurisdiction depends on the decision as to whether the closure is real and bona fide The contention of the Union is that the lock-out declared in the factory is still continuing, and as a matter of fact, the alleged closure of the factory is not real and bona fide If it is found that the closure of the factory is real and bona fide, then the Tribunal will have no jurisdiction to decide the issue regarding the closure of the factory If, on the other hand, it is found that there has been, in fact, no real closure of the factory, the Tribunal will be fully competent to record its findings on issue No 2, as framed in the order of reference It is, therefore, to be considered whether the closure of the factory was made under circumstances beyond the control of the management and whether the closure is real and bona fide. In view of the decision reported in 1962-II L L J. 227 there cannot be any dispute with the proposition of law that a closure of an undertaking means the closing down of the business itself, and not merely the place of business The circumstances under which the factory was closed have been set forth in paragraphs 17, 18, 19, 20 and 21 of the written statement filed by the Company. The case of the Union regarding the alleged closure of the factory has been set forth in paragraphs 17, 18, 19 and 20 of the written statement of the Union It is a common ground that by a notice dated the 12th June 1962 pasted on the factory gate the lock-out was lifted with effect from 13th June 1962 The notice has been marked Ext D By this notice all workmen were directed to join their duties on and from the 18th June 1962 except those against whom proceedings were pending, and whose names would be notified The lifting of the lock-out was also published in local newspapers, as appears from Exts. G, G-2 and G-3 There is no dispute that the lock-out was agreed to be lifted with effect from 13th June 1962 in pursuance to an agreement between the management and the workmen, and the real dispute is with regard to the terms and conditions under which the lock-out was agreed to be lifted. In paragraph 18 of the written statement of the Union it is stated that during the conciliation proceedings which followed the lock-out, the Company on 15th June 1962 agreed to lift the lock-out and allow all the workmen to resume their duties, but none on behalf of the Company turned up to sign the agreement on the next date

The Company in paragraph 17 of its written statement has stated that an agreement was reached between the Company and the Employees' Union on the 17th June 1962 in terms of which the Company lifted the lock-out and directed the workmen to join their duties in batches between the 13th and the 18th June 1962 except those whose names would be notified in the notice board It is further stated in paragraph 18 of the written statement that the terms of agreement were drafted by Shri N C Kundu, Deputy Labour Commissioner, in consultation with the representatives of the Sramik Union, and the Employees' Association, and also the representative of the management But the representative of the Employees' Union did not turn up to finalise the agreement in view of the fact that a previous agreement had been arrived at between the management and this Union on 12th June 1962. The Company has produced the terms of agreement which are said to have been reached between the management and both the Unions, and put into writing by Shri N C Kundu This has been marked Ext M The agreement which is said to have been reached between the management and Sur Iron & Steel Employees' Union has been produced and marked Ext. T. This agreement cannot be held as binding on the Union in the present dispute, as it was not a party to the agreement. The other agreement which is said to have been reached between the management and the Employees' Association, and the Sur Iron & Steel Sramik Union and which has been marked Ext. M, has been disputed. It is said that though there was an agreement between the Sramik Union and the Company, at the instance of the then Assistant Labour Commissioner, Shri N. C. Kundu, the terms of that agreement were not reduced to writing in Ext. M, as alleged by the Company. It is admitted on both hands that the lock-out was agreed to be lifted in pursuance of an agreement between the present Union and the Management, and it is pleaded that the terms embodied in the draft agreement, Ext. M, were not recorded at the time of the agreement. The question, therefore, resolves into this—whether the terms embodied in the draft agreement, Ext. M, were the terms which were agreed upon by the parties for the lifting of the lock-out. The evidence of Shri Chitta Bose, P.W. 11, is that in a meeting held on 15th June 1962 in the office of the then Assistant Labour Commissioner, Shri N. C. Kundu, the lock-out was agreed to be lifted on certain terms, and it was further agreed that the agreement would be signed by all the parties concerned on the next day. He has further stated that the Secretary of the Union Shri Sunil Gupta and he came to the office of Shri Kundu on the following day, but none came on behalf of the Company. He has further denied that any draft of the terms agreed upon by the parties was prepared though he has admitted all the terms in the draft agreement, Ext. M, except the terms contained in paragraph 3, were agreed upon by the parties. P W. 5 Shri Sunil Gupta, General Secretary of the Union, has admitted that an agreement between the Union and the Company was reached and a draft of the terms of agreement was made. In view of his evidence, there cannot be any doubt that the terms on which the lock-out was agreed to be lifted in pursuance of the agreement, were reduced to writing, and the evidence of P.W. 11 Shri Chitta Bose that no draft of the terms agreed upon by the parties was prepared does not appear to be true. As regards the draft agreement, Ext. M, it does not bear any date or any signature. It is, however, admitted by Chitta Bose, P.W. 11, that all the terms recorded in the draft agreement, Ext. M, except that in paragraph 3, were agreed upon for the lifting of the lock-out. O.P.W 8, Shri Ajit Kumar Saha, who is an Assistant in the office of the Labour Commissioner, has proved the draft agreement, Ext. M, to be in the handwriting of Shri N. C. Kundu. The draft agreement, Ext. M, appears to have been prepared by Shri N. C. Kundu, and there is no reason to hold that the terms contained in paragraph 3 of the agreement were put by Shri N. C. Kundu, though it was not agreed upon by the parties. This document, however, is not legally enforceable as a tripartite agreement as it was not signed by the parties concerned as token of acceptance of the terms contained therein. The fact, however, remains that the lock-out was lifted with effect from the 13th June 1962, and the notice dated 12th June 1962 regarding the lifting of the lock-out with effect from 13th June 1962 was published in the local newspapers (vide Exts. G, G-2 & G-3). By the notice, Ext. D, all the workmen were directed to join their duties on and from 18th June 1962 except those against whom proceedings were pending and whose names would be notified. The Company issued a notice dated 13th June 1962, and two notices on 15th June 1962, directing some workmen to join their duties on the dates mentioned in the notice. Two other notices were also issued on the 17th June 1962, and by the notice Ext. 11, eleven persons named in the notice were suspended with effect from 18th June 1962, and the notice, Ext 12, contained the names of 26 persons who were asked to tender apology before they would be allowed to resume their duties with effect from 18th June 1962. The issue of these two notices led to the whole trouble and the subsequent events that followed. It is now to be seen whether the management was compelled to close down the factory as a result of the circumstances beyond their control. In other words, whether it was not possible for the management to run the factory under the circumstances which were created following the lifting of the lock-out with effect from 13th June 1962.

The evidence of O P.W 14 Shri Priyadarshan Sur, one of the Directors of the Company, is that after the lock-out was lifted on 13th June 1962 no workman attended the factory up to the 19th June 1962. He has further stated as follows: "On 20th June 1962 about 40 workmen attended the factory and they worked under police protection. Some of the workmen, while returning home from work, were assaulted and had to be admitted in hospital. About 30 workers attended the factory on 21st June 1962, and they remained inside the factory during the night as there was some row outside the factory. None of the workmen turned up on 22nd June 1962. A meeting of the Directors was held on 22nd June 1962 and it was decided that the factory should be closed. The factory was actually closed from 22nd June 1962. A notice of closure was hung up on the gate of the factory, and copies of the same were sent to different authorities, and it was also published in some local newspapers". No cross-examination was directed on this part of his evidence. It is in evidence that a police case was started over an incident said to have taken place on 20th June 1962 in which some workmen figured as accused. That case is still pending. There cannot be any doubt that there was an occurrence on 20th June 1962. It is stated by O.P.W. 11 Shri Kshitish Chandra Biswas that no workman attended the factory prior to 20th June 1962 when 40 or 45 workmen attended the factory. It thus appears from the evidence of O.P.W. 14 and this witness that no workman turned up for work after the lock-out was lifted on 13th June 1962, and there was an incident on 20th June 1962 when some workmen were returning home after the day's work. As against this evidence, there is the evidence of P.W. 6 Shri Bhola Singh, who is an accused in the police case. His evidence is that after the lock-out was lifted, he and other workmen went to the factory gate every day, but they did not get any chance for work as the gate of the factory was kept closed till 19th June 1962 P W. 5 Shri Sunil Gupta, the General Secretary of the Union, has stated that he did not inform anyone that the workmen, although they were willing to join, were not allowed to join on 18th June 1962. If really the workmen were not allowed to join on 18th June 1962, it can reasonably be expected that this fact would be brought to the notice of the authorities by P.W. 5. The fact that no complaint was made to any quarter that the workmen were not allowed to join, lends support to the evidence of O.P.W. 14 that no workman attended the factory prior to 20th June 1962. It is further stated by P.W. 5 that the factory gate was closed on 20th June 1962 as the other workmen insisted that the order of suspension of some of the workers should be withdrawn. It is clear from his evidence that the management was not willing to allow some workmen who were placed under suspension, pending enquiry, to join their duties, and the workmen insisted that the suspension order should be withdrawn and all the workmen should be allowed to join, and over this issue a situation was created which led the management to declare a closure of the factory with effect from 22nd June 1962. If the workmen were aggrieved that some workmen had been wrongly suspended, that matter could have been taken up before the proper authority for his decision, but that could not be made a ground by the workmen for not joining their duties unless the order of suspension of some of the workmen was withdrawn. The stand taken up by the workmen was not proper, and it amounted to a threat held out to the management. As the lock-out was lifted in pursuance of negotiations, there was nothing to prevent the workmen from joining their duties, and it was not open to them to take up the case of some of the suspended workmen and make it a ground for not joining their duties. As the workmen were bent upon the withdrawal of the suspension order on some of the workmen, and an incident took place on 20th June 1962, the management had no other alternative but to declare a closure of the factory in order to prevent something worse happening. In this view of the matter, it must be held that the management was forced to declare a closure of the factory under circumstances beyond their control, and the closure is, accordingly justified.

The next point that arises for consideration is whether the closure is real and bona fide, or that the lock-out is continuing in the garb of a closure, as suggested on behalf of the Union. The evidence of O.P.W. 14 is that the Company is not carrying on any manufacturing business since the closure of the Company's factory on 22nd June 1962. This fact has not been challenged in cross-examination, and it is also not the case of the Union that the Company is manufacturing articles which it used to manufacture at its factory before the closure of the Factory. P.W. 5 Shri Sunil Gupta, has admitted that the Company is not manufacturing articles which it used to manufacture at its factory previously. It has been urged on behalf of the Union that the Company is even now supplying various articles, including stone crushers, and fire fighting equipments, which it used to manufacture at its factory before its closure, to its customers by manufacturing those articles in some other factories at different places which are under the control and management of the Company. It is not disputed that the Company is still supplying manufactured articles which it used to supply to its different customers before the factory was closed. It is stated by O.P.W. 14 that the Company is still supplying various articles which were previously manufactured by it, to Messrs. William Jacks & Co. Ltd. and Indian Oxygen Ltd. by getting those articles manufactured from other factories, viz., Sur Enamel and Stamping Works Ltd., Lilooah Engineering, Engineering Agencies and other concerns. He has further stated that the Company also gets spare parts manufactured from various factories, but has denied that these Companies have got connection with Sur Iron & Steel (P) Company Limited, or that they are financed by the Company, or by the Directors personally. The evidence of O.P.W. 9, who is in-charge of the factory of Sur Enamel & Stamping Works at 21 Seal Lane, is that jobs for Sur Iron & Steel Company (P) Ltd. are being done in their factory. He has admitted that parts of stone crushers for Sur Iron & Steel Co. (P) Ltd. are manufactured at their factory. But he has denied the fact that the Company has been manufacturing parts of stone crushers in their factory. Evidence has been led by the Union to prove that the Company has been manufacturing some articles, which it used to manufacture in its factory, at different places. The evidence of P.W. 5 is that the Company has set up factories, one at 378 G. T. Road, Belur, Howrah, and another at 3/1 Chanditolla, Behala, and has been manufacturing articles in these two factories. He has further stated that the Company has been manufacturing welding transformer coils at 37 Ananda Palit Road, and also at Seal Lane, and he has got personal knowledge about it. P.W. 6 Shri Bhola Singh has also stated that the Company has been manufacturing stone crushers and welding machines at Behala and Belur. He has further admitted in cross-examination that he stated that the articles are manufactured by the Company at other places by looking at the signs on the articles. It is in evidence that the articles manufactured by the Company previous to the closure of the factory bore the trade marks "SISCO" and "SURARC", and it is quite possible that the articles which the Company is supplying to its customers by getting them manufactured from other places will bear the same trade marks. The particular trade marks appearing on the articles which are now being supplied by the Company to its different customers does not go to show that these articles are manufactured by the Company. It has been urged that the Company obtained import license in 1963 for importing copper, and this fact clearly indicates that the Company is manufacturing articles which they are now supplying to their customers at other places. O.P.W. 14 has admitted that in 1963 one license for importing copper was obtained by the Company and it was an actual users license. His evidence at best goes to show that a license for importing copper was obtained by the Company. But it is not clear when this application for license was made, nor when the goods imported were actually received by the Company. The Company might have utilised the materials imported against the permit issued to it in the manufacture of articles which it is still now supplying to its customers. If this is a contravention of the Import Control Order, the Company can be held liable for breach of any provision of that order. There is however no satisfactory and sufficient evidence to show that the Company is manufacturing some articles which it used to manufacture previous to the closure of the factory, in different factories which have been set up by them. The Union could have produced documentary evidence to show that the factories at 378 G. T. Road, Belur, Howrah, and 3/1 Chanditolla, Behala, are owned by the Company. But nothing has been done to prove that. It cannot, therefore, be held, on the evidence on record, that the closure of the factory of the Company is not real or bona fide.

I accordingly hold on the materials on record that the closure of Messrs. Sur Iron & Steel Company Private Limited was on account of unavoidable circumstances beyond the control of the management, and the closure was a bona fide one and for valid reasons. I am not prepared to believe that the closure was mala fide and the Company closed down its manufacturing business with a view to crush the Union and to victimise its workers. Evidence that has been adduced on behalf of the Union is not sufficient enough to come to such a finding. The onus is on the Union to prove this by proper evidence. But the evidence as adduced on behalf of the Union cannot be regarded as sufficient and satisfactory.

In view of my finding that the closure of the factory is bona fide and real, the preliminary objection raised on behalf of the management that this Tribunal has no jurisdiction to adjudicate upon the issues referred to in the order of reference inasmuch as the dispute in such a case is not an industrial dispute must prevail. It is well settled that where a business has been closed, and it is found that the closure is real and bona fide, any dispute arising with reference thereto will fall outside the perview of the Industrial Disputes Act. In the present case the alleged dispute that has been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication arose when the industry was closed and not in existence or, in other words, when it was a dead industry. This view finds support in the decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Pipraich Sugar Mills Ltd. vs. Pipraich Sugar Mills Mazdoor Union (Reported in 1957 Vol. I, L.L.J. 235). It must therefore be held, in view of this decision, that the present dispute is not an industrial dispute as contemplated under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947.

Issue No. 3

In view of my findings above on issue No. 2, the workmen are entitled to compensation in accordance with the provisions under section 25FFF of the Act, as the business was closed due to unavoidable circumstances beyond the control of the employers. This is my award.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Hindusthan Lever Ltd., 63 Garden Reach Road, Calcutta-24, and their workmen represented by the Thika Nagda Majdoor Sabha, J535, Paharpur Road, Calcutta-24. Government Order No. 878-I.R., dated 6th March 1963.) (VIII. 36/63).

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Shri C. Basu and Shri S. Roy Chowdhury.

For Thika Nagda Mazdoor Sabha and for Lever Mazdoor Sabha: Shri N. Das Gupta.

For Hindusthan Lever Mazdoor Sabha: Shri A. C. Majumder.

For Extra Casual Labour Pool: Shri S. B. Kar.

By the Labour Department Order No. 878-I.R./IR/11L-158/62, dated 6th March 1963, the Government of West Bengal has sent this reference to this Tribunal for adjudication. The present dispute is between Messrs. Hindusthan Lever Ltd. (hereinafter described as the Company), 63 Garden Reach Road, Calcutta-24, and their workmen represented by the Thika Nagda Mazdoor Sabha (hereinafter described as Thika Mazdoor Sabha), J535 Paharpur Road, Calcutta-24. The issues framed for adjudication are as follows:

1. Is the Company justified in maintaining the labour pool for casual workmen? If so, what should be extent of the labour force of the pool?
2. To what relief, if any, are the casual workmen of the labour pool entitled for the days of non-employment?

After due notices both the parties appeared and submitted written statements. During the pendency of the proceedings some other Unions, namely, Hindusthan Lever Mazdoor Sabha (hereinafter described as the Sabha), and Lever Mazdoor Sabha (hereinafter referred to as Lever Sabha), applied for being added to this proceeding on the allegation that they were the proper parties to represent the workmen concerned in this case. Three other persons, viz., Abass, Golam Rabbani and Idris, were allowed to be added as party and be heard representing the casual labourers of the labour pool. All the parties filed their written statements in support of their cases.

In short, the case of the Thika Mazdoor Sabha is that the Company is a very flourishing one. Although the Sabha is an all-India organisation of the workmen of the Company, its influence upon the workmen has now waned miserably and a number of rival Trade Unions have been organised in different centres of the Company. In the Garden Reach Factory with which we are concerned, there is a rival Union, namely, Lever Sabha. The Sabha, however, is recognised by the Company. In 1959 a settlement was recorded between the Sabha and the Company and, according to that agreement, 101 workers would be recruited to the permanent staff of the factory out of the casual labour force and in addition a pool of casual workers would be formed consisting of 200 persons. According to the agreement the members of this pool would be given casual work at the factory except in the cases of emergency, according to the principles of rotation and as far as possible work would be equally distributed amongst them. The grievance of the Thika Mazdoor Sabha is that the Company has not honoured the agreement and unlawfully and improperly set up the second casual pool consisting of several other casual labourers and that the Company is allotting works to these casual labourers of second pool without giving any preference to those of the first pool. The action of the Company has been characterised as unjust. The allegation of the Thika Mazdoor Sabha is that the Company is not giving continuous work exclusively to the men of the first labour pool so that they may not be able to get works for 240 days or more in a year to claim certain special benefits and permanency. In order to avoid these claims of the members of the first labour pool the Company is giving works to the labourers of the second pool quite malaciously. This Union wants to say that there is no justification for starting this second labour pool and for maintaining the first labour pool also on the ground that by this time the Company should have absorbed all the members of the original labour pool in its permanent cadre along with the increase of work and production of the Company. Had those men been supplied with sufficient work according to the agreement, they would have been made permanent by this time. In the prayer portion of the written statement the Thika Mazdoor Sabha has prayed for a direction upon the Company to abolish the first labour pool by absorption of all its members in its permanent labour strength, for making full payment of wages to these workmen of the first labour pool for the period of non-employment starting with the 1st of April 1960 and for such other benefits, namely, leave, annual increment, bonus, Provident Fund, etc.

The case of the Sabha, in short, is that it is the recognised Union of the Company and, therefore, the claim of any other Union should not be paid heed to. This Union is always safeguarding the interest of the employees of the Company. This Union fought with the Company and in the end on account of its endeavour 101 casual workers were made permanent and the original labour pool consisting of 200 workmen was formed with effect from 1st April 1960. There were subsequently several joint consultations between the Sabha and the Company, and owing to the need of more casual workers required by the Company an extra pool for casual labourers was formed subsequently. The members of the second pool or extra pool were selected after due test on merits. According to the Sabha, the Thika Mazdoor Sabha has no right to appear in this proceeding and it has also submitted that the present dispute is not an industrial dispute. It has also been stated that Shri Narayan Das Gupta has started the agitation through the Thika Mazdoor Sabha illegally and by abuse of processes. The actions of Shri Das Gupta, according to the Sabha as submitted during the argument, were characterised as unwholesome and despotic. On the whole, the case of the Sabha is that the creation of the second labour pool was justified and the maintenance of the labour pool for casual workers has been supported. It has been stated, however, that the procedure as to how the pools of the labourers should be utilised should be left to be determined by the joint consultation between the Sabha and the Company. The Sabha wants that the case of Shri Das Gupta on behalf of the Thika Mazdoor Sabha should be rejected.

The Lever Sabha has filed the written statement through Shri Das Gupta who is its President. It rather supports the statements of the case of Thika Mazdoor Sabha. Its case is that after agitation by the workmen the Company absorbed 101 casual labourers in its permanent strength and created a labour pool of selected 200 workmen, and the Company undertook to employ labourers from this pool alone for casual recruitment. It has been stated by the Lever Sabha that according to the terms and conditions of the service the members of this labour pool were alone to be employed so long as work was available. The Company, however, violated these terms and it did not employ all the members of the labour pool systemetically and, as a result thereof, they remained idle at times. This union has prayed for full wages and other benefits to those members of the labour pool who were kept idle by the Company up to this time. It has also claimed that the strength of the labour pool which were originally created by the company should be limited to 140 members.

The three persons representing the extra casual labour pool also filed a written statement through their lawyer Shri S. B. Kar. These persons, as stated by them, represent a group of workmen employed as casual labourers. A labour pool was started with 200 workers with effect from 1st April 1960 to ensure regular work and facilitate recruitment and selection of casuals. Subsequently, there was increase in production and absenteeism along with the reduction in the strength of the original labour pool. The Company was, therefore, compelled to employ casual labourers from outside the pool to meet its needs. Consequently, to meet those needs the company formed another labour pool commonly known as "extra casual pool" according to the merits. These representatives have challenged the status of the Thika Mazdoor Sabha to represent the casual labourers. The members of the extra casual labour pool should not be deprived of their means of livelihood and opportunity for employment. They have got the same right and previleges as enjoyed by the members of the original labour pool. All the casual labourers should be treated alike. The representatives have stated that in view of the increase in the demand of the Company's casual labour requirement, both the pools would be amalgamated and enlarged into a bigger one to ensure fair opportunity to all the members of the pools. It is claimed that the present labour pool should not be abolished and that the members of the extra casual labour pool should be equally provided with employment.

The Company's case is that the employees of the Company are not concerned with the dispute and that the union supporting the cause of the casual labourers is not a Union of the Company's workmen. The present dispute, according to the Company, is not an industrial dispute. The Company has denied the material allegations made by the Thika Mazdoor Sabha. It is admitted that over the demands made by the Sabha, the recognised Union of the Company, a discussion took place between the parties and ultimately an agreement was arrived at on 5th October 1959. It is also admitted that 101 casual labourers were made permanent and at the same time in order to ensure regular work and facilitate recruitment and selection of casuals a pool of casual workers was formed and made effective from 1st April 1960. Later on, there was temporary increase in production and absenteeism, and the Company's casual labour requirement exceeded 200 and the Company was compelled to employ casuals outside the pool according to its need. A second pool was therefore formed out of casuals who had been working with the Company off and on. With the existence of two pools the Company thought it necessary and fair to distribute employment and opportunity to members of both the pools. The Company did not recognise the Thika Mazdoor Sabha. The Company has denied that sufficient work was available to keep all members of the casual pool employed without any break. The Company also submits that it is not incumbent on the Company to keep any person in employment merely to enable him to claim any especial previlege. The Company has denied that it has any selfish motive or that the casual workers suffer irreparable loss. The submission of the Company, in short, is that the claim of Thika Mazdoor Sabha should be turned down, that no case had been made out to prove industrial dispute and that the casual labourers can get no relief in this case.

Shri Kar, the learned lawyer appearing for the alleged representatives, three in number, on behalf of the extra casual labourers, has submitted that the second pool of casual labourers was necessary and that its formation was justified. On this ground it has been submitted that the extra casual pool should be maintained, otherwise, the members thereof would be left unemployed. On behalf of the Sabha Shri Majumder, learned Advocate attacked Shri Narayan Das Gupta appearing on behalf of Thika Mazdoor Sabha and Lever Sabha on the allegations that he is a self-made leader and has formed, for nothing, his own organisation without any support from the workmen of the Company. It is not necessary to give any detail about the allegations made against Shri Das Gupta but suffice it to say that there is no material evidence before me in support of these allegations. The fact is that Shri Das Gupta has been able to lead Thika Mazdoor Sabha and Lever Sabha and he may be the most outstanding figure in the said two Unions. This does not, however, mean that the two Unions have no existence of their own or that they were improperly constituted. The constitutions of the unions are before me. There is nothing to attack him.

I should, however, consider the relevant allegations raised before me for proper and fair decision. It has been first contended that the Thika Mazdoor Sabha does not represent the casual labourers of the Company. P.W. 1 is the Secretary of the Thika Mazdoor Sabha and the Lever Sabha. P.W. 2, the Vice-President of the Sabha, produced a petition marked Ext. 19. This is the petition signed by a large number of persons alleged to be casual workers stating that they belong to the two labour pools and that they do not belong to the Thika Nagda Mazdoor Sabha. P.W. 2 has stated that some members of the extra casual pool and the casual pool handed over this petition but he does not know the names. Similarly he has stated that he does not know the names of other workers who handed over to him another petition marked Ext. 19(a). Similarly he mentioned Ext. 19(b). I place no importance to the petitions. I cannot say that they are genuine petitions. P.W. 2 though appears on behalf of the Sabha in this case, it appears from his evidence that he had occasions to attend the joint conference between the Union and the Company and on some occasions at least he represented the Company in a joint conference. It is no wonder to suggest that this witness is interested in the affairs of the Company and he has inclination towards it. He cannot identify the signatures and thumb impressions appearing in Exts. 19, 19(a) and 19(b). It is to be noted in this connection that no witness has been examined on behalf of the alleged representatives of the extra casual labourers. None of the said representatives have been examined. There is no evidence to prove that the three persons appearing in this case as the representatives of the extra casual labourers are really representatives of those persons. No labourer has come forward to say that the Thika Mazdoor Sabha does not represent the casual labourers. Exhibit 11 is the letter, dated 15th November 1960, written by the President, Thika Mazdoor Sabha, to the Manager of the Company. It says that the casual workmen, particularly of the first labour pool, were members of the Thika Mazdoor Sabha. I am, however, satisfied in the present case that the Thika Mazdoor Sabha has as its members a substantial portion of the labour force employed by the Company as casual labourers and as competent to represent them in these proceedings. In this connection Ext. 18 series may be considered. I do not find any material worth the name to prove that the three persons appearing in this case as representatives has any locus standi to represent the casual labourers of the Company.

The next question that was raised before me was whether Lever Sabha has any interest in the present dispute or whether they have any locus standi to represent the workmen of the Company. Exhibit 22 is the letter written by the Company to the President of the Lever Sabha. In this letter it has been stated that the Lever Sabha claimed to have 771 members on its roll and would like to be recognised by the Company. In this letter the Company does not challenge the statement that the Lever Sabha had as many as 771 workmen of the Company as members. The Company, however, intended to move the Government to ascertain the relevant membership of the two Unions over the question of recognition. The Vice-President of the Sabha though examined in this case, does not assert during the evidence that the Lever Sabha does not posses as member any workman of the Company. From the facts and circumstances I have no manner of doubt that Lever Sabha has on its roll an appreciable number of workmen of the Company as members. However, I allowed several parties to be added in this proceeding so that all sections of the workmen may be represented before me and may have sufficient opportunities to place their grievance. I added those parties for coming to a fair and just decision. I find, therefore, as indicated above, that the Lever Sabha is entitled to raise an industrial dispute regarding the workmen of the Company.

The next point urged before me is an important one. It has been submitted from the side of the Company and the Sabha that the present dispute being related to the casual workers, there cannot be an industrial dispute in this proceeding because casual labourers are not "workman" according to the provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act and they cannot raise any industrial dispute.

There are two branches of argument. The first is that the casual workers are not workmen according to the definition of the Industrial Disputes Act and therefore the present reference relating to the grievances of the casual labourers cannot be an industrial dispute. The second branch of argument is that the Thika Mazdoor Sabha being a Union of casual labourers has no locus standi to raise or support the present dispute. I shall first deal with the first line of argument. In this connection the decision of the Kerala High Court reported in the West Bengal Labour Gazette of May 1962 at page 485 may be considered as very helpful. The case was between the Travancore Rubber Works Employees' Union and Industrial Tribunal, Trivandrum, and others. In this case the question arose whether the casual employees would be considered to be workmen. Several decisions of the Supreme Court were considered. In the case before me, admittedly, there is a dispute over casual labourers engaged by the Company from time to time. This dispute is between the employers and the casual labourers occasionally employed by the Company as workmen. The dispute is again amongst several unions connected with the Company. The evidence also shows that the dispute or difference is connected with employment and non-employment of some casual labourers registered in a pool who are occasionally employed by the Company in casual vacancies. I am satisfied that the dispute relates to the condition of labour of a person connected with the works of the Company. The above facts are essential to constitute an industrial dispute. The admitted facts in this case are that the company daily recruits a large number of casual labourers in casual vacancies and naturally in the daily routine of works of the Company a large number of casual labourers are engaged as workmen. If, therefore, any dispute is raised regarding the employment or non-employment of the casual labourers working as workmen or regarding their service conditions, certainly that dispute become an industrial dispute, and the matter may be supported by the workmen. There is community of interest amongst the workers. In this view of the matter, I think, the present dispute over the recruitment of the casual labourers must be deemed to be an industrial dispute.

The next question is whether the Thika Mazdoor Sabha can represent the casual labourers in this case. I have already indicated that a large number of casual laoburers work as workmen under the Company every day and it may be that they work in the casual vacancies but they should be regarded as workmen so long as they are employed by the Company even temporarily. The evidence shows that the Thika Mazdoor Sabha has as its members an appreciable number of such casual workers. When the Government has referred the dispute to this Tribunal, several Unions having substantial number of workmen, if any, may be entitled to be added in this proceeding either to support or to oppose any claim of the workmen. In the present case the Lever Sabha having appreciable number of workmen has supported, practically speaking, the claims of Thika Mazdoor Sabha. Of course, the Sabha and the Company are opposed to the claim of these two Unions. For fair and just decision it is necessary that all the parties appearing before me should be heard and I have heard them. I think, therefore, that the Thika Mazdoor Sabha and the Lever Sabha have right to be heard in support of their contentions and they are entitled to support their own claims.

The Thika Mazdoor Sabha and the Lever Sabha submit that the Company, according to the agreement between the workmen and itself, created a labour pool in 1960, and the said pool is commonly known as "casual labour pool." The second pool is known as "extra casual labour pool." It is contended that, according to the agreement and promise made by the Company, it was to provide casual employment to the members of the casual labour pool in rotation so long as members of the said pool are available and that if no labour force is available from the casual labour pool, in that case alone the Company is to recruit casual labourers from outside the casual labour pool. The grievance of these two Unions is that the Company knows that if the members of the casual labour pool are alone recruited according to the agreement, they will get work for 240 days and over in a year and they will thus acquire certain privileges. In order to deprive them of such privileges, viz., permanency, Proficient Fund, etc., the company set up in collusion with the Sabha another pool, viz., extra casual labour pool and it favours the said pool by recruiting labourers from it. On account of the recruitment from the extra casual labour pool, the members of the casual labour pool are not getting sufficient work to complete 240 days in a year and they are sitting idle thereby. It is submitted that on account of these mala fide tactics of the Company the members of the casual labour pool have been prevented from earning throughout the year and, as a result thereof, they are suffering financial loss. It has also been urged that on account of the conduct of the Company they have been deprived of the privileges which they could have got, had they been allowed to work for 240 days in a year. The claims of the Thika Mazdoor Sabha and the Lever Sabha are that the members of the casual labour pool should be permanent, that they should be given compensation in the form of back wages for the days of non-employment since the date of creation of the pool and that the Company should be directed to recruit the members of the casual labour pool alone to fill up the casual vacancies and not to recruit any other labourers outside, not from the extra casual labour pool even. The Company, the Sabha and Shri Kar on behalf of the other three casual labourers appearing in this case have opposed the contention raised from the side of the Thika Mazdoor Sabha and the Lever Sabha. Their cases had been already stated earlier. In short, it has been submitted that with the increase of production and casual vacancies, the Company after the creation of casual labour pool thought it necessary to create an extra casual labour pool to meet the requirement of the Company, and the members of the extra casual labour pool were recruited according to the merits and in the same way as was done in the case of casual labour pool. For the best interest of the casual labourers as a whole and particularly of others, who were not enlisted for the casual labour pool, extra casual labour pool was created so that all casual labourers would be fairly treated with equality to give them similar opportunity. It has been submitted in this connection that the management is entitled to exercise its discretion in the matter of recruitment of casual workmen for its best efficiency and that the Company should not be directed by the workmen as to how recruitment should be made. It is also submitted that the original casual labour pool was started by the Company in consultation with the Sabha, the recognised representative of the workmen and similarly extra casual labour pool was created in consultation with that very Sabha, the representative of the labour force of the Company, and that there cannot be any grievance on the part of the workmen in this respect.

Shri Narayan Das Gupta for the Thika Mazdoor Sabha and the Lever Mazdoor Sabha has relied upon Ext. M, the memorandum of agreement, dated 5th October 1959, in support of his contention. This agreement was entered into between the Company and the Sabha on behalf of the workmen. Term No. 13 of the agreement, at page 3 of Ext. M, relates to casual labour. Under this head it is stated that persons employed on casual basis on jobs of a permanent nature should be taken at permanent pay roll of the Company as per Item No. 10 of the Annexure to the agreement. Item No. 10 of the Annexure speaks about the permanency of 101 persons out of the total number of casual workmen. The decision as to the selection of the permanent heads was left to the hands of the Factory Manager after consulting the Sabha's representatives. Item No. 13 of the agreement refers to the resolution under cover of Sabha's letters, dated 5th December 1958 and 7th February 1958.

Along with the agreement, Ext. M, two other documents, namely, Exts. K and L, the minutes of the joint conference between the Sabha and the Company in connection with casual labourers should be considered. Besides, these documents, there are other minutes of joint conferences between the Sabha and the Company, some of them are Exts. A, B, C and G. Shri Narayan Das Gupta has also relied upon the decision of the Company regarding the recruitment for casual labour pool referred to in paragraph 8 of the written statement filed by Thika Mazdoor Sabha. It is clear from the evidence that the Sabha representing the workmen negotiated with the Company regarding the recruitment of casual workmen and the Company started the casual labour pool for the interest of both the Company and the casual labourers. It was originally decided that the first casual labour pool would consist 200 persons and casual workers would be recruited from the said pool, strictly in rotation and as far as possible work would be distributed to the members of the pool equally during a year. It was also decided that no other individual would obtain casual work in the factory except in the case of emergency. There was no term that the Company would be compelled to make the members of the pool permanent. There was no stipulation that during the period of non-employment of the members of the casual pool any allowance or remuneration would be paid by the Company. The evidence further shows that subsequently there was increase in the number of absentees and requirement of casual labourers. In the meantime, of course, the Thika Mazdoor Sabha or some other Union came into existence and did not agree with the decision of the Sabha which has been all along remaining the recognised Union. There is no evidence also that the Sabha is not the representative body of the majority workers of the Company. It is clear from the facts of the case that the company occasionally consulting the Sabha as the representative of the workmen before coming to any decision regarding the labour policy or changing or amending the previous decision. In the present case in order to meet the requirement of the Company, the Company decided to start another labour pool, viz., extra casual labour pool, after consultation with the Sabha. The creation of the second pool afforded opportunity to other casual labourers who were not included in the first labour pool. The decision of the Company in this respect was supported by the Sabha. It is true that by the creation of the second labour pool the work of the members of the first labour pool has been affected. But the question is whether the creation of the second labour pool is unreasonable or unjustified. The Company at first created the original labour pool after consultation with the Sabha. Again extra casual labour pool has been created and the same has also been approved by the same Sabha. In these circumstances, it cannot be stated that the Company acted illegally. The agreement had been amended so to say and the parties were the same in the matter of the amendment. The next question is whether the creation of the second pool is malacious or unjustified. It appears that there was an increase in the demand of casual labourers and the strength of the first labour pool also decreased to some extent for several reasons. It is stated that at present the strength is 140. But there is no convincing material before me to ascertain the actual strength of first labour pool. By the creation of the extra casual labour pool, besides the members of the casual pool, some others who were excluded from the first labour pool have been given opportunity to earn some livelihood. Of course, on account of this, the monopoly of the first labour pool has gone but this is not unfair. We are concerned with the best interest of the major portions of the labour force. Moreover, the extra casual labour pool has been created with the consent of the Sabha, the recognised Union at the instance of which the first labour pool was created. The very body which desired for the creation of the labour pool now wants the extra casual labour pool and the decision has been made accordingly, and it is no doubt for the better interest of a large number of labour force. I do not find anything which may suggest that the creation of the extra casual labour pool is bad or malacious.

It has been urged by Shri Das Gupta that the decisions referred to in paragraph 8 of the written statement of the Thika Mazdoor Sabha are the terms and conditions of service. I am sorry, I cannot accept this contention. The terms of creation of a pool for casual labourers cannot be called terms of service or service conditions because the casual labourers enlisted in a register for badli or casual employment in future does not mean that those persons are appointed in the service of the Company as workmen. In this connection the decision of the Labour Appellate Tribunal of India in the case of Nellimarla Jute Mills Company Ltd. and another vs. Their workmen may be referred to. This case has been reported in 1953, L.L.J. Vol. II, p. 512. Similarly, the principles laid down by the Punjab High Court in the case of Sukhjit Starch & Chemicals Ltd. vs. The State of Punjab and others reported in 1962, L.L.J. Vol. II, at page 269, are very helpful. The casual labourers registered in the labour pool cannot be called workmen simply because their names have been registered for future employment if occasion arises. They may be workmen when actually employed. These men are workmen during the period they are employed. When they remain idle, they cannot be called workmen employed in the service of the Company, and they cannot get any advantage of the service. In the present case the casual labourers are not seasonal worker. They are not bound to work for the Company whenever they are called upon. They may or may not accept employment when it is offered to them by the Company. Similarly there is no term in any agreement that the Company will be bound to make payment to any of the casual labourer during the period of non-employment. Members of the Labour Pool are simply casual labourers and nothing else. The terms regarding the labour pool cannot be called service conditions as I have already indicated. The Company, in the present case, is distributing work to the casual labourers of both the pools and this action of the Company is being approved by the Sabha, the recognised Union of the workmen. This conduct of the Company or the Sabha does not appear to be unreasonable. The Company in the present case is not bound to supply work to any casual labourer for 240 days or more in a year so that he can claim any special privilege. The casual labourers cannot also demand such privileges in the present case. On consideration of the facts of this case, I therefore hold that the Company is justified in maintaining two labour pools and the extent of the labour pool cannot be fixed by this Tribunal. It will all depend upon the demands for the casual workers to be employed by the Company. It appears that the Company had been consulting with the Sabha before taking any serious step. However, it is expected that the Company will always consider the demand of the workmen either coming through the Sabha or other organisation. Of course, I am making it clear, I am not saying that the Company should withdraw the recognition of the Sabha or recognise some other organisation. It will also again depend on the voice of the labour force, and the Company will act with wise discretion. It appears that the Company has a mind to maintain a single labour pool including the members of the both the pools. This appears to be a reasonable scheme for in that case the Company will find it easier to afford equal opportunity to all the members of the pool in rotation. However, this is a matter to be decided by the Company according to the exigencies. The claim for making the members of the first labour pool permanent in the service of the Company is unacceptable. In this connection the decision reported in 1962, L.L.J. Vol. II, at page 269 is on the point. The decision of the Labour Appellate Tribunal of India in the case of Muir Mills Co. Ltd. vs. Ramlal and another reported in 1956, L.L.J. Vol. II, page 535 is also to be considered. However, the casual labourers are not workmen and the question of permanency does not arise. On the question of back wages, I must say that the casual labourers cannot get any such relief. There was no term or condition for making payment to them during the period of non-employment and moreover the Company acted in good faith to recruit other casual labourers besides those of the original pool. The question of payment of any compensation or wages does not, therefore, arise regarding the persons unemployed. The actual labourers before me are not seasonal workmen who are paid retaining allowances. Being casual labourers they cannot also claim any monetary relief for the period of non-employment. In support of this contention the case of Nellimarla Jute Mills Company Ltd. already mentioned may be referred to.

In view of my findings above with regard to Issue No. I, I hold that the Company is justified in maintaining the labour pools for casual labourers but the extent of the labour force of the pools should not be rigidly fixed. It will all depend upon the circumstances and requirements. On the Issue No. 2 my decision is that the casual workmen of the labour pool are not entitled to any relief for the days of non-employment. In this connection I should note that there is no evidence before me as to the exact period of non-employment of any of the casual workers. As indicated earlier, I have considered the demands of the casual labourers coming through the Thika Mazdoor Sabha and the Lever Sabha and I find that none of the reliefs claimed can be given to any casual labourer or any casual workman employed by the Company.

The present reference is thus disposed of by this award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. K. P. Das & Co. (P) Ltd., 163 Netaji Subhas Road, Howrah, and their workmen represented by Howrah District Engineering & Metal Workers Union, 4 Panchkori Mohanto Lane, Salkia, Howrah (G.O. No. 1008-I.R., dated 8th March 1963) (VIII-43/63).

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

This reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act arises out of Labour Department order No. 1008-I.R./IR/10L-58/63, dated 8th March 1963 of the Government of West Bengal. The dispute lies between Messrs. K. P. Das & Co. (P) Ltd., 163 Netaji Subhas Road, Howrah, and their workmen represented by Howrah District Engineering & Metal Workers' Union, 4 Panchkori Mohanto Lane, Salkia, Howrah. The issues framed are as follows:

(1) Puja bonus for the year 1961 payable in 1962.

(2) Whether the dismissal of Sarbasri Tarapada Patra and Feluram Patra is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

Both the parties appeared in this case and submitted their written statements. The case reached the stage of hearing and, in fact, the union led some evidence. Earlier a petition of compromise was filed by the parties regarding the Issue No. 1. It was left for consideration at the time of hearing. Ultimately, however, after several attempts a second compromise petition was finally submitted yesterday. It was signed by the President and the Secretary for the union and the Works Manager on behalf of the company. A petition was filed alleged to have been signed by several workmen for adding the workmen as party to this proceeding. I considered the petitions of compromise and the petition filed yesterday and passed orders rejecting the said petition and accepting the two petitions of compromise. The earlier petition of compromise was filed on 16th November 1963, and the final petition of compromise was filed on 24th June 1964. I heard all the parties and accepted the petitions of compromise. The first petition of compromise, dated 16th November 1963, relates to Issue No. 1 and the petition, dated 24th June 1964, is in respect of Issue No. 2. I have accepted those two petitions as voluntary, reasonable and legal and it was prayed that an award may be passed in terms of those petitions of compromise. In the result, the present case is disposed of by this award on the terms of settlement referred to in the petitions of compromise. The petition of compromise filed on 16th November 1963, the memorandum of settlement attached to the said petition, and the petition of compromise filed on 24th June 1964 do form parts of this award as Annexures "A", "A(1)" and "B", respectively.

Dictated and corrected by me.

R. BHATTACHARYA, Judge.

Candidates in Government service should make sure before depositing fee that their applications will be forwarded by their superior officers. In no case will the fee paid with the application be refunded.

Note.—A member of the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe claiming age concession must furnish with his application a certificate in original from a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature belonging to the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe, specifying the particular caste or tribe to which he claims to belong.

Report of the Joint Committee

The Joint Committee to which the Bill to provide for the better control and sanitation of mining settlements in West Bengal, cited as the West Bengal Mining Settlements (Health and Welfare) Bill, 1962* was referred, have considered the Bill and I now submit their Report with the Bill, as amended by the Committee, annexed hereto.

2. The Joint Committee held six meetings in all

3. The Committee considered the Bill clause by clause and their observations with regard to the principal changes proposed in the Bill are detailed in the succeeding paragraph.

4. (a) Short Title and Enacting Formula.—The year of enactment has been changed.

(b) Clause 7.—The Committee considered this clause very carefully and decided to change the constitution of the Board and also to set forth the terms of office of its members. In the place of the minimum of eleven members and the maximum of fifteen members to constitute the Board, the Committee increased the membership to sixteen being the minimum number and seventeen being the maximum number. The representation of different interests has undergone consequential changes. A term of four years has been laid down for all elected and appointed members. The State Government has been empowered to extend this term for a period not exceeding one year, if such extension is considered necessary.

(c) Clause 9.—Provision has been made for filling up casual vacancies in the offices of the Chairman, the Vice-Chairman and the members of the Board and for fixing the term of office of persons filling up such vacancies.

(d) Clause 26.—The expenditure on medical assistance of the employees of the Board has been made to be a legal purpose for application of the fund of the Board.

(e) Clause 34.—Provisions have been made (1) for the grant of leave of the members, the Chairman and the Vice-Chairman of the Board and (2) for laying rules to be made under the Act before the State Legislature and for their modification by the Legislature.

(f) Clause 44.—The appointment of the District Magistrate to carry out any directions of the State Government on the failure of the Board in complying with such directions has been changed to that of an officer not below the rank of a District Magistrate.

5 Other changes minor, verbal or consequential, have been made in the body of the Bill and these have been shown in their respective places.

6. The Committee do not consider the republication of the Bill to be necessary.

7. The Committee recommend that the Bill, as now amended, be passed.

Chairman, Joint Committee.

Minutes of Dissent

The Bill, in so far as it goes, does not leave much scope for improvement except in details here and there.

But, unfortunately, it does not go far enough to serve the fast expanding needs of the constituents.

The Committee, more or less tied to the principles of the Bill as it came out of the two Houses at this stage, could not help itself much in widening its scope.

The achievement is thus necessarily going to be short of the requirement.

What is needed is the summoning of a more comprehensive piece of legislation, wider in conception and more broadbased in details.

This I hope will be done soon after yoking the present measures to the Statute Book.

II

The West Bengal Mining Settlements (Health and Welfare) Bill, 1962 with such amendments as have been accepted by the Joint Committee, is a distinct improvement over the Draft Bill as introduced in the Assembly and also 'The Bengal Mining Settlements Act, 1912'. Still it has failed to keep pace with the march of time. As a result it will fail to cope with the rapid changes that are taking place in the mining settlements and contiguous industrial areas and even by the time it is enacted and placed in the Statute Book it will fall far short of the actual requirements.

In West Bengal the mining and industrial areas are close to one another and an outbreak of an epidemic disease in contiguous industrial areas will not spare mining areas from their ravages. The proposed Board, therefore, should have been made a homogeneous organisation bringing the surrounding industrial areas within its jurisdiction with such powers as are necessary for preventing and checking the spread of epidemic diseases.

The benefits, as proposed in clause 18 should be extended to surrounding areas for reasons stated above.

The Board will be entrusted with the work of looking after the health and welfare, specially of the large number of labourers, working in the mines. But they have unfortunately been deprived of their proper and adequate representation on the Board, having weightage for employer-class. While the owners will elect three or four representatives from among themselves and the two Managers' Associations will elect one member each the representation of labourers has been left at the mercy of the State Government which will nominate only one "person representing mine labourers". The wording is so ambiguous that it is not clear if the "person representing mine labourers" will always be chosen from among the labourers, working in the mines. Further in a body consisting of five or six representatives of owners and managers and a nominated Labour Welfare Officer, only one representative of labour is too inadequate. There is always the chance of his being over-ruled by owners and managers. It also passes one's understanding as to why the labourers, who certainly enjoy the right of adult franchise under the Constitution of India, should be deprived of the opportunity of electing their own representatives after their own choice.

Under clause 23 of Chapter IV of the Bill rate of fee payable by the owners of collieries has been fixed very low and despite our repeated demands, the rate has not been increased to meet the demands of the situation. This soft attitude towards the Colliery Magnets, who earn hundreds of thousands of rupees without taking any obligation for improvement of the surrounding localities, will hinder the very spirit and purpose of this Bill.

Under clause 27 of Chapter VI, the measure of penalties as has been stipulated is inadequate since the owners can easily ignore the provisions in respect of their responsibilities and in such case of their offences, they will only be charged to pay a fine of rupees one thousand only. The money they will [illegible] violating the provision will not embarrass them much in [illegible] should have been provisions of

The Health Officers, appointed either by the Board or the State Government, should have special training about peculiar diseases, generally developed for working in mines.

All the present employees, working in different bodies under the Bengal Mining Setllements Act, 1912 or similar organisation should be absorbed in new organisations, to be set up under the proposed Act and assured of their permanence and continuity of service.

(Case No. VIII-160 of 1964.)

BEFORE THE THIRD INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

AWARD

By order No. 2086-I.R.|IR|13L-11(A)|64, dated the 6th June 1964, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Ananda Bazar Patrika Private Limited, Ananda Bazar House, 6 Sooterkin Street, Calcutta-1, and their working journalists represented by the Indian Journalists Association, 249-B Bipin Behari Ganguly Street, Calcutta-12, regarding the matters specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by notification No. 808-I.R.|IR|3A-2|57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issues

1. Whether Shri Atul Chandra Dey, Sub-Editor, can be treated as a Working Journalist under the Working Journalists (Conditions of Service) and Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1955?
2. If the answer to the first issue is in the affirmative, is Shri Atul Chandra Dey entitled to the scale of pay of sub-Editors as laid down in the Wage Order published by the notification of the Government of India in the Ministry of Labour and Employment No. S.O. 1257, dated the 29th May 1959?

The reference relates to an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Ananda Bazar Patrika Private Limited, Ananda Bazar House, 6 Sooterkin Street, Calcutta-1 (hereinafter referred to as the company) and their working journalists represented by the Indian Journalists Association, 249-B Bipin Behari Ganguly Street, Calcutta-12 (hereinafter referred to as the union).

Immediately after receipt of the reference notices were sent out for service upon the parties who entered their appearances and without any loss of time settled the dispute amicably on terms incorporated in a joint petition filed before this tribunal on 27th June 1964.

The dispute referred to for adjudication is in respect of service conditions of a Sub-Editor Shri Atul Chandra Dey, whose services had to be terminated by the company by letter, dated 16th December 1963 on account of his long absence due to protracted illness. However, the parties appeared before this tribunal to report the terms of settlement as per joint petition of compromise, dated 27th June 1964. I have considered the terms of settlement which are fair and reasonable, so I accept them and make an award on compromise. The joint petition of compromise, dated 27th June 1964 do form a part of the compromise award as annexure together with a letter, dated 16th December 1963 addressed by the Director of the Company to the concerned journalist as appended to the joint petition.

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL, CALCUTTA

Present:

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, Judge,
Fourth Industrial Tribunal

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act between Messrs. Kumar Engineering Works (P) Ltd., P-52 Benaras Road, North Bantra, Howrah, and their workmen represented by the Howrah Small Factories Workers' Union, C|o. Shri Anadi Das, M.L.A., Dasnagar, Howrah, arising out of the Labour Department Order No. 930-I.R.|IR|10L-45|64, dated 2nd March 1964 of the Government of West Bengal. The issue relates to bonus payable before the Puja of 1963.

In this case the Howrah Small Factories Workers' Union filed written statements on behalf of the workmen. The company also filed written statements and at the same time the workmen of the company filed a joint petition of compromise on 1st June 1964. Thereafter five workmen filed an application on behalf of the workmen to be added as party. Today the matter has come up for hearing of the said application. The Secretary of the Union appears before this Tribunal and submits that the dispute referred by the Government has been amicably settled as per terms of settlement contained in the compromise petition, dated 23rd May 1964 filed before this Tribunal on 1st June 1964. Messrs. Kumar Engineering Works (P) Ltd. and the Secretary of the Union on behalf of the workmen have filed a joint petition asking this Tribunal to pass an award in terms of the said settlement. On hearing all the parties before me I do not find it necessary to add any other workman as party in this proceeding and I am satisfied that the dispute has been amicably settled by and between the parties. The petition of compromise filed on 1st June 1964 is voluntary, reasonable and legal. As prayed for by all the parties before me, I pass an award in terms of the compromise petition of the workmen, dated 23rd May 1964 filed on 1st June 1964.

The dispute is thus disposed of and the joint petition filed today and the compromise petition dated 23rd May 1964 filed on 1st June 1964 marked respectively as Annexures 'A' and 'A(1)' shall form part of this award.

And whereas the said Fifth Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Radhashayam Ghanshyamdas (Dal Mill), P27 Orphanganj Road, Kidderpore, Calcutta-23, and their workmen represented by West Bengal Confectionery and Food Products Majdur Union, 90 Lower Chitpur Road, Calcutta-7. (Case No. 267 of 1963.)

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

Present:

Shri K. P. MUKHERJI, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

This dispute between Messrs. Radhashyam Ghanshaymdas (Dal Mill), and their workmen was referred to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Dapartment, Order No. 4565-I.R.|IR|11L-406|63, dated the 8th November, 1963, for adjudication upon the issues which are as follows:—

1. Whether the lock-out is justified? To what relief, if any, are the workmen entitled for the period of lock-out?
2. Grades and scales of pay.
3. Dearness allowance.
4. Bonus for the years 1961-62 and 1962-63.
5. Leave.

After receipt of the reference on 14th November 1963, usual notices on the parties were issued and they entered appearance on 11th December 1963. Written statement by the Union was filed on 3rd February 1964. The Company took adjournments for filing written statement, and filed its written statement on 20th April 1964. The parties were directed to file their respective documents by 14th May 1964, but no document was filed by either party. The case was fixed for hearing today. Shri K. K. Moitra is present on behalf of the Company. No one, however, is present on behalf of the Union, and no steps are also taken by the Union. It appears from the record that since the filing of the written statement by the Union on 3rd February 1964, no one on behalf of the Union was present on the subsequent dates. It thus appears that the Union is not taking any interest in the dispute though it was raised by it according to the nature of issues referred for adjudication, and the Union and the concerned workmen are not pursuing the dispute, and have given up the dispute which has thereby become non-existent. It is clear from the conduct of the Union and the workmen concerned that they do not want an adjudication of the dispute. In the circumstances, I find that the Union is not interested in the dispute and the dispute is, therefore, to be deemed to be non-existent and an award it to be made accordingly on the basis that at present there is no subsisting dispute for adjudication. In the result, I make a 'no dispute' award in the case.

AWARD

The above dispute over the issue given in the order of reference and reproduced below was referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by Government of West Bengal, Labour Department Order No. 1145-I.R.|IR|11L-4|64, dated the 14th March 1964.

Issue

(1) Whether the refusal of employment to Shri Gour Hari Kapas is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

Notices of the reference were duly served upon the parties through regd. post and acknowledgments were received back. Both parties put in their appearances. The Union was asked to file its written statement first. After first appearance, it took an adjournment for filing its written statement, but on the adjourned date no appearance was made on behalf of the Union and no written statement was filed. The Tribunal suo moto adjourned the case again and on the next adjourned date the Union appeared and again prayed for an adjournment for filing its written statement. The adjournment was granted, but since then the Union did not appear at all, though the Tribunal granted some adjournments suo moto. In these circumstances, the Tribunal fixed 2nd July 1964 for final disposal of the case according to law, if no written statement was filed by the Union in the meantime. On 2nd July 1964 both parties were absent and no step was taken on behalf of any of them. From the aforesaid conduct of the parties, it is clear that the parties are not pursuing the dispute for adjudication and the dispute has ceased to exist. So, there is to be a 'no dispute' award in the case.

In the result, I make a 'no dispute' award in the case.
